Defective Equipment Causes Fatalities, Declare Railway Employees

CINCINNATI, Aug. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—A conference to prevent further fatalities to our membership on account of defective equipment and armed guards in "shop and yards" is asked in a telegram sent to President Harding tonight by E. H.

Fitzgerald, president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, freight handlers, station and express employees. Mr. Fitzgerald public through the Associated Press, stated he had instructed J. J. Forrester, national legislative counsel of the brotherhood in Washington to arrange a conference with the president Monday to lay before him all the details of the situation.

Text of Telegram
The text of the telegram sent to President Harding is as follows:

"We seek a conference to lay before you the necessity of taking some action, if that be possible, to prevent further fatalities to our membership on account of defective equipment and armed guards in shops and yards. We have several concrete instances where our members not on strike have lost their lives while in performance of their usual and regular duties."

Armed Guards Target
"Unless armed guards are withdrawn from railroad shops and yards," Mr. Fitzgerald said in a statement issued with the telegram, "we will be compelled to advise our members not on strike to remain away from their usual places of employment until their safety can be assured."

Mr. Fitzgerald stated that he "was receiving daily protests from our members against the use of armed guards in shops and yards who endanger the lives of our members." He said that "in many yards our men have to work with defective equipment which in one case has caused the death of one of our members."

Non-Strikers Killed
In his statement Mr. Fitzgerald asserted that "two more of our members, neither of whom was on strike, lost their lives where armed guards were employed, by the accidental discharge of weapons."

Telegrams also were sent by Mr. Fitzgerald to Warren S. Stone, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor, stating that the representatives of the five organizations would head a conference at the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks headquarters in Washington Tuesday at noon.

May Meet Tuesday
Mr. Fitzgerald stated that an effort would be made to hold the conference with the president also on Tuesday.

Salem Picture Book Is Oregon Magazine Edition

"The Salem Picture Book" is the sub-title to the July number of The Oregon Magazine, just out. It's a dainty, deckle-edge-covered bit of typography and illustrative suggestion. Some philosophers argue that pursuit is better than acquisition—but to have one of these fine Salem magazines in one's hands, and after enjoying it a bit to send it on its missioner work around the world, to brighten up other desolate corners where they don't have trees or water or climate, is better than theoretical pursuit for the most wonderful art on earth. Editor Wade has adopted the "Say it in pictures" motto in this issue.

FAMILIES OF STRIKING MINERS EVICTED FROM THEIR HOMES.

This picture shows members of a miner's family at Peepack, Pa., evicted from their homes owned by operators. The victims were forced to take up residence in tents and unimproved huts.

down to the very last line and comma. It's all pictures, and good ones, too. Beginning with August, however, there is to be an imposing list of Oregon historical writers, covering every field of state reminiscence and hope. It promises to be a fine series of historical studies that ought to have been in print long ago.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

It was a busy Saturday—But Salem's Saturdays will grow busier from now on till fair time.

The flax growers of the Salem district are going to have about 600 tons from their 1000 acres; very good for such a dry season; better than the spring grain, on the average.

The men engaged in the flax industry are not discouraged. They expect to have an increased acreage next year, and "everlastingly sticking at it will bring success," in the words of language of the greatest advertising agency's slogan. It will bring twine mills and linen mills in due course, and Salem will be the headquarters of the flax industry of the United States—and it will be one of the biggest industries of Oregon. Bound to be. The decrees of nature have made this certain.

According to the report of the treasurer, Marion county had a cash balance in her various funds on the first of July of $701,212.68. That is sitting pretty. Though the sums being paid out for road work are now eating into the balance.

A correspondent suggests that the slogan of the Oregon be a nickel; a jitney; five cents a pound as the minimum. It is a good idea; and as much higher as possible.

It is stated at Moscow that Russia spent $2,000,000 on the Genoa conference. While the people of the United States were spending millions in keeping millions of her people from starving to death. Sovietism is making the greatest spectacle of monumental idleness the world has ever witnessed; gibbering, arrant, slobbering, sickening, disgusting idleness.
