LION GLENN H. GREGG

WALD H. PARKER

Everybody knows Parker, the photographer. He has been in his present location for the past 15 years and over 30 years in the same line of work. So long a time in one field of activity should give one a tolerably thorough knowledge of the business and Lion Parker proves by the finished product of his studio that he is a photographic artist of more than ordinary ability. Besides being a first class photographer, Mr. Parker is a first-class fellow, and as a Lion he is developing a roar that bids fair to outdoar them all.

EUGENE M. ROWLAND

A great deal might be said of Lion Rowland and a great deal might perhaps be left unsaid. However, he's a roaring Lion and doesn't care who knows it. Ed is a printer and can be found most of the time at the Rowland printing company shop. In addition to being thoroughly versed in the art of printing he devotes some of his time to music, his favorite instrument being the organ. Ed is a product of the Salem high school and a seasoned veteran of the World War, serving with Company M, 162nd Infantry at home and overseas.

GRANT R. BONNELL

Several years ago, from 1910 to 1918, Lion Bonnell was a professor in the Salem schools, being teacher of industrial education and director of manual art. For the past year he has been learning the art of salesmanship and at the H. L. Stiff company, furniture store. Considering his past "Bonnies" is making rapid advancement in his present field of endeavor, in fact, he claims to know more about the furniture business than he ever did about school teaching.

President Harding will take no part in the Ohio election, but will make three trips back to his native state, attending functions in Marion, Columbus and Cleveland. But the chances are that he will watch returns from Buckeyeedom early in November.

TINKHAM GILBERT

One of the more ferocious Lions is Lion Gilbert. Although he is more playful than harmful he keeps the Tail Twister constantly on the alert. "Tink" is a banker, being an assistant bank examiner for the state of Oregon. He is a 1921 graduate from Willamette university, served during the war in the army and is well and favorably known throughout the state.

CLARENCE D. ADAMS

This Lion is a designer and builder, carrying on a general contracting business including designing, building, supervising and painting and decorating. He has been engaged in his present business for the past 12 years. Prior to this he was in newspaper staff work.

A. M. FOLLRICH

Al's "service record" shows him to be a real estate broker with the Heyser-Follrich system, offices Terminal building. Prior to entering the real estate game Lion Follrich was employed at the Spaulding Logging company. With his whole hearted smile and cherry disposition he makes friends by the score.

Husband, seeking divorce, alleges wife called him a "poor simp" because he wanted to shine her shoes. Well, how about it?

FARES CHANGED ON TWO ROADS

Commuters Receive Accommodations to Points Outlying from Portland

Without taking the case to formal hearing, but through informal negotiations, the public service commission announces that it has effected a voluntary adjustment of formal complaints made by commuters who travel between Portland and various points on the Southern Pacific and Oregon Electric lines, including both the electric and the steam lines of the former.

Points Are Listed
New rates from Portland, announced by the Southern Pacific, for 50-ride commutation tickets, are as follows:

Catching, $16.90; Chehalem, $14.46; Cornelius, $16.11; Eddy, $17.23; Forest Grove, $18.02; Hillsboro, $13.60; Jobe, $15.95; Knappton, $15.65; Matson, $11.62; Middleton, $13.27; Newberg, $18.02; Newton, $12.28; Rex, $15.32; Springbrook, $16.77; Votaw, $14.19.

It also is stated that in keeping with this idea, the Southern Pacific has established the following fares for 60-ride family commutation tickets between Portland and the following places:

Canby, $28.75; Clackamas, $13.07; New Era, $24.23; Oregon City, $18.42.

Oregon Electric Changes

The Oregon Electric company, it is announced, also has put into effect corresponding 50-ride commutation tickets, extending from Oreoco to Forest Grove on its Forest Grove branch, and from Garden Home to Tonquin on its main line, in this way squaring the rates at competitive points or extending corresponding reductions to stations that are similarly or competitively situated.

"The regular one-way fares applying between Portland and the points affected by the special commutation tickets range all the way from 40 cents to $1, or approximately at the rate of 3.6 cents a mile," says the commission.

"The important reductions are regarded as of inestimable value to the commuters and other regular patrons of the railways linking these communities."

MARION FARMER HAS FIRE LOSS

Barn Automobile, Chickens and Other Contents Destroyed Wednesday.

MARION, Ore., July 27.—Mr. Houston's barn and Overland car with about half his hay, some chickens that were in a pen by the side of the barn, and all the other contents were burned Wednesday morning.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Houston had been sorting sacks in the opposite side from where the fire started and did not know of the fire until informed by the neighbors. He had purchased some wheat and put some of it in the barn the night before and was getting ready to go after the rest of it. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Threshing has started around Marion with several machines in the fields.

C. F. Higbee is walking without crutches again, after being on them since early summer on account of a broken ankle.

Mrs. H. De Langh and little son Lester Edwin have been with her mother, Mrs. G. H. Colgan for a couple of days, helping to pick loganberries.

On account of the low price of the loganberries and the high cost of gathering them, G. H. Colgan has stopped picking his berries.

Fennell and Overhauser finished baling hay Monday. They had been out since July 5.

Lady Silken Gloy one of the famous Pickard cows in on the sick list.

Dick Palmer and family of California are visiting at the John Palmer, Jr., home.

Rev. O. M. Ogden and Mrs. Ogden came home from Cascadia several days before they had intended on account of the death of Mrs. Parks of Aumsville. They however, are spending the rest of their vacation with their daughter, Mrs. Johnnie Brunner, at Silverton.

Miss Anne Martin of Nevada announces that she will not make the race for the United States senate again. She admits there does not seem to be any demand for her candidacy. That sort of a belief would play the deuce with the ambition of many men.

One of these days some American will sprint up Mt. Everest and put up a chewing-gum sign; then everything will have been done. No more poles to discover or heights to climb; nothing to do but talk about murder mysteries.
