lem visitor Monday on business connected with the association program for the year. The association issues a quarterly bulletin, which this year has been delayed so that the March and June numbers have just now been put into circulation. The June number contains the interesting information that there are 5585 members of the state association out of a total of about 6250 teachers in the state elementary and grade schools. Oregon stands sixth in the percentage of her teachers affiliated with a state teachers' association.

Articles Lost—

Two lost articles were reported at the city police station, Monday. One was a woman's purse, lost on the Silverton-Silver Falls road, Sunday, by George Keuscher, of 1765 North Fifth street, Salem, and the other a fishing rod, by G. C. Bottoff, of route 6.

Last Penny Gone—

Having spent her last penny, and with no work in view with which to earn food and shelter for her aged parents and two tiny children, a deserted wife was called to the attention of Dr. Henry E. Morris, secretary of the Associated Charities, last night. The parents are too old to work and the children are too young. The oldest child is 5 years old and the second is a baby. The mother had work in the berry fields but this work closed and she is now without employment, although she says she will do anything. Dr. Morris asked last night that anyone who has work that could be given this woman, call him at his office, phone 239, 303 Oregon building.

He Learned About Cows—

Alderman G. J. Wenderoth would be a good man to serve on the milk ordinance committee; he is getting intimately acquainted with the cow business. A short time ago, a neighbor who had a garden, asked him to look after the little plantlets while he hied off to the coast. The alderman looked—and one night he heard and found a cow in the garden chewing. He captured the So-Boss and restrained and fed it; for its owner, also, was away from home. It was a lamentably dry cow at that. When the owner returned, he brought suit for $35 damages for this detention of the dry but well watered cow from her liberty. The case was heard in Judge Unruh's court, Monday, the court holding that Wenderoth acted properly and that it wasn't a case at all. "But I've learned a lot about cows that I didn't know before," says the alderman.

PERSONALS

PACKER IS ASKED TO VACATE POST

Commission Expected to Recall Campaign Political Friend

For the purpose, it is suspected of again rewarding someone who was politically friendly to Public Service Commissioners Kerrigan and McCoy prior to the recall election, the new service commission has dropped from its staff Clyde H. Packer, for two and one half years engineer in charge of the railway department of the commission.

Packer, with a long record of responsible engineering experience, has served with distinction on the commission staff in some of its most important cases, but his resignation was asked for Saturday and he was given two weeks notice.

Mr. Packer has had 12 years' experience in the operation and construction of railways, including the construction and operation of the Oregon Water Power & Railway company for four years and about two years as superintendent of construction of the Mount Hood Railway Power company. Also he was for approximately two years location engineer for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, two years as assistant engineer of the Washington state highway department and about six years in responsible subordinate positions with the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation company. He has been with the Oregon public service commission for the last two and one-half years.

OBITUARY

Evelyn M. McAllister was born in Salem, Oregon on August 17, 1891. On December 22, 1910, she was united in marriage to Justus M. Coburn of Marion county, Oregon. To them was born one daughter, Evelyn. After a few weeks illness she passed away July 29, 1922.

She is survived by her husband, her daughter, her mother, Mrs. J. M. McAllister of Salem; five sisters, Mrs. May Crum, Mrs. Myrtle Wolz, Mrs. Melba Guerne, and Mrs. Geneva Parrier, all of Salem, Oregon; and Mrs. Laura Welsh of Long Beach, California; two brothers, J. J. McAllister of Salem, and L. A. McAllister of Corvallis.

Mrs. Coburn, having lived all her life in Oregon and being so cheery, genuinely good and dependable leaves a large company of friends who will miss her from her accustomed place and will mourn her loss.

Funeral services were conducted from the Rigdon parlors by the Rev. M. A. Marcy of McMinnville. Interment in City view cemetery.

Affected Taxpayers Must File Claims, Says Huntley

Following recent decisions in the supreme court of the United States in the cases of the Union Trust company et al, executors, versus Wardell, Collector, and Shawab, executor, versus Doyle, collector, the statement was published that it would not be necessary for estates to file claims for refunds to which they were entitled under such decisions.

"On the contrary," explains Clyde G. Huntley, collector of internal revenue, the existing regulations provide for the refunding of estate taxes only upon the filing of a claim therefor by the taxpayer. It will therefore be necessary for all taxpayers who are entitled to a refund of estate taxes by reason of the above entitled decisions to make formal claim therefor. This claim should be filed with the collector for the district (wherein the tax was paid) transmittal to the office of the commissioner of internal revenue, for appropriate action.

"All claims for the refunding or crediting of any internal revenue tax alleged to have been erroneously or illegally assessed or collected must be presented to the commissioner of internal revenue within four years next after payment of such tax. Consequently, if you are entitled to a refund, you must file a claim within this time."

Salem's city dads are busy—

The Statesman reporter who attended the Salem city council last night says they discussed at least 100 different matters—and he added that the body looked and acted to him like a busy business body; trying to do the right things, and coming as near to it as the next body of men on a similar kind of work.

Some one suggests that some men who keep their religion in their wife's name realize it is a safer place than in their own.

A new auto fan in Salem says it isn't necessary to spend much money on a car—if you lock it up in the garage and let it stay there.

Indiana is trying to find out who are the ten greatest living men in that state. Several other states are trying their hands in this game. Why not Oregon? Who are the ten greatest living men in Oregon?

It isn't much to call him "one man in a million." So is everybody else.

Secretary Denby reaches Manila with a highly encouraging account of the thoroughness with which Japan is living up to the agreements made at Washington. Such a report at a timely moment may do much to create confidence.

One minute essay on health by O. L. Scott, D. C.

There Are No Home Runs to Health

There are no home runs in the health game. When health is gone you have got to make your way back to normal by easy stages. Nature is not hurried beyond a certain point.

When the cause of disease is a displacement of spinal joints causing pressure on spinal nerves there is no way back to health except through the chiropractor's office. The spinal displacement must be fought, and it takes adjustments to do it.

Chiropractic spinal adjustments correct diseases of the head, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, pancreas, spleen, bowels and lower organs.

GETTING STARTED toward health is merely a matter of telephoning 87 for an appointment.
