DAVID LLOYD GEORGE

There is a break in the career of David Lloyd George, "the little Welsh lawyer," who has been Prime Minister of Great Britain for nearly six years...

And now the machinery of a general election will be set up, and there will be an appeal to the country on the issues that are to be decided in Great Britain...

Lloyd George was born in Manchester, England, January 17, 1863. His parents, however, were Welsh; hence the nickname which has clung to him throughout his singularly stormy and his wonderfully brilliant career...

Obtaining an apprenticeship with a firm of lawyers, he finally succeeded in establishing his own practice in Wales. A fight for the Nonconformists made him noted through Wales, and in his 27th year he was elected to Parliament...

And in this office he was the author of budget reforms which opened a new era in the fiscal history of the United Kingdom, which led to the great constitutional conflict between the House of Commons and the House of Lords...

But the World War came in 1914, and Chancellor Lloyd George was shouldered with the responsibility of financing the empire's part in the great conflict. His responsibilities increased with the gathering troubles of the country...

Followed settlement of disputes between the coal miners and the mine owners; several disputes; several settlements.

A crisis came in England's affairs on account of dissatisfaction in the conduct of the war; came the fall of the Asquith Cabinet...

And came the elevation of Lloyd George, in December, 1916, to the place of Premier, with a new war cabinet of five members only, and with sweeping powers which made him practically England's dictator.

In strange contrast to his energetic leadership in the prosecution of the World War, his first political prominence had come through his attacks on the pro-war party of the Boer war. He even refused to vote for the necessary supplies to maintain the army...

So he was at different times, on account of his radicalism, "one of the most hated men of England," hooted and the object of physical violence...

But he ever loomed up as the man of the hour to solve his country's difficulties.

Lloyd George understands as few British statesmen do the United States, and he is in full sympathy with America's advanced ideals of government.

Lloyd George's resignation on account of the lack of a majority in the House of Commons to support his measures may not mean that he is permanently out of supreme leadership in Great Britain—

For he has a tremendous hold upon the sympathies of the people, and he is greatest in a great struggle; so he may "come back" with banners flying. Indeed, he may be called back, by both friends and enemies, to again iron out difficulties that may arise beyond the power of any other directing hand and mind and heart to solve.

There are rumors of peace in Ireland. That is good news.

Of course, Alexander conquered the world, but history does not relate that he ever collected any indemnity.

Five maritime steamship lines have inaugurated a rate war. And that is a sort of imbroglio that the public is keen to boost.

There really ought to be a constitutional amendment providing for an appeal from the United States supreme court to Sam Gompers.—Los Angeles Times.

Lloyd George is out. But he served Great Britain and through Great Britain the world as no one else could have been found to serve his nation and the rest of civilization.

Attorney General Daugherty said yesterday in Ohio that President Harding's candidacy for a second term "has not yet been given any consideration."

Ex-Governor Cox has been asked by his party to remain at his old home in Dayton, O., and recuperate from his European trip. He has received but few invitations to speak and has been told that there must be a new deal in national politics.

It is definitely announced that President Harding will take no part in the fall campaign, so far as public addresses are concerned. But the cabinet to a man will be on the stump.

Of the 259 Republican members of congress who asked for renominations this fall but fourteen were denied the honor. In New York, with twenty-eight members, but one was turned down. Doesn't look as if the people were after President Harding's administration to any appreciable extent.

There is no one in Salem who should not wish the Willamette university endowment campaign success; no one who is able to contribute who should not make his or her wish father to the act of materially aiding in that hoped for success.

ALFALFA FOR MEN

Once more a group of dietitians are urging the tired business man to include muffins or biscuits made from alfalfa meal in his morning refreshments. When peoples of every nation and provide a free public school education for all alike.

American children in the United States learn much from the zeal, diligence and concentration of the Chinese pupils, who frequently excel in their studies and win scholarships to the higher institutions of learning; as has been the case in Salem and in Oregon.

