

SALEM VOTERS ON INCREASE

City Registration Has Substantial Gain Over Figures of Early Summer

Either Salem is growing more populous, or there are a lot of voters waking up to their civic obligations, for the registration figures show an increase of 9 per cent over the registration last spring. The figures are:

Registration April 18, 1922
 Republican—Male 3175, female 2596, total 5773.
 Democratic—Male 738, female 630, total 1368.
 Prohibition—Male 49, female 65, total 114.
 Progressive—Male 7, female 0, total 7.
 Socialist—Male 28, female 8, total 36.
 Independent—Male 98, female 68, total 161.
 Miscellaneous—Male 38, female 27, total 65.
 Grand Total—Male 4133, female 3391, total 7524.

Registration October 7, 1922
 Republican—Male 3442, female 2912, total 6354.
 Democratic—Male 772, female 688, total 1460.
 Prohibition—Male 48, female 61, total 109.
 Progressive—Male 5, female 0, total 5.
 Socialist—Male 31, female 8, total 39.
 Independent—Male 102, female 72, total 174.
 Miscellaneous—Male 42, female 39, total 81.
 Grand Total—Male 4442, female 3771, total 8213.

All the parties have gained since the spring count except the Prohibitionists and the Progressives, both of which have lost a few of their supporters. The Republican registration shows the heaviest gain, almost 10 per cent. The Democratic gain is about 7 per cent, and the miscellaneous vote gains a little more than 10 per cent.

There will be no more registration until the polls open.

NEW BOYS' ORDER IS ESTABLISHED

Order of DeMolay to Make First Appearance in Salem October 28

The Order of DeMolay is to be instituted in Salem, with its first services on October 28 at the Masonic temple. The order is open to the sons of all Masons, though others, too, may join on a character basis. It is a "Big Brother" organization within the Masonic order, with the aid of the best counsel available in the nation, to meet the needs of boys from the ages of 16 to 21 years. It takes the boys just where the Boy Scouts leave them, at the age of 16 years, and carries them on up to manhood.

The membership, however, is not limited to Masonic families. It is a cosmopolitan organization that looks on every boy as a potential president or other splendid national asset. It started as a boys' club, in Kansas City, less than four years ago. It has grown into a national institution. Membership automatically ceases when the youth reaches 21 years of age, though he can then enter the Masonic order if he so desires. A ritual that rivals even the imposing ceremonies of the Masonic order is the display part of the order. Its social features comprise almost everything that could appeal to the heart of a keen, aspiring boy. The avowed purposes of the order of DeMolay is "to make better boys, better men, and better citizens. The degrees teach reverence, patriotism, filial love, clean living, and good citizenship."

The order derives its name from Jacques DeMolay, described as "the last military grand master of the Order of Knights Templar, an eminent martyr of Free Ma-

CREAM FOR CATARRH OPENS UP NOSTRILS

Tells How To Get Quick Relief from Head-Colds. It's Splendid!

In one minute your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh will be gone.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucus membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stuff up with a cold or nasty catarrh—Relief comes so quickly—adv.

sonary, who one the evening of May 18, 1314, as the bells of the Cathedral of Notre Dame tolled the hour of 7, was burned at the stake on an isle in the Seine river. Modern names might have been employed. Scenes from American history might have been utilized; but with the prospect that DeMolay might become universal, it was believed best by its founders not to do so. The name of Jacques DeMolay is closely associated with the Masonic order of Knighthood, and the selection of his name seems eminently proper. Our boys should be taught that our forefathers fought for all our inalienable rights; that our freedom was purchased with blood, fire and sword; that forces are existent today which would destroy all that we now have and that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

The local advisory council is composed of A. L. Frazer, Dr. O. A. Olson, David Wright, C. A. Murphy, Elias Kilien, Ralph Thompson, master of Salem lodge No. 4; Paul Miller, master of Pacific lodge No. 59, and Rev. D. H. Chambers of the Episcopal church. The plan is to meet twice a month and give the boys something so inspiring in the way of ideals in arms for public and private and civic righteousness, that the name DeMolay will stand for all its founders hoped for the beginning.

