its own books thus eliminating profits of publishers.

Officers are Praised—Draft of a bill calling for the examination, registration and licensing of engineers and firemen on railroads, boats and in plants was approved.

Defeat of the Taxpayers' League income tax measure to be voted on this fall was urged in a resolution adopted.

Amendment to the proposed subsidy bill offered in a resolution was approved. It calls for the employment of American seamen on all boats benefited by the subsidy and for all repairs, except urgent ones, be made in United States docks.

The officers reports for the past year were adopted and the officers. O. R. Hartwig, president, Secretary Stack and Vice President Kimsey were commended for the excellent manner in which they conducted the duties of their office.

A resolution was defeated calling for a one per cent decrease in the per capita tax and the placing of a two per cent strike fund teachers in the state was urged in a resolution which carried.

A resolution to appoint a committee in all central labor councils to further union labor legislation, passed.

The Portland labor college was approved in a resolution and it was urged that similar schools be opened throughout the state.

A resolution urging the unions to support the chop crafts financially in their strike was endorsed.

Officers Nominated—Six resolutions were adopted at the night session of the convention. One of these denounced the attitude of the federal government with relation to the strike injunction, while another urged the election of federal judges for given terms instead of having them appointed for life as under the present system.

Another resolution adopted urged rigid inspection of railroad equipment, and the employment of only experienced men in installing transmission lines. This resolution was introduced by the electrical workers.

The convention went on record indorsing vocational training under the Smith-Hughes act, and adopted a resolution pledging the support of the federation in restoring the fish industry. This will be brought about, according to the resolution through cooperation with the fishermen's union.

Just prior to adjournment nominations for officers for the ensuing year were announced. These include Otto Hartwig, incumbent, president; C. V. Taylor, of the street car men's union of Portland, vice president, and E. J. Stack, incumbent, secretary. The election will be held by referendum and the new officers will take their offices March 1 of next year.

It was decided to hold the next convention of the federation at Astoria.

Meeting Is Ended—A number of minor resolutions introduced during the closing session thanked the Salem labor organizations for their courtesies, and the superintendents of the various state institutions for entertainment provided.

The delegates will remain over until tomorrow when they will inspect the several state institutions. Otto Hartwig, president of the federation, in announcing adjournment, declared that the convention this year was the best ever held in Oregon, and that much good would result from the discussions. He warned the delegates against laxity, and urged them to use all honorable means in promoting the interests of labor.

A large number of women were present at the closing session of the convention.