It is probable that the parents of the Chinese pupils in Victoria, B. C. believe it highly desirable that their children absorb the assertive and independent characteristics of the Americans, whose initiative has done much to improve living conditions—even in China itself.

One of the quickest and most efficient ways of Americanizing the foreigner is to put his child under the capable management of a good school teacher for six or more hours each day in a room where most of the children are Americans.

American children accept Chinese, Hindus and all the others as a part of the school—unless they are taught to believe they have no right there.

The problem confronting the school authorities in Victoria, B. C., is not a problem in the United States.

SPEED THE PLOW

The high price of American gasoline abroad has been stimulating the invention or discovery of substitutes. At the great fair at Lyons, France, much interest centered in the demonstration of "Gasogene." This calls for a machine or apparatus which is attached to a tractor or truck to generate sufficient gas of low-grade quality to run the motor for hours without the aid of petrol.

SEGREGATING CHINESE

School authorities in Victoria, B. C., have segregated Chinese children and the children object. They like the young Canadians—full of "pep" though they may be.

It is a healthy sign when oriental children are so anxious to become occidentalized that they will figuratively fight for the privilege—even against so powerful a group of educators whose task it is to teach them the pitfalls lurking in the English language.

One need only visit San Francisco's Chinatown to discover how thoroughly the young Celestials become Americanized through the public schools of that city; and in Salem the Chinese in our schools make splendid records.

The young oriental generation speaks English without a flaw in pronunciation—and from their conversation it is inferred that they are good Americans in every sense.

Questions Are Presented to Candidate W. M. Pierce

While in Portland, Wednesday, Walter Pierce of LaGrande, democratic candidate for governor, was asked to make a statement on certain phases of state policy that would come before the next governor, whoever he may be. Mr. Pierce was asked: "Will you be in favor of the law appointing the adjutant general or any other man to any office, for life?"

"I am not in favor of such a law. Had I been governor at that time I should have vetoed the bill," he said. "Will you see that all men employed in the bonus office are Oregon ex-service men who are entitled to receive the benefits of the Oregon bonus law and will you give preference to crippled or disabled men who are qualified for the positions?"

INSECTS SURPASS MANKIND

With all the wonderful achievements of man in peace and war he is unable to successfully combat the insect horde which is his worst enemy. After twenty years of battling against the cotton boll weevil, no remedy has been found to prevent its ravages. The Argentine ants now spreading over the world have been known to devour a baby in its cradle and they have completely wiped out the birds of Madeira. The flea has caused 7,000,000 deaths in India by carrying plague.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

AND GREECE IS MELTING

Mariners report that the Gulf Stream has been wandering from its proper course. And a scientist says that Greenland is drifting. This general unrest begins to be positively cosmic.—Chicago News

RIGHTS WITHHELD

They have what they might call a legal impasse in Illinois. Under one act women, being legal voters, must be included in the jury lists. Under the construction of another law women may not serve on juries. Therefore, the judge may one day provide for the drawing of a panel of lady jurors and then order them

Taxes and the Governor

When a candidate for the high office of governor bases his candidacy on certain claims and promises as to what he will do if elected, the public is entitled to have his claims analyzed and examined.

In this campaign, Walter Pierce has gone about the country melodramatically tearing tax bills in two by way of illustrating what he will do to taxes if elected.

It is proper at this point to examine Mr. Pierce's own record on taxes and see if past actions as a legislator square with his words.

MR. PIERCE'S TAX RECORD
Of the $9,376,289 of state taxes for 1922, which include the millage taxes, MR. PIERCE SPECIFICALLY HAS APPROVED OF $8,564,039, or 92 percent.

GOVERNOR OLCOTT'S RECORD
The above are but a few of the extravagances of Pierce. Mr. Olcott on the other hand has conducted the business of the state in an economical, sane and business-like manner.

"Of course," agreed the cap doubtfully, "I do get treated badly. Every time Dick gets excited he throws me up in the air and nearly scares me to death."