LLOYD GEORGE AND CABINET ARE OUT

its time, afforded the London crowd, which never fails to freely express its sentiments towards notabilities, a distinct scene of excitement. The Earl of Balfour, who had only to walk around the corner from his house, was one of the fortunate who got nothing but cheers. Mr. Chamberlain was loudly hooted when he appeared, from a feeling that he was not playing the game.

Two or three lesser lights also proved unpopular. Some hot head loudly and repeatedly cried "Judas" as Birkenhead ascended the steps.

Club attendants stood on the steps to separate those who had cards or admission from those who tried to force their way in, standing on their rights as members. There were half a dozen of these belligerents, including Lord Chaplain, one of the oldest Unionists and one of the oldest members of the club.

Warm Remarks Exchanged

Some compromised by entering the lower floor; others retired after exchanging warm remarks with their club mates among the ticket holders.

A meeting of the Carlton club to discuss the rights of members is on the slate for the near future.

Mr. Lloyd George and Mr.

Chamberlain presided, respectively, over meetings of the coalition Liberal and coalition Unionist members of the government, discussing future policy. Mr. Lloyd George will make his first speech as "ex-premier" tomorrow at Guild hall, on the occasion of London's official welcome home to the Prince of Wales, but he is expected to reserve his real political manifesto for Saturday's meeting at Leeds.

Younger Wins Victory

Today's events may be regarded as constituting a great victory for Sir George Younger, who upset the Lloyd George government at the election and has not been the cause of his resignation. Mr. Lloyd George will continue to hold his seat of office to carry on current business until the new government is formed.

The part played by the Right Honorable Stanley Baldwin, at the Carlton club meeting has brought his name into prominence and it is thought he may be chancellor of the exchequer in the new conservative ministry. He has been president of the board of trade and parliamentary private secretary to Mr. Bonar Law.

Irish Issue Problem

A point of considerable interest in the new situation is the fate of the Irish constitution in the British parliament. It is not yet known whether Mr. Bonar Law in the event of succeeding in the formation of a conservative ministry will decide upon an immediate appeal to the country or whether he will attempt to carry on the government and pass needed Irish legislation. If he adopts the latter plan there will be no difficulty in getting the Irish constitution ratified, although the "die hards" who are mainly responsible for today's developments are strongly against the coalition's Irish policy, it is said they will not attempt to disturb the settlement already made under the treaty.

Mrs. Lloyd George, addressing a political meeting in London tonight, said her husband's health and spirits both improve when he is engaged in a fight—it is like a tonic to him.

Premier's Wife Cheerful

"I am always pleased when there is a fight going on," she declared, "because he gives me far less trouble."

Thirteen Unionist members of the late government, including Mr. Chamberlain, Lord Birkenhead, the Earl of Balfour, Sir Robert Horne, Sir Laming Worthington Evans and Lord Lee sent a manifesto to the press tonight paying tribute to Lloyd George's invaluable services to the country and protesting against the decision of the Carlton club as unwise and ungrateful to Mr. Lloyd George. They declare they will refuse to carry such a message to the prime minister.

Commons Is Decreased

All the election machinery is ready the moment the signal is given for an appeal to the country. The new house of commons will be the smallest since the act of the union between Great Britain and Ireland as the setting up of the two-part parliaments in Ireland withdrew Irish representation from Westminster. The present house of commons consists of 707 members, but the new parliament will have only 615 members.

Washington Gripped

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—Fall of the Lloyd George government gripped the attention of official circles here today, both governmental and diplomatic, although no direct immediate effect of the change in the British ministry further than an additional delay in the British debt funding negotiations was expected to be apparent in relations between the United States and Great Britain. The London cabinet crisis is full of possible future complications for all other governments, including the United States, however, and a clear understanding of what is ahead, it was said, depends very largely on the progress made by Premier-Designate Bonar Law in his attempt to form a cabinet.

Commission Delayed

The immediate result of the crisis already felt in Washington is the postponement of the coming to this country of the British debt commission headed by Sir Robert Horne, chancellor of the exchequer in the Lloyd George government.

