A HOT WEATHER MEAT SUBSTITUTE

Fried green olive tomatoes prepared as follows make an excellent substitute for the meat dish or may be served in addition at dinner.

Take one tomato for each person to be served. Pare and cut in three slices. Dip in flour. Fry in butter. Remove to platter and cover with stoned and chopped Spanish green olives, using one-half cup of oil to four tomatoes. Thicken the butter in the frying pan with flour; add milk, and make a gravy to pour over the tomatoes and olives.

APOLLO CLUB GIVES CONCERT

Large Crowd Attends Song-fest in Monmouth Normal Auditorium

More than 800 people attended the Apollo Club concert at Monmouth, Thursday night, practically filling the great auditorium and making it the largest crowd the club has had at any one time this year. The summer normal school, now in session, with 700 teachers in attendance, wanted something better in the way of entertainment than movies or home made lectures, and they offered to get up a real crowd to hear the great artists from Salem.

The program was received with genuine enthusiasm such as only real music deserves. "We'll give you a better crowd if you'll come again, next winter," was the promise of the delighted audience. A program of straight ensemble singing was given, with no solos, no fancy frills of any kind—a full evening of chorus work. Most of the lighter selections that were presented by the club in its three Salem concerts this year, were given a place in this summer program.

Several Salem people accompanied the club, making it a pleasant outing.

Silverton Fire Loss Estimated at $5000

SILVERTON, Ore., July 14.—(Special to The Statesman.)—Fire threatened to destroy the greater part of Silverton yesterday morning at 4:30 when flames broke out in the barn leased by Fred Lowry to house his dry horses, harness and tools in. The barn was the property of George Barr. The barn, six horses, several auto tops and tools were completely destroyed amounting to a loss of about $3,000 for Mr. Lowry and over $1,000 for Mr. Barr.

The fire spread from the barn to the retail lumber yard of the Silver Falls Lumber Co., to the furniture store of Stiff & Son, and to the blacksmith shop belonging to George Barr.

A call was put in for the Mt. Angel fire department. It responded and made the run to Silverton in 25 minutes. It was said that never before had Silverton received such prompt and efficient service in time of fire as the Mt. Angel department gave yesterday morning. Cladders flew all over Silverton and for some time it looked as if the town might go. However, by six o'clock the danger was over. The total loss is estimated at between $5000 and $10,000.

Dallas High School Principal Resigns

DALLAS, Ore., July 14.—(Special to The Statesman.)—Tracy Staats, clerk of School District No. 2, in which the Dallas schools are located reports that C. J. Everett, who was principal of the Dallas high school last year has resigned from his position. Mr. Everett accompanied by his wife left shortly after the close of school for Ann Arbor, Mich., to attend school. With his resignation three vacancies occur in the high school staff, the other being a commercial teacher and a manual training instructor.

PILOT PLANS LOW FLIGHT

Entrant for Gordon Bennett Cup to Try New Tactics in Flight Test

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 14.—E. Honeywell, pilot of the "Uncle Sam," one of the three American entrants in the international balloon race for the Gordon Bennett cup, starting from Geneva, Switzerland, August 6, hopes to win first honors by flying as low as possible and staying in the air longer than other entrants, thereby making more distance.

Expecting to land in Russia, Capt. Honeywell said his plan of flight probably would be different from that of most of his opponents in the race, which is the fourth international event he has entered.

"Other entrants probably will fly over the Alps," he continued, "and the altitude necessary to accomplish this will greatly shorten their time in the air, and their distance. A balloon which flies over the Alps cannot stay in the air more than 24 hours."

"I expect to get out of Switzerland either through the Rhone valley to the south or through the Rhine valley on the north. I want to fly as low as possible—keeping always below 8000 feet if I can manage it—and will be able therefore to remain in the air perhaps as long as 48 hours."

"If I find it necessary to cross any mountains, I may have to rise to 18,000 feet or more, but this I hope to avoid. If my plans go as I expect, I will land in Russia."

During his career as a balloonist, Honeywell declared he has made nearly 600 flights, having participated in more than a score of races in which he always has ranked high in honors. He holds many distance and endurance trophies, and probably has the experience of flying in more parts of the world than any other balloonist.

Probably his most adventurous flight was in the international race from Stuttgart, Germany, in 1912. He flew 1350 miles and landed in Russia, 100 miles west of Moscow. His balloon was torn to pieces and used for clothing by the peasants and he was held by the Russian authorities for almost a week suspected of being a spy. The American consul effected his release. Then, again in 1920 he covered more than 1000 miles, winning the American race from Birmingham. He landed in Canada.

If Honeywell should be successful in winning the race from Geneva he will obtain possession of the Gordon Bennett cup, a silver trophy, which he retains until the next international race. The country whose entrant wins has the privilege of fixing the place and date of the race for the following year.

Honeywell is 49 years old and served in both the Spanish-American and the World war. He was an official of a balloon manufacturing concern until the United States government took over the manufacture of balloons and the company went out of business. His wife and daughter accompanied him to Geneva to see the start of the race.

The girls in the Boise, Idaho, high school formed an organization of their own and sent home any flappers who painted their cheeks or wore immodest clothes. Cheers for the girls of Boise! Are the boys of Boise appreciative?

CHALLENGES WORLD.

Good Meats Cheaper

At The People's Meat Market

155 North Liberty Street

Phone 994

We are offering the people of Salem and country choice meats at prices that every one can afford to buy and will enjoy when served on your table. We have just installed a first-class refrigerator plant, and a large new ice box and show-case. We are now prepared to take first-class care of our meats in every way; much better than this market has since it was started. We have a strictly first-class, neat, clean market, and invite you to come in.

We do not handle OLD SHELLY COWS, or STAGGY BEEF; we handle good Steers and Young Heifer or Baby Beef, Choice Young Veal and Pork; our Meats are now quality Meats. We could also sell cheaper by giving the people cheaper meats, but we believe that quality is what most people want instead of inferior meat. We list here a few specials for Saturday:
