SCOUTIN

Scouting is a world-wide movement for the making of better future manhood through a wholesome recognition and sympathetic cultivation of present boyhood. Its American department, the Boy Scouts of America is a national institution, recognized by the federal government and protected by definite laws. The world boy movement, as typified in Scouting, is one of the most promising developments of civilization, and its extension in every community is a paramount civic obligation.

Note We have just been entering into the largest Ready-to-Wear business in our history. Since we installed this department two years ago, it has taken so well with the Salem public that our business was increased by leaps and bounds.

This year our special representatives in the eastern style centers purchased our Fall stocks of readyto-wear part of which is now in stock and the balance is steadily coming in. THE PURCHASE OF THE PORTLAND CLOAK AND SUIT COMPANY was not anticipated at this particular time but when the opportunity came to take over the famous store, we didn't hesitate, we grabbed it because we know what advantage it will mean to our customers. The terms was that we take over their entire stock-which we did in view of the fact that it was completely all new Fall goods. Consequently we are overloaded. We must have room, SO THIS IS THE