Another possible direct element in the situation affecting the United States is the status of Ambassador Geddes. In recent years the British government has selected for certain important diplomatic posts, such as Washington, men of prominence outside their British diplomatic service. Ambassador Geddes is of this group as is his predecessor, Lord Reading.

Naturally, men specially selected by a government for particular diplomatic posts are more affected by the political vicissitudes of the government which appointed them than would be the diplomats who have made that work their life business regardless of political changes in their own countries. If policies of the London government are to be radically changed as a result of the crisis, possibly ambassadors selected as was Sir Auckland Geddes, may be recalled.

U. S. Has Interests

The United States government has also very direct interests in the Near Eastern situation, which contributed to the cabinet crisis. Through Secretary Hughes, the broad purposes of the Lloyd George policy in the Near East—establishment of the freedom of the Turkish straits and guarantees of protection for racial and religious minorities in Turkey—have been endorsed by the United States government.

It is evident that the Near Eastern policy of whatever political combination controls the British government will be a matter of concern in Washington. This is particularly true inasmuch as the rights of Americans in Turkish territory rest in part upon the territory obligations between Turkey and other governments.

Styx Ink Company Gets Big Government Order

The Styx Ink company of Salem received an order for 1000 cans of Styx multigraph ink for the war department, in competition with all the inkers of the world. The ink was developed a few years ago by Larry Hofee of Salem, when the firm of E. Hofer & Sons was using a great quantity of multigraph printing and had to have something a little better than the market then afforded. The firm experimented and made its own ink so successfully that it looked like a good trade proposition to make it for national sales. A national business has been built up on this Salem-made product. The Hofers plan to go further, and market a new stencil that looks as good as the Styx ink. The company has agencies in every important city west of the Mississippi, and in several cities of Canada.

If anybody has seen and wondered at the Styx ink door sign up in the Bank of Commerce building, this is the story.

BERRY GROWERS GATHER TONIGHT

Logan Producers Interested in Better Price Will Meet at Liberty

An urgent call to all interested in 6-cent loganberries is made to attend a meeting at the Liberty hall south of Salem tonight.

The first agitation for this fair-price cooperation was started in the summer, just prior to the opening of the prune season. It was agreed to postpone further action until the prune harvest was out of the way.

Now that the prunes are gone and the growers are up to the time when they must decide about their 1923 crops, the promoters of the first action are ready to take the matter to every loganberry grower in Oregon. It is realized that only by getting a very large signature to the agreement to hold for 6-cent berries can the movement succeed. Without it they feel that there will be another

SALEM HAS NEW USEFUL HOSPITAL

Maternity Institution Already Has Its Space Engaged Ahead

Salem has a new and useful hospital—a maternity hospital. It has already had two or three cases, and all the available room is engaged ahead for a time.

Miss Rose McNamee some weeks ago bought the home of Gerald Volk, at 1499 Court street, and she has turned this beautiful home into a maternity hospital.

season of selling fruit for less it costs to produce, and they want to act in time. As all the price received for their fruit, above the present price that certainly is not more than the cost of production, would be clear profit, an increase of 6 cents would give the growers practically every cent of the difference.

Invitations have been sent to a number of nearby districts, and the public invitation is extended to all who are interested in loganberries, to attend the meeting and help organize the fight for a living price. The meeting is to begin at 8 o'clock, with H. H. Mumford, chairman, presiding.

The new hospital has room for six cases at one time. The rooms have been fitted up with the best that money could buy.

Miss McNamee has been in Salem since the first of August. She has been a nurse for 27 years. She took her training in Indianapolis, Ind. She was for 10 years at St. Joseph's hospital at Memphis, Tenn., and has worked at Denver, Spokane, Waila Walls, Hammond, Ind., and a number of other points throughout this country; and she was for 24 months in army nursing overseas.

Miss McNamee has nursed at the Salem hospitals, and has made a number of friends here, hence the immediate success of her undertaking, supplying a real need for Salem and the surrounding country.

Shortage of Cars is Not Serious in This State

Shortage of cars in Oregon is not serious, according to the public service commission. On the Southern Pacific and Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation company lines the total shortage is only a daily average of 375 at the present time. At the corresponding period in 1920 when the shortage was serious the average daily shortage of cars was 2576.
