CUPID GETS STAR PLAYER

Wilbur Moorman Is Missed From High School Squad—Ellis White Gone

If ever there was a bunch of boys that fairly hate matrimony, it is the Salem high school football team. The little lord of the hooded bow and the barbed arrow has made a victim of one of their most trusted, trustworthy mottoskin warriors, whom they had counted on to hold down approximately one-third of the line this fall—Wilbur Moorman, star of many a hard fought fight—and they can't say "Bless you, my children," but "Get out coases instead."

He won't be back; he is gone forever and a day. And so is Ellis White, the biggest, brainiest of all the bunch. He had expected to register, but he isn't going to. It wasn't marriage with Ellis, but he, too, is a total loss to the team.

Team Good Anyway

At that, however, the team is looking like a mince pie and a 40-pound turkey on Thanksgiving in the squad, and 28 others of various degrees of huskiness, from the steel-wire little fellers to the big ones with muscles like bushel baskets. They have never had so promising a start in football, as they have after these first two days of school.

Brown, the speedy quarter, and the fast thinker who runs the team, is back. So is Reinhart, the wiry, clever full back; and Post, the fastest man in school, and Lillegren, the fighting Indian, half backs. This makes a backfield that averages quite light, only about 145 pounds, but there is no speedier or more resourceful a quartet anywhere.

Line Is Heavy

In the line there will be Adolph and Ringler, who held the same positions so well last year; and Lynn Jones, tackle, also a veteran. Ausmer, a new heavy, will have a chance for the other tackle. Hamilton, a new man, is said to look exceptionally good at center. Fraser will have a try at one guard position. Coffey who played with Columbia last year will also try for the same berth, and Red Waters, a star from Washington high in Portland, will be a third candidate for guard. There are some other fine prospects, including the Kelly brothers and Roy Okerberg, who made such a good showing in basketball last winter. There are a number of others who start out well, though they are as yet untested.

Woodburn Cancels Game

The first game on the original schedule, that with Woodburn, Saturday of this week, was cancelled by the Woodburn team, and no other team has been found that will take its place. The rest of the season, however, will show a lot of class games, most of them here on the home grounds. It happens that practically the whole Willamette schedule is to be played away from home this season, so the Salem high can schedule its victims for Salem almost at will. About the only surer in sight away from home this thing game that the high school year is the Thanksgiving meet at Hood River.

Coach Is Pleased

Coach Hells Huntington is getting a wonderful lot of "kick" out of his budding team. There are some real stars, one of them being Adolph, who is called back from end. There is punting up to 60 yards when perhaps no college punter west of the Rockies who is making greater yardage.

four out of seven series winning the initial game spells and advantage which it is hard to overcome. The Giants are expected to open on their own grounds in the role of home players with Artie Nehf, the star pitcher, facing the American league standard bearers. Nehf has won 19 out of 37 starts in the National league pennant race this season and is without doubt the Giant's pitching ace.

Huggins is expected to send Joe Bush, the Brainard, (Minn.) sledge gun, to the mound in an endeavor to secure the initial edge on the McGrawites. Bush has lost but seven games out of the 38 he pitched this season and probably will prove a formidable obstacle in the nation's rush for victory.

Breaks Will Count

As was the case last season, much will depend upon the breaks of the game, especially in view of the shortened series.

Manager McGraw contends that he has sufficient twisting strength for such a series and predicts that sensational fielding will back up the pitchers and get down the heavy and long distance batting that the average follower of baseball expects to feature the play.

Huggins, assured of excellent hurling from his veteran staff of pitchers is counting upon the Yan-

SEAL'S LEAD IS ONLY HALF GAME

Los Angeles Beats San Francisco While Vernon Team Remains Idle

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—Los Angeles narrowed the Seal's lead over Vernon to one-half game by defeating San Francisco 4 to 3 today in an 11-inning battle while the Tigers remained idle. The Angels loaded the bases and clinched the game in the 11th inning when Deal drove two runs across with a double.

Score— R. H. E.

Los Angeles 4 11 2
Courtney and Yelle; Dumovich and Baldwin.

Portland 7; Salt Lake 4
PORTLAND, Oct. 3.—Portland defeated Salt Lake 7 to 4 in the first game of the series today. A home run by Hale in the first inning with one on base and Poole's homer in the sixth figured in the victory.

Score— R. H. E.
Salt Lake 4 7 2
Portland 7 9 2

Vernon-Oakland postponed; rain.

keens' heavy hitters to batter their way to the front promptly and hold the lead until the end.

Bambino Big Factor

Much will depend on "Babe" Ruth's ability to hook into the delivery of the opposing team's star batsmen. Twelve months ago he was not in physical condition to do himself justice. Aside from a slightly strained side today, he is ready and Yank fans are hoping that the bambino will deliver in sensational fashion in his second facing of the Giants hurlers.

Ruth was taken out with the Yanks in their final practice which began shortly after 10 o'clock this morning and ended when the Giants ambled out about 11 o'clock. He leaned hard against the pylon, sent a couple from his club into the cooler altitudes and then disappeared.

