ample legal authority to amend his complaint, and denied that injunction of the 300 new precincts into the proceedings constituted additional grounds for contest.

With relation to the charges that the Catholic church had dominated the election, Attorney Bowler said that such allegations could not be substantiated by facts.

Merger Proposed—In order to expedite the proceedings and save expense Judge Kelly suggested to the attorneys tonight that the Hall-Olcott election contest might be merged with a senatorial election contest in recounting the votes in some of the precincts in Multnomah county. The attorneys said they would consider the suggestion.

into effect by the labor board on July 1, pending a re-hearing by the board.

5—Railroads to stop outside contracting, to establish regional adjustment boards, and to drop all possible damage suits growing out of the strike.

It was pointed out that such a settlement took care of the strikers, the loyal employes and the new men and provide for submission of the original grievances to the labor board.

Restraining Order Issued—HELENA, July 27.—Judge George Burquin, presiding in the Montana department of the United States court today issued a temporary restraining order against striking railway shopmen in Great Falls, Havre, White Fish and Wolf Point, forbidding interference by them with traffic on the Great Northern lines. The order is on plea of the railway submitted some time ago, with evidence alleged to show threats and intimidation by the strikers against employes of the company engaged in shop work. In addition to the defendants in the cities named, an order against certain others in Butte, Lewiston, and Judith Gap, but the court holds evidence of the charge against these defendants insufficient.

In Butte, August 7, the defendants will be given a chance before the court to show why the injunction should not be made permanent.

premise of this institution today I know that he has that human element that is necessary to success in a work of this kind. His highmindedness is manifest in the surroundings he has provided for the unfortunate who are inmates here. Efficiency alone will not bring success to one who is engaged in such a work. There must also be a love of humanity, and this quality, I know, your superintendent has, though I never have seen him before today."

street, Portland, between Eighty-third and Eighty-fourth streets, adjoining 10 acres recently purchased by the city of Portland for park purposes, has been purchased by the state board of control as the location of the state industrial institute for adult blind at a cost of $12,500. The deal was closed at a special meeting of the board yesterday. The school is now in temporary quarters.

The board has available from legislative appropriation $170,000 for necessary buildings. No plans and specifications have yet been prepared, but immediate action will be taken on these under the direction of a special supervisory committee composed of Otto R. Hartwig, Jr., J. F. Galbraith, Walter Asher and Mrs. J. D. Kerr.

mittie of three, L. J. Chapin of Salem as chairman, and Peter Smith of Mt. Angel and Fred Thompson of Salem Heights were named to lay out a plan for the federation participation in the county-wide movement.

Grounds Are Brilliant—Community singing, led by A. N. Fulkerson of Salem Heights, was a feature of the evening. A number of short addresses were made on Federation business and on the Scout and other new issues. It was voted to hold the next meeting at Monitor.

The grounds were lighted by a portable Delco farm electric light plant, brought over by Otto Oswald of Mt. Angel, who gave a brief talk showing how such plants helped to make farming more attractive and profitable. The grounds were never lighted as well as last night.

public print or speech, privately and secretly urged and swayed a large majority of voters in certain precincts to vote for Mr. Olcott and refrain from casting their ballots for Mr. Hall. These priests, it was alleged, used the argument that by voting for Mr. Olcott they would be performing a religious duty.

Marion Precincts Named—Precincts in which these priests were alleged to have been active against Mr. Hall included East Mt. Angel, West, Mt. Angel, St. Paul, Sublimity, McKee, West Gervais and Scollard, all in Marion county. The motion to amend said. It was set out in the motion that in these precincts Mr. Olcott received 847 votes while Mr. Hall received only 23 votes.

Attorney U'Ren declared that if it was proved that these priests and other officers of the Roman Catholic church had violated the corrupt practices act by influencing their charges to vote for Governor Olcott and refrain from voting for Mr. Hall, the election in these precincts should be declared illegal.

Bowerman Attacks Motion—Attorney Jay Bowerman, of counsel for Governor Olcott, attacked the motion to amend the complaint on the grounds that the time for filing the election contest proceedings expired several weeks ago. He alleged that each of the 300 precincts included in the motion to amend the complaint opened up new grounds for a contest, and that if the motion was allowed there was no reason why other amendments could not be injected into the proceedings.

Attorney Bowerman contended that the allegations contained in the original petition referred to more than 1000 precincts in Oregon, and that the trial of the issues in this petition probably would demand calling more than 3000 witnesses.

"We have a big job on our hands," said Attorney Bowerman, "and if we don't get started within the next few days we will not complete the task by the time of the November election."

Court Opinions Cited—In support of his contention that the statute of limitations had run against the motion to amend the complaint attorney Bowerman cited authorities from a number of supreme courts of eastern and southern states. Attorney U'Ren contended that the contestant had

A tribute, such as is rarely accorded by one man to another, was that of Prof. James Rice of Cornell university, New York, to Dr. Steiner.

He was inspired to make the remarks by the view of the hospital grounds just before the luncheon.

"One of the best indications of the spiritual quality of a people," he said, "is the way in which it cares for its unfortunate. I have never met Dr. Steiner before, but after viewing the magnificent
