Day, both of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Ed G. Anderson, Albany, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Pierce, Aumsville.

Mrs. B. C. Miles and Mrs. Robert M. Fleming were hostesses this week for the Thursday afternoon club at the Miles home. Kenneth Allen, a nephew of Mrs. Miles, sang several solos for the guests. He is a member of the Whitney Boys chorus and received an ovation when he sang with them last week. Miss C. P. Bishop poured during the tea hour and Mrs. Fleming cut the loaves. Guests of the club for the afternoon were Mrs. W. P. Lord and her guest, Mrs. E. P. Murphy of Portland; Mrs. B. E. Carrier and Mrs. W. G. Allen.

The Women's club chorus, a group of 36 of the younger singers, which has been practicing with Paul Petri of Portland, will give a benefit concert for the Old Peoples home in the near future. It will be given in the First Methodist church.

The music department of the Salem Women's club under the direction of Miss Dorothy Pearce, is making plans for the division of the town into districts to the end that Christmas carols will be sung in every part of town on Christmas eve. This was done to a certain extent last year but it is hoped to carry it out more completely this season.

Mrs. Fred Klein who will leave soon for her new home in Phoenix, Ariz., has been the inspiration for a number of social affairs during the last week.

Mrs. James Nicholson entertained the members of the Wednesday bridge club in her honor during the week. Mrs. Nicholson drew and Mrs. Lee L. Gilbert assisted Mrs. Nicholson during the afternoon. The serving table was prettily decorated with yellow and white.

Those hidden to honor Mrs. Klein were:

Mrs. C. C. Kelley, Mrs. Paul Hauser, Mrs. L. F. Sheldon, Mrs. J. C. McLeod, Mrs. Charles Whitmore, Mrs. S. Culver, Mrs. E. A. Skelley, Mrs. C. B. McCullough, Mrs. Nicholas Drew, Mrs. W. D. Clarke, Mrs. Charles Stricklin, Mrs. Kenneth Hall, Mrs. Lee G. Bert.

Mrs. W. H. Steusloff was hostess at a party for Mrs. Klein Friday afternoon. A number of her co-workers of the First Presbyterian church were invited in for the afternoon.

Autumn flowers were used about the rooms of the Steusloff home. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. H. J. Clement, Mrs. George Pearce and Mrs. Moffit.

Mrs. F. H. Berger and little daughter, Virginia, and Miss Margaret White spent Saturday in Portland, driving down for the day.

Mrs. and Mrs. Harry McDaniel and Miss Florence Elgin will be joint hosts this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elgin. The occasion is the third wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel and the birthday anniversary of Miss Elgin.

Autumn flowers and foliage will be used about the rooms. A bowl of yellow marigolds will center the supper table. Eighteen guests will help to honor guests celebrate the occasion. Music will be provided by a small stringed orchestra.

Committees for the First Congregational church bazaar were appointed by Mrs. F. W. Steusloff at the meeting of the Women's Union Friday. The bazaar will be held December 6.

Chairmen of the different committees as appointed are as follows: Mrs. H. L. Clark, cooked foods; Mrs. G. C. Brown, fancy aprons; Mrs. W. I. Stanley, handkerchiefs; Mrs. Robert Fleming, utility aprons; flowers, Miss Oda Chapman; Mrs. K. Graber, refreshments; Genevieve Endicott and Constance Kantner, candy.

The Women's Union will meet again this week in the church Friday afternoon.

Henrietta Bishop and Katherine Elgin will be hostesses at a hallowe'en party next Saturday evening.

Mrs. Catherine Willard Eddy, who is in charge of foreign service work for the Y. W. C. A., will be in Salem during the coming week. She will talk to the high school girls Tuesday and Wednesday will talk to members of the association and the board members in the association room.

She is considered a most forceful speaker and it is anticipated many will take advantage of the opportunity to hear her. Mrs. E. Christie of Portland will accompany her and will talk on "The Assurance Policy." Mrs. Christie is general secretary of the Portland association.

coming year was held. The matter of the Oriental women's colleges for which a financial drive will be made soon was one of the possible objects discussed. It was suggested that a study be made of the various state institutions and that the branch have those in charge of these different institutions tell the women of the work being done.