Schoolboys Play Truant

It was before a quiet but deeply interested crowd of truant school boys, who seemed to elude the police and get inside by percolating through the concrete walls, that both teams put in their final stitches. Mostly, it was a light workout to keep muscles from stiffening.

The teams worked similarly, the regular infielders practicing as they do before a game and the outfielders chasing fungoes and some of the pitchers and catchers passing the ball.

Little Joking Heard

Manager McGraw of the Giants did not come out, and Hughie Jennings, first assistant was in charge. Manager Huggins of the Yanks sat in the stands observing his charges. Both appeared very serious and did not attempt joking. Each said every man on the teams was fit and ready.

Little World Series to Start in Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 3.—The so-called little world series between Baltimore, four time flag winner of the international league and St. Paul champions of the American association, will get under way here tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Nine games are booked, the honors going to the first team winning five.

Remember the poem, "At midnight in his guarded tent the Greek lay dreaming of the hour," etc. But the alarm went off and the Turk was at the door.

PRUNE SEASON DRAWING DOWN

This Week May Practically End Shipments of Fresh Valley Fruit

That the season is fast coming to a close is evidenced by the announcement that this week will practically end the fresh prune shipments. The last of next week will finish the prune picking, at least all but a few isolated fruits. Certainly the bulk of the business will be finished by that time.

Following that, the packing plants will be able to settle down to the steady grind of handling the dried fruit from all the private dryers of the valley. The packing season is likely to last for a number of weeks or months, for there is an enormous tonnage of these fruits. Some of these fruits have been brought in to the packing plants for early working, but by far the greater quantity is still in the original owners' hands. They can come in at any time during the winter.

Canning prunes is still a staple industry in the Salem canneries. The demand is growing steadily for this method of preparation. A few of the No. 2 cans have been put up, but most of the pack is in the larger cans, 2 1/2's and 10's. Great quantities of berries and other small fruits have been put up in the smaller packages, the 1's and 2's, but the big prunes call for larger portions, and cannot be sold in the smaller units.

This package-size problem enters into the packing of cartons. Loganberries sell regularly in the 4 and 8-ounce cartons, but even the pound package has proved to be a bit small for the popular demand. The two-pound carton has made a hit in the city trade. The five and ten pound sizes go better out in the rural districts where they do not go to town so often, and where storage room is free. The prediction was made from California packers recently that within the next 10 years, 90 per cent of all the prune pack would be in paper cartons. Certainly a far larger proportion of this year's Oregon production will go out in paper than ever before.

Carloads of prunes that grow into trainloads and finally shiploads are now going out of Oregon for the eastern markets. The Oregon growers are shipping them in vast quantities to be loaded on shipboard for England the latter part of this week. The Drager Fruit company shipped its first 1922 crop from Roseburg last Friday. They go to the ocean for sea shipment.

Many of the Salem pack from various plants are going by truck. They move with more celerity, especially for ocean shipment from Portland.

Gene Sarazen Declines to Forecast Outcome

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3.—Gene Sarazen declined tonight to predict the result of his 72-hole golf match with Walter Hagen next Friday and Saturday but he did take vigorous and violent exception to a statement that the British open champion is the best dressed American golfer.

"I'll spring something at Oakland Friday that will knock Walter dizzy," said the local youngster, who holds the national open and professional titles.

"More Persian rug sweaters?" Gene was asked.
"None—some—'n' else," he grinned.
Friends of Sarazen insist that he is more partial to ear splitting sweaters than any golfer in captivity.

RECEPTION GIVEN PASTOR AND WIFE

Rev. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick Honored by Methodist Congregation

A reception was tendered Rev. and Mrs. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick at the First Methodist church parlors last night, by the friends and members of the church. It was their formal greeting to the "new" pastor, though he is just starting in for his third pastoral year in the big Salem church.

Dr. Carl G. Doney, chairman, introduced the speakers and others on the program. One musical number was a violin and piano duet, by Miss Louise Findley and Leonard Chadwick. Another was a solo and an encore by Mrs. Edwin Socolofsky, accompanied by Miss Kathleen LaRaut. A. A. Lee, retiring chairman of the official board, spoke of the ideal relations that had prevailed between the board and the pastor and the pastor's wife. Dr. M. C. Findley, the new president, was not able to be present. Mrs. Beckley, president of the eGeneral Aid society, told with the hearty approval of the audience, of the family life of the church during the past two years of Rev. Mr. Kirkpatrick's pastorate.

Sheldon Sackett, introduced by Dr. Doney as "the youngest Sunday school superintendent in all schools as large as this one in the United States," told of the Sunday school plans for the coming year, and thanked the pastor for his hearty cooperation, promising also the fullest assistance that the school could give.

Miss Mildred Strey represented the Epworth league, in place of Miss Esther McCracken, the president, who was called away by the illness of her sister. Dr.

Doney spoke for the university, telling of the sincere harmony and cooperation between the pastor and the institution. Rev. Mr. Kirkpatrick responded briefly, as did also Mrs. Kirkpatrick.

About 200 were present despite the inclement night. Fruit punch and wafers were served as refreshments after the program.
