NOTICED
Four new windows have been put in on the east side by the Women's club of which Mrs. J. J. Roberts is president. Now the painters are doing their share toward changing the outward appearance of the building, and the secret of the whole thing is the 70th anniversary of the founding of the church which will be the second week of July. The members and friends of the church are looking forward to the event with pleasure and great interest and asking all Salem to rejoice with them over some of the successes of the past and present years.

Portland Office Visited—John Farrar, Salem postmaster-elect and Arthur Gibbard, superintendent of mails, visited in Portland Friday, going through the Portland postoffice in every way save a letter to be stamped by the powerful automatic cancelling machines. Mr. Farrar was advised by the postal department to visit the Portland office for a bit of federal inspection of instruction, and he has officially performed his task.

SYSTEM AND SAVING

MODERN efficiency demands that every item be accounted for, and people have a clear idea of income and outgo. That is quite as necessary in the running of a home as of an office.

And the home where there is a carefully planned budget, where bills are paid by check, and where there is always provision for saving, is the harmonious home that stands a good chance of permanent happiness.

NOW FAMOUS PAINTING
Valued at $75,000.00
On the Second Floor
"Never Alone"
By Herbert de Mareau Jr.
No Charge

You have all heard of the World Famous Masterpiece of the immortal Herbert de Mareau, Jr.'s "NEVER ALONE" HAVEN'T YOU?
You would not expect to find the original $75,000.00 Canvas in Salem, WOULD YOU?
Well, it is here, and installed in special settings where it will be a display for a limited time.
We extend to the entire public this special invitation to pay it a visit. Admission Without Charge. Of Course.

"NEVER ALONE"
By Herbert de Mareau, Jr.
Valued at $75,000.00

This wonderful painting which transports one's very being to a higher realm and grips one's soul with irresistible power depicts a soldier's death on the lone marshes of Flanders. Herbert de Mareau, the artist, has painted a war scene without any trace of conflict; solitude without desolation; sorrow without horror. A young French soldier has been shot down in the midst of the marshes and lies, with life ebbing fast away, his lips apart, his eyes already fixed in the seal of death; his helmet has fallen off, his rifle lies at his side.
Alone he lies—not another human being in sight—no eye to note how and when he fell—no comrade to carry the news to kindred as to how he died for his country. Yet not alone—for by his side, with arms extended, stands a figure—a Being with infinite compassion—the figure of Him who said: "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee."
Herbert de Mareau, Jr., painted "Never Alone" in the year of 1914. In October, 1918, he was killed in battle at Chateau Thierry, himself an actor in a similar tragedy which he had so vividly pictured four years before.
This wonderful painting, measuring 10 feet 6 in. by 2 feet 6 in., is valued at $75,000.00, and was visited by over 2,000,000 people in the City of New York.
"Never Alone"
Now on display on our second floor, admission without charge.
