One of the charming spring social affairs was the tea given on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Max O. Buren. Mrs. Frank Myers and Mrs. Grover C. Bellinger were joint hostesses. More than 250 called during the afternoon.

The living rooms were lovely with great baskets of lilacs, rose-colored tulips and Judas tree or red bud. The dining room was decorated in pastel shades. Candies on the table were in pastel shades, as was the large basket centering the dining room table, which contained snap dragons and sweet peas and an abundance of greenery. The great baskets of yellow flowers made a charming setting for the punch bowl.

Mrs. C. B. Webb and Mrs. Homer Goulet presided during the first part of the afternoon; Mrs. Frank Durban and Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner later, and Mrs. David W. Eyre and Mrs. C. H. Robertson during the latter part of the afternoon.

Those assisting in the dining room early in the afternoon were Mrs. Walter Kirk, Mrs. Erceel Kay, Mrs. Millar McGilchrist and Miss Ines Goltra. Later in the afternoon those assisting were Miss Josephine Baumgartner, Miss Mary Jane Albert, Mrs. Karl Becke, Mrs. Breyman Boise, Miss Nell Hhieslen and Miss Marie Churchill were at the punch bowl.

Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. J. N. Smith, Mrs. George Pearce, Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner, Mrs. Russell Catlin, Mrs. H. W. Thielson, Mrs. E. A. Colony, Mrs. U. G. Shipley, Mrs. R. P. Boise and Miss Margaret Kospser. Maxine Myers and Mildred Roberts took cards at the door during the afternoon.

Mrs. Harwood Hall was a charming hostess Thursday afternoon when the members of Chapter G of the P. E. O. were her guests for the regular Mothers' day program and guest day. Luncheon was served at noon in the domestic science dining room of the Indian school at Chemawa. The dining room was entirely in yellow and white. Great baskets of Scotch Broom on white pedestals were charmingly used about the dining room. Yellow tulips in silver baskets were effectively used on the table. The luncheon was served by the girls of the seventh grade under the direction of Mrs. Louise F. Brickell.

Following the luncheon the guests were taken through the school with Mrs. E. E. Jaquins Mrs. Hall's daughter, and Mrs. M. K. Sherman, head matron, while members of the P. E. O. held their regular session, at Mrs. Hall's home.

The lovely living room of the Halls with the floors covered with Indian rugs, great Indian baskets filled with pink tulips and other spring blossoms amidst the wonderful Indian pottery collected on many Indian reservations by Mr. and Mrs. Hall, made a lovely setting for the Mother's day program which given by the pupils of the Indian school. Mrs. Jaquins assisted Mrs. Hall in receiving the guests and entertained them. She gave a reading before the program given by the pupils of the Indian school.

"Minnehaha," a reading by Rebecca Carpenter of Washington, in Indian costume was especially commented upon by members. It was considered especially true to Indian type and given with wonderful grace and in good voice.

Readings by younger members of the school included readings by Charles Hall of Washington and little Frances Nicholson of Alaska who gave "Moo, Cow Moo," and "When Folks Come Home." Rose Gray of Alaska, gave an Indian dialect reading.

Numbers appreciated especially were songs by an octet under the direction of Mrs. R. Turney, musical instructor at the Indian school. Members of the octet were Emma Carson, Katie Cleveland, Laura Waun, Carrie Anderson, Josephine Corbett, Marie Olsen, Emma Whitmore and Evelyn Whitebear.

More than 45 women were present for the afternoon. The next meeting of the P. E. O. will be with Mrs. C. B. McCullough.

WHITTIER, Cal., May 20.—Inviting a coterie of her girl friends to the home of her aunt, Mrs. Frank Owens, 545 East Philadelphia street, with whom she makes her home, Miss Gladys Pemberton of Salem, Or., entertained last evening at a clever little announcement party which foretold the date of her wedding to Arnold L. Shreve, of Whittier, May 27 being the date set.

The announcement was cleverly made under the guise of a prize for group winners in an interesting contest. Neat packages tied with different colored threads were distributed to the guests from a basket adorned with a perky bow of pink tulle, which was carried by Emily Simons, small cousin of the bride-elect. Within the packages were tea towels and hand towels and papers on which one letter appeared. Papers were quickly pieced together to form the names of the betrothed couple and the wedding date.

Excitement and chatter followed as needles were plied to the hemming of the towels allotted to each guest. These, when completed, were initiated in the colorful tying threads, with the initials of the various workers, and presented to the hostess for her new home.

A clever guessing game involving a floral bridal party followed the sewing, and music throughout the evening was an entertaining feature.

Pink was the chosen color scheme, and decorations were carried out with exquisite groups of pink roses. At a late hour a delicious buffet luncheon was served with Mrs. Frank Owens and Mrs. Will Simons of Los Angeles, aunts of the bride-elect, pouring tea.

