AT THE LIBERTY TOMORROW AND SATURDAY

Lon Chaney in "Flesh and Blood" and the last round of "The Leather Pushers."

BLIGH
Vaudeville and "Daring Danger."
LIBERTY
Betty Blythe in "His Wife's Husband."
OREGON
Betty Compton in "The Bonded Woman."
GRAND
Coming Saturday and Sunday
Rudolph Valentino and Katherine McDonald in "Passion's Playground," and Conway Tearle in "The Referee."

The American boy is generally known for his ingenuity and cleverness in things mechanical and scientific. How a street urchin and his homemade radio set saved many lives and possibly a government, is just one of the situations in "The Radio King," the Universal scientific serial, starring Roy Stewart, which opens at the Bligh theatre on Friday and Saturday. Written and adapted by Robert Dillon, directed by Robert F. Hill, it is the first chapter play based on the science of aerial communication.

The show at the Liberty Friday and Saturday is one that should pack that cozy little theatre at all performances. Lon Chaney appears in "Flesh & Blood," he has the role of cripple, a part similar to the one he made such a hit in, in "The Penalty" and "The Miracle Man." There is another big feature on the Liberty bill for the two days, the sixth and final round of "The Leather Pushers." On Friday evening every lady that attends the Liberty will receive a carnation free, with the compliments of C. F. Briethaupt, Salem's leading florist, at the Saturday matinee. "The Ace" will present a 25 cent box of Hass Home Made candy to the first 100 women who attend the show. It's some show and no doubt the standing room only sign will be in evidence at all performances during the two day run.

The following is the cast of players that support Katherine McDonald in the big feature picture that will be shown at the Grand Saturday and Sunday. Two big films will be presented, the other being Conway Tearle in "The Referee." The Grand will likely play capacity business, giving the public such an awful lot for their money. The two features are hard to beat. Mary Grant, Katherine McDonald; Prince Vanno Della Robbia, Norman Kerry; Marie Grant (the other Mary Grant), Nell Craig; Lord Daunty, Edwin Steves; Lady Daunty, Virginia Ainsworth; Prince Angelo Della Robbia, Rudolphe Valentine; Dodo Wardrop, Alice Wilson; James Hanaford, Howard Gaye; Idina Bland, Fanny Ferrari; Molly Maxwell, Sylvia Jocelyn; Cure of Roquebrune, Walt Whitman.

That many animals possess not only minds, but also reason, is the rather startling claim made by James Oliver Curwood. And the author is warmly supported in this claim by Jane Novak, who has the leading feminine role in the screen version of his story, "Kazran," which will open an engagement at the Bligh theatre on Sunday and Monday. "This will shock some nature scientists of the old school, whose egotism will not allow them to concede that any living creature except man possesses reason," says Mr. Curwood. "The line between instinct and reason is very faintly drawn; the two overlap, so much so that very frequently animal 'instinct' is far superior to man's so-called reason." And Miss Novak says: "I am absolutely convinced that Mr. Curwood is correct in his theory after working with the big wolf-dog who has the part of 'Kazran' in that picture. That dog could do everything but talk."

William S. Hart is a man of many accomplishments. He can act, shoot, ride, fight; he can also write—and he proves it in "The Money Corral," his newest Artcraft picture which is on view at the Bligh theatre this Friday and Saturday.

In the preparation of this photodrama he collaborated with Lambert Hillyer. Together they have evolved one of the most exciting and convincing stories that has ever been produced at the Hart studios.

There is always a thrill for the he-men in a political battle, and now that the ladies—God bless 'em!—have the ballot, their interest is no less keen. In "His Wife's Husband" the picture now being presented at the Liberty theatre, in which Betty Blythe is being starred, there is a political intrigue which is very true to life and which provides one of the high spots in the tense climax of the story.

