DIVORCED FOLK MAY HIT SNAG

House of Episcopal Bishops Would Forbid Parted Ones to Remarry

PORTLAND, Sept. 14.—The house of bishops of the protestant Episcopal church in the United States late today adopted a change in the divorce canon of the church proposed by Bishop C. H. Brent of western New York which makes the church law explicit in forbidding members marrying any divorced person except, as has been the rule, where a divorce has been granted on grounds of infidelity. The present canon merely forbids clergymen performing the ceremony for divorced persons. If the amendment enacted by the bishops today is approved by the house of deputies it will go into effect next January.

Asks for Discipline.
Bishop William Lawrence of Massachusetts, asked whether the change in the divorce law should not be carried further and discipline for violation of the canon. Bishop Brent suggested that discipline might be fixed in an amendment to the prayer book but that for the present he did not care to press anything further than the amendment he had offered.

In proposing the resolution he said that there was nothing new in the vision he proposed and that it had no bearing on disciplinary matters. He said that if passed it would save from sorrow many a person entering into a marriage contrary to the law of the church unknowingly.

The change in the marriage ceremony enacted by the convention must be approved by the general convention three years hence before becoming effective as it occurs in the prayer book, which is part of the constitution of the church. The change in the divorce law on the other hand being in a canon is not subject to further approval before becoming effective.

Interesting Events Are Planned for Y Youngsters

An "oem house" meet of the Y lads is to be held tonight with T. E. McCroskey, chairman of the boys' word committee, in charge. D. W. Eyre, head of the tennis board, will present the medals won in the recent strenuous tennis tournament, the fastest contest of the kind in the history of Salem. A number of brief addresses are to be made. Perhaps some of them will be not much longer than a good rousing cheer, but all will be of some point. Gym stunts will be presented, and then the crowd will go to the old swimming hole in the basement, where some fancy swimming and diving work will be shown. Meade Elliott, the new boys' work secretary, will have this department in charge.

A "hare and hounds" on bicycles is to be staged Saturday. Every boy with a wheel is to meet at the Y at 10 o'clock, with his lunch ready for a long hike, and they will light out for some place that is not yet made public. Nobody is barred who can stand the pace or can track 'em and not get lost.

Twenty-Three Boys Take Part in Swimming Meet

Twenty-three boys took part in a diving contest at the Y. M. C. A. pool Tuesday. This was one of a regular series that have been carried on during the summer, mostly at the municipal play

U'Ren Paid Notary Fees of Accused Circulators

Records at the office of the secretary of state here show that W. S. U'Ren, Portland attorney, paid the fees to the state on behalf of Paul Turner, Otto Newman and Charles Lorati when notarial commissions were issued to them June 25, 1920. The fee was $5 for each.

Turner, Newman and Lorati are among the seven notaries public whose methods in obtaining names on initiative petitions are assailed in the injunction proceedings against the interest rate and the state grant income tax initiative bills, now pending in the courts of Marion and Multnomah counties, and Mr. U'Ren is one of the attorneys appearing against them.

The records further show that Turner, Newman and Lorati were circulators of initiative petitions in behalf of the single tax measure that was voted on in the election of November, 1920.

LEGION CLUB ROOMS ARE DISCUSSED AT SESSION

An American Legion Club Room is One of the Important Measures Discussed Wednesday Night at a Meeting of the Legion Executive Committee

It has been felt that the Legion cause needs a permanent home, with some drawing power like a reading room always open, where the boys can meet for any purpose and be always welcome. This matter is being talked, and they will have it if it can be worked out.

Other social and financial plans for the benefit of the Legion for the coming winter were discussed. No definite action was taken on any proposal, but another session of the executive board is due for Monday night, to propose formal action to be presented to the regular Legion meeting Tuesday night.

Need More Help at Once to Save Big Prune Crop

EUGENE, Or., Sept. 14.—The hot weather during the past few days has caused prunes and other fall fruits to ripen so rapidly that prediction was made by J. O. Holt, manager of the local Cooperative Fruit Growers' association, that much of it will go to waste on account of lack of help to take care of it.

Holt is making an appeal for more women and girls to work in the cannery of the associations and for men to gather the fruit
