BEARCATS WILL START FOOTBALL

Old Material and Some Fine New Giants Available for Bohler's Team

The Bearcats will start into the football season with seven letter men, according to the advance dope received by Coach Roy Bohler, who is now on the job for Willamette athletics.

The comebacks are Zeller, dependable backfield man, one of the most reliable players on the coast; Patton, who came close to starring last year; Carey, who showed good quality as end; Bain, the 147-pound center who was one of the fiercest little warriors that has ever held down the middle; Bruce White, husky lineman; Harold Isham, who promises to be a star at quarter; and Paul Sherwood, who was one of the heaviest line plungers in the team two and three years ago.

Besides these, there are some promising second-string and "scrub" players who showed up well last year. Some of them will adequately fill the places of the graduates of last June. Among these are Dwight Findley, Charles Eley, Fenimore Baggott, Oliver Hisey, Coughlin, Cramer, Hill, Forbes, Allen, Nee, and Shepherd, the Indian athlete who came in during the winter, will go out for foot-ball.

Merwin Stokhelse, Salem high school husky, will be in the freshman squad. So will Max Jones of Salem high. Bailey, who has held a place on the Grants Pass team for three years; White, of Hobson, Mont.; Gerald White, of Sidney, Mont., who was on the high school team for three years; Edward Moore, of Redmond, Ore.; and Holliday, who starred for the Kennewick, Wash., high school for three years. There may be many others of superior calibre.

Practice will begin on Monday, Sept. 18, the day that registration begins in the university. Just what the finals will bring in the way of performers Coach Bohler is mighty anxious to learn.

The game schedule this year is not very heavy, as now outlined. It covers eight games, as follows: September 30—Varsity vs. Alumnus, Sweetland field.

October 7—Willamette vs. University of Oregon, at Eugene.

October 21—Willamette vs. Albany, Sweetland field.

October 28—Willamette vs. Chemawa, Sweetland field.

November 4—Willamette vs. Whitman, Walla Walla.

November 25—Willamette vs. Pacific, Forest Grove.

November 25—Willamette vs. Linville, McMinnville.

November 30—Willamette vs. University of Puget Sound, Sweetland field.

No two-game schedules have been arranged for any team, and no game has as yet been arranged with O. A. C. There are one or two open dates that may be utilized for other game not yet agreed upon.

The team outfitted itself completely last fall, following the gymnasium fire that destroyed all the old equipment.

Some new equipment will be bought, but there will be enough

STAR TWIRLS FOR SENATORS TODAY

Lefty Schwartz to Hurl One Game Against Bandon Nine Today

The Bandon team of the Coos Bay league will be in Salem today to play a double-header with the Senators at Oxford park this afternoon.

The first game will start at 1:30 o'clock and the second will be played immediately after the conclusion of the first. The games will probably be the last of the season for the Senators and an unusually big crowd of fans is expected to attend, particularly for the reason that a number of former Salem stars are on the Bandon team. Among them are Jack Hayes, Hugh McKenna and "Spec" Keene. It is the strongest team to visit Salem this year.

Salem will be at heavy expense for the games, according to Manager Harry Wenderoth. "Lefty" Schwartz, considered the best southpaw in the northwest since "Lefty" Schroeder, will be here from Camas, Wash., to pitch one game for the Senators, and Carson will pitch the other.

Keneth Williams, leading major league home run hitter, got his 37th homer of the season in the second inning, hitting into the right field stands. He scored behind Sisler. Holling was pitching at the time. It was Williams' fifth homer in consecutive games.

Sisler got three hits out of five visits to the plate, making 28 consecutive games in which he has hit a fly. This is only two under the modern major league record.