Girls who are leading the lives of the idle rich may profit by Anita Stewart's next attraction entitled "Her Mad Bargain." In this fast moving picture the star characterizes a society girl of wealth who is absolutely helpless when adversity sweeps away the comforts and luxuries to which she has become accustomed.

Does aviation prepare one for scenario-writing? Albert S. LeVino, Paramount scenario writer, used to be an aviator. He is the adaptor of "The Bonded Woman," the picture starring Betty Compton, which is delighting large audiences at the Oregon theatre this week.

In fact, Mr. LeVino was a pioneer in the science of air travel. In 1910 he was giving exhibition flights in the south, and in February 1912, acting as pilot and cameraman, he took the first motion picture ever made of New York city from an airplane.

In "The Referee," Conway Tearle casts aside the habiliments of a "cake eater" and dons the belligerent trunks of a prize-fighter. However, when the referee puts on his street clothes he looks every inch the handsome Hart-Shaffner-Marxian who peers at us from the pages of "The Saturday Evening Post." In the ring attire, Mr. Tearle is every muscle the man's man; and in street attire he is every seam the heart flutterer.

Ralph Lewis, recalled as the impressive Senator Steneman of D. W. Griffith's "Birth of a Nation," asserts that he has one of the greatest roles in his long career in "In the Name of the Law." It will be shown at the Oregon theatre on Saturday. Mr. Lewis portrays the role of a policeman and the story has to do with the life of a cop, at work and at home.

Drama of life—the pent-up sorrows accumulated by a convict—who breaks jail after fifteen long years of confinement. Think of it! Fifteen years without a glimpse of his wife and little child. Do you wonder that he wanted to escape? Do you wonder that he wanted to exact vengeance upon the man who, sent him to prison? What would you do under similar circumstances? We dare say you would adopt the same plan as Lon Chaney did. Come and see this superb actor in his greatest performance. See the man with a thousand faces in "Flesh and Blood." A picture to make you think. A picture to inspire you. A greater picture than "The Penalty."

SERIOUS BLADDER TROUBLE
"Could not stand nor sit and was forced to cry out from intense pain," writes Henry Williams, Tarkio, Montana. "The doctors said I had inflammation of the bladder and an operation was necessary. Tried Foley's Kidney Pills and was relieved at once. Tell all my friends about Foley Kidney Pills as it will save many from suffering and perhaps, as in my case, a dangerous operation." Bladder and kidney trouble demands prompt treatment. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief. Sold everywhere.—adv.

PORTLAND MUST PAY LICENSES

Sum of $6406 Due State on Autos Obligation, Van Winkle Says

The city of Portland must pay to the state of Oregon the sum of $6406 in accrued motor vehicle license fees for the years 1920 and 1921, according to an opinion written yesterday by I. H. Van Winkle, attorney general to Sam A. Kozier, secretary of state. The city owes the state $3634.50 for 1920 and $2771.50 for 1921.

The legislature of 1921 passed a law which exempts from this payment the state, counties, cities and other municipal corporations, but this act did not become operative until January 1, 1922 and does not affect the fees that had accrued up to that date.

In the city of Portland the suggestion was made that the enactment of the 1921 law repealed the law then existing for the licensing and registration of motor vehicles and exempted the payment of the fees.

The city of Portland did not pay the license fees for the registration of its motor vehicles during 1920 and 1921, claiming exemption. The supreme court held, in the opinion of the state vs. W. C. Preston that the city must pay, and the city then raised the question of the effect of the 1921 enactment. The attorney general's opinion holds that the 1921 act does not repeal the previous act.

Olcott and Kozier Will Attend Celebration

Governor Olcott and Secretary of State Kozier will leave Portland at 5 o'clock p. m. today for Jordan valley where they will attend the Idaho-Oregon-Nevada cut-off highway, celebration the remainder of this week.

On Monday night the governor will open a speaking campaign at Ontario. T. B. Kay of Salem, former state treasurer and now a member of the legislature, will speak also on behalf of the governor.