Miss Pemberton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Elmer Pemberton of Salem. She attended Whittier college one year and has been employed in this city and Los Angeles, later, during her four years' residence here, at present being employed with the Mutual Life Insurance company of Los Angeles. She is active in affairs of the Friends church and has many friends in this vicinity.

The groom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Shreve of 543 North Comstock avenue. He has lived in Whittier nine years and was graduated from the local high school in the class of 1920. Mr. Shreve is a successful young business man, being the proprietor of the auto paint shop on South Somstock. He is a young man of sterling worth and friends of the couple are glad that their home will be in Whittier.

The Bar-W club of Willamette university enjoyed their annual banquet in the Rose room of the Spa Friday evening. Prof. and Mrs. F. E. Erickson chaperoned the party and Professor Erickson was toastmaster for the affair.

The tables were prettily decorated with lilacs. Toasts were given by Sheldon Sackett, Roy Skeen, Lorlei Blatchford and Otto K. Paulus.

Those attending were members of the Bar-W forensic club of the university and a few guests. They were Prof. and Mrs. Erickson, Miss Minna Harding, Miss Lorlei Blatchford, Miss Sadie Pratt, Miss Helen Gatte, Miss Miriam Lovell, Miss Adelia White, Miss Helen Hoover, Miss Rosecrans, Miss Violet Coe, Miss Elaine Oberg, Miss Louise Rumohr, Miss Louise Joughlin, Miss Mildred Clark, Miss Kathleen Walsh, Howard George, Leon Jennison, Clarence Gillette, Sheldon Sackett, Tinkham Gilbert, Rodney Alden, Robert Notson, Robert Little, George Oliver, Albert Geyer, Roy Skeen and Otto Paulus.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Powell were hosts Friday evening for a charming dinner party at their home in Woodburn. Six Salem guests were entertained including Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spears and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Cross.

Mrs. A. N. Moores has returned to Salem following three weeks visit with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Kinney, in Astoria.

Miss Hilda Berkeley and Mrs. Etta Burns were hostesses at a party given at the home of Mrs. Burns Thursday evening. A program was given by several of those present. A mock wedding was enacted by Charles Anderson, taking the part of a bride, Miss Uno Beans, and Miss Hilda Berkeley carried the long flowing veil of the bride. Mayne Fehler was ring-bearer and Otto Fowler was the preacher. Games were enjoyed, and at a late hour, delicious refreshments were served.

Those attending were: Miss Helen Hitchcock, Wanda Wickizer, Elva Cross, Leona Post, Clara Crow, Laura Crow, Merle McDonald, Beulah Bailey, Melvina Craig, Cora Fehler, Evelyn Craig, Vada and Naomi Burns, Mildred and Doris Pearson, Mrs. Fehler, Mrs. Wiegizer, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Johnson, and the Messrs. Otto Bowman, Wayne Bowman, Charles Anderson, Clifford Goode, Robert Johnson, Arthur McClaine, Wayne Fehler, eBert Berkeley, Cecil Woolly and Harold and Max Burns.

Miss Helen Petersen, a bride of the near future, was honored on Thursday evening by a group of friends at a miscellaneous shower. Refreshments were served following a delightful evening of social games and other amusements.

Those present were Miss Helen Petersen, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Peterson, Mrs. Jennie Smith, Mrs. Della Smith, Mrs. Emma Gilliam, Miss Zoe Botta, Miss Helen Hendrickson, Miss Viola Lottis, Miss Bertha Harvey, Miss Mildred Hubbard, Miss Letha Shepard, Miss Amy Fiedler, Miss Marjorie Harbert, Miss Alma Engelhart, Miss Minetta Bigler, Mrs. Warren, H. Smith, Harvey Peterson, Fred Peterson, Irving Peterson.

Mrs. Shurl R. Pearson entertained with a surprise birthday dinner party Tuesday evening at her home. The guests were Mrs. Shurl Pearson, Mrs. Harry Pearson and Mrs. Charles Hill. The house was beautifully decorated—reception hall an dining room were decked in yellow. The color scheme of the dining room and dinner was carried out in pink. The center piece was a lovely birthday cake set in an arch of pink and green.

Covers were laid for 12, including Mr. and Mrs. Hurl Pearson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pearson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Melchior, Mr. and Mrs. Kloney Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Shurl Pearson.

Music and conversation occupied the evening.

Mrs. L. S. Sheldon was hostess at a charming bridge party Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. James Nicholson took high score and the guest prize was won by Mrs. Roma Hunter.

The rooms were effectively decorated with Scotch broom and the yellow color note was carried in the refreshments.

Guests present for the occasion were Mrs. George White, Mrs. W. H. Turner, Mrs. James Lewis, Mrs. James S. Dusenbury, Mrs. Roma Hunter, Mrs. John W. Harrison, Mrs. A. F. Marcus, Mrs. Carl B. Webb and Mrs. Kenneth Brown.
