

Rehearing is Petitioned
In Market Road Fund Case

A petition for rehearing has been filed in the supreme court by J. M. Devers, attorney for the state highway commission, in the case of S. M. Calkins against Lane county, which as decided in the lower court for Lane county and upheld by the supreme court in a recent opinion prevents the expenditure of county market road funds on the construction of state highways.

The Lane county case involves the expenditure of only about $23,000, but in its effect it reaches most of the counties of the state, and the supreme court interpretation of the law would be a serious handicap to the state highway program.

Petition for Rehearing
Is Filed in Will Case

Attorneys for Thomas N. Strong and C. Lewis Mead have filed in the supreme court a petition for rehearing of the falling will case of Portland.

In an opinion handed down several weeks ago the supreme court declared invalid the last will of Xar'ia J. Falling. This will left a large part of the estate, which totaled almost $1,000,000 to Strong and Mead, but held valid a former will that was executed in 1915 and which made a number of eleemosynary institutions beneficiaries, as well as a number of friends and relatives. The latter will was held valid by the circuit court for Multnomah county, and the supreme court opinion was a reversal of the lower court.

"We want an alert office boy." "Yes, sir," said the applicant for the job.

"Ar e you alert?" "No sir, I'm Aleck."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Anyhow, it's like this: if a man makes good in life he considers himself a self-made man and if he fails, he is usually ready to blame it on his parents—so, after all, it may be best for fathers and mothers not to take things too seriously.

Look to Your Battery Before You Start

The best reason we can give you for having your battery looked to before you start to tour is that it's just plain common sense. A good deal the same as taking along a spare tire, or an extra set of spark plugs, or a couple of headlight bulbs.

If it's right we'll say so. If it isn't we'll do what's necessary to bring it up to the mark.

Whether it's a Willard or not it will be given the benefit of Willard Standards of Battery Service.