The possibility of having a speaker at each meeting was discussed and seemed to meet with most general approval, the women seeming anxious to have this feature. It was suggested that the local branch take a special interest in any legislation which might come up this winter before the legislature which would be of interest to women or of educational interest.

The membership of the local branch is more than 30 now although only 30 women were present at the luncheon yesterday, many finding it impossible to attend the first meeting.

Vachel Lindsay Comes to Salem Friday Night

As its initial offering for the season of 1922-23, the Salem Arts League announces the appearance of Vachel Lindsay, celebrated American poet, next Friday night in Waller Hall of Willamette university. The league is cooperating with a committee from the university in bringing Mr. Lindsay to Salem. He was to have come late in November, but owing to changes in his itinerary the new date was made necessary.

Mr. Lindsay will read from his own works—works that have placed him at the front of the rank of contemporary versifiers. Probably his best-known book is "The Congo," with "The Chinese Nightingale," outstanding as an individual poem.

Several of his books are to be found on the shelves of the Salem Public Library, and one about him—"Tramping with a poet in the Rockies," by Stephen Graham. "My companion has two voices," says Mr. Graham. "One is that of a politician, harsh and strident; the other is that of a Homeric harper and ballad chanter of the days of old."

Officials of the league feel especially fortunate to be able to present Mr. Lindsay as its initial offering this year, and so that everyone may be able to hear him tickets have been placed at fifty cents, with a special price to students of twenty-five cents.

Wide-spread interest has already been manifested in the poet's evening here, and it is expected that the seating capacity of Waller hall will be taxed to the limit. Tickets for the affair will be on sale the first of the week, and may be procurable from any member of the league, or at some down town place of business which will be announced later.

Former Premier Clemenceau will reach this country on November 18. Just in time for a glorious Thanksgiving feast. Pass the white meat, Georges, dear, also a bit of the dark.

Clean and DRY for the line without a wringer

THE Laun-Dry-Ette has no wringer. It washes the clothes, and whirles the suds out; it rinses them and whirles the rinse water out; it blues them and whirles them dry for the line—a whole tubful at a time.

The Laun-Dry-Ette saves work on wash day because it dries as well as washes. It saves work on mending day because it never smashes buttons or injures the daintiest fasteners. The Laun-Dry-Ette does not require extra tubs, because both the washing and the drying are done right in the Laun-Dry-Ette itself. The Laun-Dry-Ette prevents red hands, because it makes it unnecessary to put your hands in the water even once. We invite you to come to our store and see the Laun-Dry-Ette do a regular washing. If you can't come, please phone or write.

College Women Elect Officers

Miss Frances M. Richards was chosen president of the Salem branch of the American Association of University Women at the meeting held Saturday following a luncheon in the Pied Piper. Other officers chosen were Miss Marie Churchill, vice president; Mrs. Roy Klein, secretary; Mrs. J. H. Fairchild, treasurer.

Mrs. William Cooper, president of the Portland branch, was among those attending the meeting yesterday. Mrs. Cooper told the Salem women of the work taken up by Portland women and the ways in which it was accomplished.

LAST-MINUTE STYLES FOR WINTER

New materials—new designs—easy to make with the Deltor

THE new wraps, loose above the waistline with straight slim lines below, the little blouse jackets that Paris loves this season, the still triumphant cape wrap, the new Winter dresses—they are fascinating.

Come in to-day and look at the new designs and at our wealth of beautiful new materials for the Winter season. You can make any one of these new designs with all the skill of an expert, for each Butterick Pattern contains the Deltor.

It shows you exactly how to lay your pattern as an expert did to get it out of the least possible amount of material. That is why Butterick Patterns invariably call for less material than you would otherwise have to buy.

You are shown exactly how to put together the garment as a great dressmaker would. And the French ways of finishing it that give it a rich imported look. You will be delighted with the results. Come in to-day.

Design 4039—Shoulder seam this way is very much in the mode this season. Note the interesting sleeve.
Design 3974—Butterick presents the blouse jacket from Paris.
Design 4020—Frock like this may be worn with the blouse jacket.
Design 4073—The cape coat fills a place that nothing else can quite take.
Design 4071—One of the new coats for Winter, with capacious sleeves.
