MISS MAMIE VON BEHREN, a bride-to-be of the late summer, was the inspiration for a delightfully informal garden party Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Baker.

and fern were also used in the decorations. The table on which the gifts were left was prettily decorated with a great basket of the flowers.

Numerous cozy corners were arranged around the pretty lawn and Japanese lanterns and wind bells added to the charm of the arrangements. A pretty small table held the punch bowl and refreshments were served later in the evening.

The invited guests were Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fayne Morley, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Yarnall, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Miss Marcella Caspell, Miss Ruby Allen, Miss Nina Marshall, Miss Grace Marshall, Miss Elsie Mae Powell, Miss Hazel Dean Long, Miss Ella Smith, Miss Hope Gilmer, Miss Iris Powell, Miss Grace Von Behren, Miss Faith Gilmer, Miss Clara Page, Miss Verda Vincent, Miss Thelma Peed, Miss Doris Allen, Miss Leona Peed, Lenore Putman, Theona Putman, Winona Putman, Bert Eshleman, Chris Kowitz, Frank Caspell and A. Burns.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Freda Christensen to Elmer Bosell was made last night at a pretty informal party at the home of Miss Hollis Vick. The secret was made known through the unravelling of a spider's web which contained the announcement.

The color scheme was in tones of yellow. The guests included in the affair for Miss Christensen were Miss LaVilla Perry, Miss Hannah Christensen, Miss Emma Christensen, Miss Gertrude Hartman, Miss Edna Myers, Miss Esther Bertelson, Mrs. Charles Vick and Mrs. David Hassel.

Miss Christensen is the daughter of A. Christensen, Mr. Bosell's home is in St. Paul, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Laughridge and their little daughter, left yesterday for Newport where they will spend the next two weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Leo Steiner and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kozar have recently returned from a trip to Raintier park and other points of interest in western Washington.

Mrs. C. F. Peters has returned to her home in Austin, Minn., after several weeks' visit with friends and relatives in Salem. While on the coast Mrs. Peters spent two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Olson in San Francisco. On her return trip she made stops in Portland, Tacoma and Seattle. Mrs. Peters before her marriage was Miss Lillian Olson.

Ralph Olson is spending ten days at Breitenbush Springs.

The Three Link club will meet this afternoon in the I. O. O. F. hall.

Mrs. Fred Baker will entertain the Women's Home Missionary society of the Jason Lee church this afternoon. The women of the organization are being urged to attend.

Mrs. George Bingham is home following several weeks in St. Vincent's hospital in Portland.

Mrs. J. B. Littler and Mrs. E. Upmeyer are home from the Tillamook beaches where they have been for two weeks.

Mrs. W. H. Lytle was called to Pendleton Wednesday because of the death of her father, John F. Hill. Dr. Lytle left for Pendleton yesterday. Mrs. Robert N. Stanfield, another daughter, who since her return for Washington early in the season, has been living in Portland, accompanied Mrs. Lytle from Portland to Pendleton.

The luncheon planned by Mrs. Stanfield for next week to honor Mrs. Calvin Coofidge, wife of the vice president, was indefinitely postponed. It was to have been given at the Waverly club.

Dr. J. O. Matthis with his family are home following a week-end trip to the beach.

POWER COMPANY USES 2 SHIFTS

Installation of New Machinery to Be Rushed to Early Completion

Beginning with tonight the Portland Railway, Light & Power company will run two shifts of men on its big new power plant in Salem. The company has been seriously handicapped by the non-arrival of building materials, structural steel, and other items that were vital for the construction. A vast amount of work has been accomplished, however, and the plant is fast growing into shape.

The big water tube boilers are being set into place, and the placing of the tubes themselves will soon begin. The boilers, built without stay bolts or internal reinforcement, are tremendously strong. They are built of steel more than an inch in thickness, and they are to run at a normal pressure of 175 pounds to the inch, with safety valve relief set for 150 pounds. The dry steam goes to the turbines, superheated by direct furnace heat, to 550 degrees temperature.

While all the foundations are in for the turbines, these will have to season for a few days longer before the machinery is mounted.

The heavy steel pillars and beams that make the overhead crane system for handling the engines and the generators are lagging in their arrival. The machines may have to be swung in place with a temporary hoist. The engines and generators are here, ready for mounting, and they will be set up as soon as the foundations are fully seasoned.

Three cars of cement have been used thus far in the foundations, and another full car will be used before it is all over. The machinery shipments alone were to run into something like 600,000 pounds, it is understood.

Some repairs are being made at Eaton hall in the way of tinting the walls, but in general there will not be much new work until the big financial battle is over.

Bohler Soon to Come Coach Roy Bohler is to be here shortly to look after the physical and recreational plans for the year. Last winter the university had the use of the armory for indoor games. It was a painfully long distance from the university buildings, but it was the best that could be done. Nothing better is in sight for this year, though no contract has as yet been made for the use of the state building.

The athletic prospects for the year have seemed fairly good, even though no college gym has been secured, and none can now be expected for the current year.

BIG CAMPAIGN TO OPEN SOON

Secretary of Educational Board from New York Looks Over Willamette

Dr. J. B. Hancher of New York city, secretary of the Methodist board of education, was a Salem visitor this week to talk over the plans for the big campaign for the Willamette university endowment fund.

The intensive campaign is to begin in October, for the raising of $1,250,000 for the university needs. Of this, $1,000,000 will go for a permanent endowment fund, with only the interest available for use. The rest is to cover all other present incidental needs of the school.

Gymnasium First First of these needs is a gymnasium. This is to be the first big university investment. Definite plans have not yet been made for the big new physical-development plant, but these include a gym that will be adequate for every possible need of the university. Following this, a central heating plant is a vital need. There are some repairs, some current indebtedness, and some general improvements that will absorb the whole of the allotted quarter of a million.

A science hall is one of the dreams, beyond the exigencies of the endowment campaign, but this the authorities are content to let wait its turn. Once the other is raised, and the university put up to its proper standing, it is reasonably assured that this new building will be forthcoming.

Campaign Starts in Fall The campaign for the endowment that starts in October is to be completed by December 20. This allows two months for the organizing and carrying out of the campaign all over the state, wherever there are loyal Oregonians ready to back the oldest collegiate institution west of the Missouri river with their money and their interest. The history of Oregon is so indissolubly wrapped up in the early Willamette university dreams and their fulfillment, that the backers of the big undertaking feel that though the raising of the money may be a real job, it is sure to come in the end.

Some repairs are being made at Eaton hall in the way of tinting the walls, but in general there will not be much new work until the big financial battle is over.

years. She was the youngest daughter of W. H. Hobson and wife, and her entire life was spent in Stayton, where she was best known and deeply loved.
