EDITORIALS OF THE PEOPLE

Fereshetian Replies Editor Statesman: It was with great deal of amazement that I read a letter published in your paper from a gentleman who seems to take great pleasure in misunderstanding or misinterpreting extracts from one of my sermons delivered recently. In that sermon I stated certain principles of true Americanism as voiced by the best types of manhood that this nation has produced. However, the Rev. Mr. Milliken has seen fit to make an issue and therefore has decided to make a lot of general statements about Canada, Catholics, South American countries and others having no particular bearing on the sub-

I take it that there are quite 3 few persons who know history, but I had in mind the history of the United States. I had in mind and limited myself to our own national principles. I am not interested just now in what harpened in Ontario—that is a problem for the British. Our own standard of judgment must be our own national ideals. A study of the constitution and our own state constitution has more bearig on the case than what have done in Argentina.