Governor Olcott will spend about 10 days in Eastern Oregon.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Adv.

By MARGUERITE GLEESON

MISS BESSIE McNEAL formerly of Omaha, and Raymond Hartman will be married this morning at 7 o'clock at St. Joseph's church. Rev. J. R. Buck will officiate at the marriage service. Mrs. Fred Brock, Jr., will be matron of honor and Albert Egan, will attend Mr. Hartman.

Mr. Hartman is a member of the firm of Hartman Bros., jewelers, being associated with his father and brother. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hartman. Miss McNeal has made many friends in the short time she has been in Salem who will be glad to know she is to remain here. The wedding comes as a surprise to their friends in Salem.

Miss Viola Finney will sing a vocal number and Miss Mary Lebold will preside at the organ. The bride will wear a tailored suit of blue trimmed with fur.

Following the wedding which will be attended by a number of close friends and relatives, the bridal party will drive to Portland and a wedding breakfast will be served at the Multnomah hotel. They will then leave for an extended trip to northern points. They will be accompanied to Portland by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brock, Jr., Mrs. H. Hartman and Albert Egan.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pope, who have been living in Portland since their marriage in August, will take up their residence in Salem this week. For the present they will reside with Mrs. Pope's parents, r. and Mrs. J. W. Chambers on Court street.

Mr. Pope will be associated with Elm White in a law firm. Mrs. Pope was formerly Miss Dorothy Chambers.

Vachel Lindsay American poet, will come to Salem late in November under the combined sponsorship of the Salem Arts league and Willamette university. Mr. Lindsay was to have been in Salem last spring but owing to the death of his mother was unable to keep the appointment. The exact date of his coming here this fall is not known as yet, according to those in charge but it is certain that unless something unexpected happens Salem folks will have an opportunity to hear this famed poet of the present day. The talk will be given in Waller hall.

Mrs. Lowell Tweedale entertained Tuesday for her daughter, Dorothy, whose thirteenth birthday anniversary it was. A number of companions were invited in for the later afternoon and Mrs. Tweedale served a six o'clock supper and the girls later formed a line party at the Liberty.

The Missionary department of the Congregational Women's Union will be entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert J. Hendricks. Hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. E. A. Miller, Mrs. T. S. McKenzie, Mrs. Ida Babcock and Mrs. John Rowland. Rev. Helen Ranney of San Francisco will speak to the women at the meeting. This is the regular monthly meeting of the group which was postponed from last Friday in order that it might be held at a time when Rev. Ranney could attend. She has been attending the Congregational conference in Corvallis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Hansen will entertain the O. A. C. club tonight at their home on Mill street. Miss Grace Holt and Miss Vivian Hargrove will be joint hosts for the occasion. Former students and graduates of the college are invited to attend.

The new national president of the Veterans is Mrs. Lola S. Elliott, and Mrs. Marie L. Bashan is the new national president of the Women's Relief corp. Both women are from Des Moines, Ia. Milwaukee, Wis., will entertain the encampment in 1923.

BRUSH COLLEGE

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Page will leave soon to spend two weeks on their farm near Crowley.

The pupils and teachers of the school wish to give thanks to whom thanks is due. Many thanks for the watermelons, they say. They were eaten as only prize winners could be eaten.

Joseph Hadespeck recently sold 25 acres of his land to George Frank of Los Angeles.

Mrs. H. Henderson of Central City, Iowa, who has been visiting relatives here, will return to her home the first of the week.

Mr. Imiah is doing extensive repair work on his residence.

Mrs. K. A. Carlson of Rickreall is visiting at the C. C. Page home. W. M. Pelker returned home Saturday after spending several weeks in Montana. Adam Whitman of Portland visited F. Kron last Saturday. Harold and Leonard Schindler and F. H. Kron, while driving home from F. C. Ewing's prune dryer Saturday night, ran into a wagon. The car was badly damaged.
