University and college women in Salem who are eligible to membership in the local branch of the American association of University Women are being invited to attend the luncheon which will be sponsored Saturday by the association.

Plans for the luncheon are in charge of Miss Frances Richards, (phone 1464) or Miss Helen Pearce, (phone 345 J). The place where the affair will be given cannot be definitely announced, according to Miss Richards until it is known how many will attend. It will be either at the Pied Piper or the Hotel Marion and in order that those in charge may know as soon as possible how many will attend it is requested that those planning on attending call either Miss Richards or Miss Pearce.

Members of the branch must be graduates of accredited colleges or universities. Those women who have attended an accredited college for two years or who are graduates of non accredited colleges which grant the bachelor of arts degree are eligible for associate membership. College women who are uncertain as to their eligibility may gain information from Miss Richards, or Miss Pearce.

WEATHER CHANGES CAUSE SICKNESS

Extreme changes of weather during Fall cause many colds and coughs. For quick relief from throat, chest and bronchial trouble, coughs, colds and croup use Foley's Honey and Tar. Contains no opiates—ingredients printed on the wrapper.

Largest selling cough medicine in the world. "Foley's Honey and Tar" is the most pleasant and efficient remedy for coughs and colds that I ever saw," writes Wm. Jones, El Dara, Illinois. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so easily. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Adv.

AT THE LIBERTY TODAY

OREGON THEATRE Tomorrow

MONTA BLUE in A Scene from 'MY OLD KENTUCKY HOME'

RICHARD BARTHELMESS in His Greatest Success 'SONNY'

BLIGH Wallace Reid in "Roaring Road," Hickman Bessy Stock Company and pictures.

LIBERTY Monte Blue in "My Old Kentucky Home."

OREGON "In the Name of the Law" a real big production.

GRAND Coming Saturday and Sunday—Elaine Hammerstein in "Under Oath" and Harold Lloyd in "A Sailor Made Man."

"Under Oath," announced as the attraction at the Grand theatre, for a two day engagement beginning Saturday, affords local motion picture devotees an opportunity to see in action a long list of prominent film stars.

Foremost of these stars is Elaine Hammerstein, famous the length and breadth of the star-spangled states for her brilliant work in films, past and present.

"Aren't we having 'hot dogs' pretty often?" This was the question asked of George Melford by a member of his cast, in the mess tent at Oxnard, Cal. where the Paramount company was encamped for the making of "Burning Sands," which will be a feature at the Oregon theatre next Saturday evening.

"Uncle George" looked at the captious one with his characteristic smile. "Well," he said, "we are tramping around over the 'burning sands' all day, and if that isn't conducive to hot 'dogs,' I'd like to have you tell me what would be.

Jack Mower, Julia Faye, Edythe Chapman and James Neill well known screen players have important roles in Cecil B. DeMille's production of "Manslaughter," his latest Paramount picture which will be the feature at the Oregon Theatre soon.

"The Hands of Nara" is the next photoplay in which the brilliant Clara Kimball Young will star. It is announced for the Liberty Theatre on Friday and it should prove one of the season's most entertaining photoplays.

William Jaunice, chief steward of the Jockey club, here received a letter today from Richard-Goodloe telling him that he watched "Dixie" work a mile in .52 2-5, the first furlong in 12 2-5, the quarter in 33 2-5.

"Dixie," who will soon run in the Derby is one of the important factors in the great motion picture "My Old Kentucky Home," which is being shown here at the Liberty Theatre. Despite the fact that Richard Barthelmess is the star, canine instinct supplies the dominant note of "Sonny," the attraction which opens an extended run at the Oregon Theatre tomorrow.

Not only has "In the Name of the Law," now at the Oregon Theatre, the element of mother love but it also has a goodly portion of father love as well. The story has to do with the life of a policeman—his life at home and at work—and has any number of engrossing situations. Among those in the cast are Ralph Lewis, Claire M'Dowell, Ella Hall, Johnnie Walker, Ben Alexander and Dick Morris.

One of the most captivating photoplays seen here this season is "The Roaring Road," in which Wallace Reid, famous Paramount star, is starring as the Bligh theater today. The picture has been admirably produced and the work of the star and that of a capable cast headed by dainty Ann Little, is most artistic.

Noah Beery, who appears in an important role in Robert Warwick's Paramount picture, "In Mizoura," coming to the Bligh theater on Friday and Saturday, is known on the screen as the "Master of Make-up." During his long motion picture career, Mr. Beery has appeared in a host of widely differentiated character parts, ranging from "Bluff" in "Everywoman," to the old Missourian in his latest picture. In all he has shown an uncanny skill in choosing exactly the make-up and costume that makes his part seem unusually realistic. His wide acquaintance with nearly every section of the globe and observing eye have made him an expert in this particular branch of his profession.

LINGERING COUGH RELIEVED "Had a bad cough for three years," writes H. E. Campbell, Adrian, Michigan. "Found no relief until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar." Lingers coughs, severe colds, croup, throat, chest and bronchial trouble quickly relieved with Foley's Honey and Tar. No need to suffer and take chances with neglected coughs and colds. Free from opiates—ingredients printed on the wrapper. Largest selling cough medicine in the world. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Perfect Coffee impossible without correct granulation

The old home coffee mill, while it might operate satisfactorily for a short time, was very quick to deteriorate into an instrument for breaking instead of grinding coffee and the resulting granulation was far from lending itself to efficient coffee making. With the advent of the Vacuum Process it became possible to pack coffee ground and since that time, the public has found it possible to purchase coffee with an improved granulation.

The experiments that Hills Bros. have conducted over a period of years has shown that this part of coffee manufacture is an exceedingly important item. Coffee, if ground too coarsely will be wasteful in result, and if ground extremely fine, will lack in flavor to an extent that it will be impossible to brew from it a perfect cup of coffee.

It is unnecessary to call to the attention of users of Hills Bros. Coffee the uniform granulation that is consistently maintained for it is one of the important items in the course of manufacture that insures consumers of a more perfect coffee beverage.

The SELECTED GROUP of PRINTZ COATS featured in OCTOBER FASHION MAGAZINES

At last we have the pleasure of announcing what we believe is the most interesting style showing we have ever held.

Now, in our coat section, we are presenting the selected group of Printz coats featured nationally this month in the Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal, Vogue and Harper's Bazar. This feature showing is composed of five models specially chosen for their outstanding values and smart "personalized styles."

In these handsome coats Printz designers have selected and adapted the most beautiful style features from the great pageant of Parisian autumn styles. Every detail proves the high standard of Printz tailoring, the well-known worth of Printz fabrics. And the values are quite exceptional.

As in all Printz coats and suits, the mode is adapted and lines are skillfully developed to meet the needs of different normal figures. Through the Printz "personalized style" selection we are prepared to help you choose the model most becoming to your type and figure.

Do not fail to see this showing of coats within the next few days. Selection will be a pleasure with this smart assortment, decided values and "personalized style" service we offer you. Of course we are showing many other models both by Printz and other makes, together with all the newest costume accessories. We advise your prompt attendance, as this event is certain to reduce our present complete selections.
