Bran Cookie Recipe From Chef of Note

Hubert Van der Broeck

Hubert Van der Broeck, supervising pastry chef of the Hotel Statler, at Buffalo, has discovered a way to make bran cookies, and he is rather proud of his achievement. Anyone trying the recipe, as it appears here, will find that Chef Van der Broeck's pride is justified.

The ingredients are one-half cup brown sugar, one-half cup butter, one heaping teaspoon ground cinnamon, one-half cup Sultana raisins, one-half cup chopped walnut meats, two cups flour, one level teaspoon baking soda, one heaping teaspoon baking powder, two and one-half cups of bran, one egg and one-half cup water.

Beat sugar and butter to a cream; add egg and beat well; add water, mixed with baking soda and flour, sifted with baking powder; then add the other ingredients and mix thoroughly. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven. Sufficient for thirty cookies.

tional crop. A trip out into the country, within the past three days, shows some of the finest-looking berry fields that the valley ever produced; if they yield according to their present appearance, they will produce a bumper crop without fail.

Mr. Van Trump finds it impossible to was enthusiastic over the loganberry situation.

"The later the season goes, the less encouraging it looks," he says.

"Some of the fields, especially of the older plantings, will do well to produce one-half or even one-third of a crop, according to the present outlook. Anthracnose, or blight, seems to be one of the prevailing afflictions."

The county inspector finds that the Bartlett pears have suffered considerably from die-back which has taken more the form of blossom blight and the failure of the fruit spurs, than the death of the larger portions of the main tree. He finds that the trouble occurs largely in the poorer soils, or where the trees suffered last year from drought. Both these soil and weather conditions attack the fibrous root system of the tree, and so affect the general health of the tree, so that the succeeding crop suffers.

DID HIM MORE GOOD

Many men and women suffer from backache, rheumatic pains, stiff joints, sore muscles and other results of kidney trouble because they neglected the first warning symptoms. Foley Kidney Pills aid the kidneys to throw out poisonous waste matter that causes pain and misery. Stephen Lewis, Eldridge, Ky., writes: Foley Kidney Pills did me more good than all other medicine I ever took. I had kidney trouble ten years. I don't have any pain like I had before I took them." ### New Water Applications Received by Engineer

Seven new applications to appropriate water from Oregon streams have been filed with the state engineer. They are as follows:

By J. W. Chaney of Marshfield, covering the appropriation of water from an unnamed tributary of Isthmus slough for domestic use and for irrigation of one acre in Coos county.

By Erwin Thomas Langford, of La Grande, covering the appropriation of water from Pine creek for irrigation of 75 acres in Union county.

By Harvey E. Reinhart of Wheeler, covering the appropriation of water from Classic Lake creek, a tributary of Nehalem bay, for development of five horsepower for electric lighting purposes in Tillamook county. The cost of the proposed development is approximately $2,000.

By Alfred C. Holland, of Ontario, covering the appropriation of water from Snake River for domestic water supply in Multnomah county.

By the Oregon State Highway commission, covering the appropriation of water from an unnamed branch of Hunt creek, tributary to Columbia river for drinking and sanitary purposes in a public park in Clatsop county. The estimated cost of construction amounts to $15,000.

By T. Imai, of Dee, covering the appropriation of water from an unnamed spring for domestic purposes and for irrigation of 9.45 acres in Hood River county, at an estimated cost of $500.

Humors Come to the Surface in the spring as in no other season. They don't run themselves all off that way, however, but mostly remain in the system. Hood's Sarsaparilla removes them, wards off danger, makes good health sure.—Adv.
