

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Mahone Will Speak— L. D. Mahone of Portland, who was one of the Oregon representatives at the national convention of Spanish-American war veterans at San Francisco in August, is to address Hal Hibbard camp, Salem U. S. W. V. the night of October 16. He has a number of interesting and valuable things to tell the boys about their national meetings, about pensions, bonuses and other things that they want to know. A light lunch is to be served, and the boys expect to make it a profitable evening. The camp is growing steadily, through the joining of men who have never before affiliated with the organization, but now begin to feel that their old war memories are worth preserving and their old friendships worth renewing.

Barn Total Loss— Henry Vandervort's farm barn, one of the finest in the Brush College district of Polk county west of Salem, was burned Monday night of this week, after taking fire in some unexplained way. It was 40x60 feet in size, and filled with grain and hay. The loss was about $2500, with $1500 insurance. Fortunately, the big new prune dryer, built this year, was not included in the blaze, though the barn itself was a total loss. Dreamland Rink— Vick Meyer's Orchestra Saturday night. Guaranteed attraction.—adv. School Play in Progress— Some idea of what is being done at the Salem schools these days, might be gathered from the fact that yesterday the play grounds director of one of the schools sent nine balls down to one of the local sporting goods houses for repair ready for the outdoors game season. The cargo included footballs, basketballs and volleyballs. Dreamland Rink— Vick Meyer's Orchestra Saturday night. Guaranteed attraction.—adv. G. A. R., Attention— Sedgewick Post will attend the funeral of Comrade John J. Krapps, at Rigdon's parlors, Saturday, October 7, at 10 o'clock. By order of Commander Albert Loughridge Adjutant. Military Men to Speak— Two real military people, who used to be "dogs of war" but are now full-fledged Lions with long manes, are to speak at the Lions club luncheon at the Marion, today. They are Major W. T. Morgan, a lecturer, educator and soldier, who presents a message of his own choosing, and Captain George H. Paul, now of Salem, who recently retired from the army after many years of honorable service. He will speak on "Boy Scouts." Because of the important messages that these two speakers are to bring, there will be no other program except the dinner itself. The club has been acquiring some new members, and all these latest jinglings are expected to be present and help the old ones roar. auto tourist as a community asset. He told of the bright spots on the road, like the auto camps at Boise, Baker, the service at Twin Falls, and the cleanliness of Laramie, Wyo. The Boise camp he picked as the finest in the whole journey, and he told what it means to the development of the country. Some of the bad places are also marked down in the Bohrnstedt book of remembrance. One is Rock Springs, Wyo., where they have only dirty, insolent public camps, and greedy robbers in their businesses. After trying two or three chances for fair accommodations without robbery on their way east, the travelers scrambled back into their car and drove on to the next station. Coming home, they found other travelers envious on the ill repute of the place. They figured that the city lost $100 worth of business in one evening period of 20 minutes, when cars that should have stayed over for fair accommodations sailed by and wouldn't even buy a postage stamp or get a drink of free water. At Fort Collins, Colo., the hotel men tried to stick the guests for an extra dollar a day; because they were outsiders. "It pays to have clean, attractive camps, to treat the traveling public as your guests, to make the municipal camp the municipal parlor to entertain these guests," he said. "It is the worst possible advertising any community can get, for it to be said that they try to hold up the transient trade. The word passes clear across the continent and they never stop talking about the one or two grabbers, who stand for a whole community of dishonest people whom the traveler wants to avoid."

"The peaches of the Malad and Orden country were marvellous," Mr Bohrnstedt said. The irrigation systems all along the line, beginning with these in eastern Oregon, attracted his attention, especially, though he said that no country they say on their journey was quite the equal of the Willamette valley. He urged especially that the western Oregon people boost for the big main roads through eastern Oregon, as the only arteries through which the auto travel can flow to the coast. He said that the Blue Mountain highway is being rushed to a possible completion this fall through special bonus on overtime and speedy work, and that this road will mean fortunes to Oregon if it is properly advertised farther east. Evanston and Granger, Wyo., where the California and the Oregon roads divide; he suggested as the places for the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce to do some big sign missionary work for the benefit of travelers, when this Blue Mountain road is completed. He also urged the western support of the Bend-Redmond-McKenzie Pass road as a very necessary feeder for the west as well as a developer for the eastern part of the state. Mr. Bohrnstedt urged that the city of Salem secure the title to a permanent auto park, equip it so as to make it attractive all over America, and especially to build an auditorium, as Boise has, for the use of the traveling guests. Mayor Halvorsen was introduced to speak briefly on the city measures to be voted on this fall, the fire equipment amendment, and the appointment of the police chief by the mayor, instead of leaving the office elective. Mrs. Gettrude J. M. Page spoke briefly on the need of more ade-

REALTORS AGAIN AT NOON LUNCH Program of Activity is Resumed After Vacation During Summer The Realtors staged a genuine come-back Thursday noon when they again appeared at luncheon, after many weeks of fasting. They will meet regularly hereafter every Thursday noon. A. C. Bohrnstedt, president of the Realtors, apologized for putting himself on the program for the big talk, but he said that he simply couldn't help it. He recently returned from a 3200-mile auto trip to Colorado, and he wanted his fellow realtors to know of some of the lessons he had learned that might do them good also. The speaker emphasized the marvellously growing value of the

TOO MUCH MEAT HURTS KIDNEYS Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You. Eating too much meat may produce kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well known authority, because the uric acid excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation. The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so that it no longer irritates, thus often ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding kidney disorders.—Adv.

United Army Stores Take Every Precaution Eye strain sometimes comes on so gradually that the individual does not realize his trouble until it has reached a serious stage. The man who does a great deal of work with his eyes, should be on the watch for the first indication of strain, and do everything possible to prevent its occurrence. Following a suggestion of Mr. Bohrnstedt, the realtors approved the action of Senator Charles McNary of Oregon for his efforts to secure a federal revolving fund for the promotion of irrigation and drainage, and the development of the west that needs this form of help. State Unable to Take Care of Entire Gould Household from Portland Because of a large male waiting list already at the state school for the feeble-minded, the state board of control Tuesday decided unanimously that it cannot comply with a request of Judge Jacob Kanzler of the Multnomah county court of domestic relations to accept at the school the entire J. Gould family of Portland. The Gould family of husband, wife and seven children are all said to be feeble-minded. One of the boys is already in the state school, and another 22 years old is in the Multnomah county jail, but he cannot be held there because there is no charge against him. Both he and his father, however, are believed to be criminally inclined. About two years ago Judge Kanzler made inquiry whether it would be possible for a cottage to be built at the feeble-minded institution exclusively for the Gould family, but this could not
