

WORKERS WILL ASSEMBLE TODAY

Annual Setting up Conference to Be Held at Wallace Farm Near City

It is expected that at least 100 will attend the annual "Setting-up" conference of the Salem Y. M. C. A. today at the Wallace farms west of the city. This is the annual meeting to review the work of the past year, and outline the work for the year to come.

An exceptional program has been prepared, with a number of speakers from out of town. Fred Lookley of Portland will be one of the speakers. Harry Stone of the Portland Y. Eugene is to send a number of guests, and others are coming from Albany and Corvallis. All the directors and workers in the local Y. and a number of the active college workers from Willamette, as well as the woman's auxiliary that has meant much for the local organization, will be of the attending crowd.

Last year the day was rainy, but still they attended by dozens. This year a big tent has been secured for the meeting, and there will be room for all, whatever the weather. The visitors are to take their own basket luncheon, which is to be eaten at 5:10. The meeting opens at 2 o'clock.

ALLIED CONFERENCE

Chanak was given as the reason why the joint note was cabled immediately after the conference tonight. M. Poincare informed Lord Curzon that with the allied decision granting the Turkish claims in the hands of Kemal Pasha, the nationalist leader could influence his warlike associates to await calmly the outcome of the peace conference.

The last minute abandonment by Great Britain of her position was due, it is believed, to a desire to avoid war, which many British officials, both at home and in the Near East, regarded as likely. Pressure from British labor, which was united against hostilities in the Near East, is also thought to have played no small part in the decision of the British government.

Having effectively obtained in the decision freedom of the straits, Great Britain is said to have reasoned that to insure peace in the Near East it would be better not to withhold any longer Turkish aspirations to a foothold in Europe, provided ample guarantees were exacted which would prevent a Turkish-Bulgarian alliance directed against the Balkan countries.

Must Observe Zones
While agreeing virtually to all the Turkish claims Lord Curzon insisted upon preservation of the neutral zones on the Asiatic side of the straits. The pledge is exacted from Kemal to observe these zones and not to cross the straits of the Sea of Marmora until peace is signed. The previous contention of Great Britain that allied troops should continue to occupy Gallipoli is not mentioned in the note, but it is probable that a small allied force will remain temporarily on the peninsula.

The Greek forces are to retire from eastern Thrace and Adrianople to a line to be fixed by the allied generals in agreement with the Greek and Turkish military authorities. The meeting to arrange an armistice is expected to be held at Mudania within a few days. Admission of Turkey to the league of nations, which the allies pledge themselves to support, is not expected until the assembly meeting of next year.

GREATEST FAIR TO OPEN TOMORROW

fair a pronounced success. Most of the old favorites will be back again, with many new entries, several coming from a distance to compete in the various saddle, harness and hunter classes.

Musicians Coming
H. N. Stoudenmeyer's band of Portland has been secured to furnish the music for both the races and night horse show, and to give open air concerts on the grounds during the day. This organization, which is known as the official state fair band, has also been assigned certain evenings in which to give concerts in the auditorium of the new pavilion. In this latter place on Thursday evening will be presented a high class program by Marguerite MacManus' string quartet, assisted by Madame de Fritsch, pianist. The Rosarian band of 51 pieces of Portland, and the old soldier life and drum corps, as well as the McMinnville band will also appear during the week. Afternoon and evening radiophone concerts will likewise be featured. The Columbia orchestra of Portland will also be heard during the six days.

Days Set Aside
The various days will be designated as follows: Monday, Children's day, with boys and girls of under 12 years admitted free, if accompanied by parents or guardian; Tuesday will be Farmers' and Good Roads day; Wednesday will be Salem day; Thursday, Portland, Elks and Rosarians' day; Friday, G. A. R. day, Willamette day, women's day and Logan day; Saturday, Shriners' day, with the evening turned over to the concessionaires.
Judge J. H. Logan of Oakland, Cal., the originator of the loganberry, will be extended especial honors on Friday, and has been asked to speak at the grandstand in the afternoon, just preceding the racing program.

Auto Polo Again
Auto polo will be an attraction following the racing card on several days, and each evening in the pavilion there will be free entertainment programs.
It is anticipated that the largest crowd in history will swarm into the capital city during the week, hundreds already arriving in order to secure suitable rooms. It is thought, however, that all visitors can be adequately handled as a systematic listing of places where room and board could be secured has been made a week or more ago, with the Marion hotel as headquarters of the listing board.

Special Trains Run
Special trains will be run from Portland and Eugene to Salem, from the 26th to the 30th inclusive. The special will leave Portland daily at 7:45 a. m., arriving at Salem 10:30 a. m. It will leave at 5:35 p. m., and arrive at Portland at 8:30 p. m. Extra cars will be added to all trains, and low rates will prevail from all Oregon points. The special round trip ticket from Portland and return will be $2, the same as pre-war fare.

Flattery is something women think much more of than men, but believe in much less.
