The saying that truth is stranger than fiction was given added support during the filming of "Free Air" which comes to the Liberty theater next Sunday for an engagement of three days, when old mother nature furnished a higher stage setting than any stage carpenter or property man could have manufactured.

Johnnie Walker of "Over the Hill" fame comes again to the Oregon theater Friday in a tense, dramatic story of the snow country called "My Dad." "My Dad" is based upon the nobility of sacrifice. The son, played by Mr. Walker, risks his life, undergoes the tortures of a mauling cold, the dangers of a blizzard to procure the medicine that proves his father's innocence.

Salome's passion and the ultimate salute of Antony and Cleopatra, all rolled into one, would only be a mild zephyr compared to the gale of emotion stirred by the kiss of Claire Windsor and Bamy Richard Headrick in "Rich Men's Wives," according to Manager Kupper of the Oregon theater. The picture will be seen there for three days, beginning today. "The most wonderful kiss the screen ever has shown," is the way the scene between a mother and a child, as presented in this picture, is described.

Hallam Cooney, who plays the role of Ritchie in "The Man With Two Mothers," coming to the Liberty theater for two days, beginning Friday, was born in Brooklyn and educated in Chicago. After several years on the speaking stage he went into pictures in 1914.

Charles Chaplin's latest comedy release, "Pay Day," opens a run at the Grand theater on Saturday. Advance notices tend to the belief that this vehicle will rank among the best productions the star comedian has ever offered.

Some excellent interiors of a real Greenwich village studio are shown in "Wife Against Wife," which is the attraction at the Grand theater Saturday.

the gridiron, is the story of a football star to whom the training and the game gave stamina, judgment, valor, restraint, and other qualities which made him a man among men.

Cecil B. DeMille, accompanied by his production staff and several members of the cast, went to Santa Barbara for an exciting day's work on location in connection with the filming of "Manslaughter," which will be presented at the Oregon theater next Saturday evening.

Called by his contemporaries "The Man who rides as if part of his horse," Lester Cuneo, a west coast film star, is noted for being one of the most accomplished horseback riders in moving pictures.

Cuneo has the star part in a new Western picture he has just completed for his new company. The picture is entitled "Lone Hand Wilson," and will be shown locally at the Bigh theatre today tomorrow and Thursday.

Seena Owen, the pretty leading woman for William S. Hart in his new Artcraft picture, "Branding Broadway," which is one view of the Bigh theatre, had to acquire the difficult art of flipping flapjacks for her part in the production. There is a celebrated restaurant in Los Angeles and the company repaired thither and put in some hot and busy hours at the big gas stove until Miss Owen felt at home with the festive pancake.

The popular Hickman Bessey Stock company will open at the Bigh theatre tomorrow evening with an entirely new show, "The Country Girl," a four-act rural comedy drama which they say is one of their best comedy shows. If it even compares with their show of last week it will sure be a winner.

LOUISE FITCH TO EDIT A.A.U.W. PUBLICATION

EUGENE, Oct. 23.—Miss Louise Fitch, who has been president of the Eugene branch of the American Association of University Women, has gone to Washington, D. C. where she will edit the national magazine of the association. The executive board of the local branch has appointed Miss Mozelle Hair, a member of the university faculty, as president to succeed Miss Fitch.

Miss Fitch was one of a group of Eugene members of the A. A. U. W. who assisted with the organization of the Salem branch of the association last spring. Miss Fitch is experienced in educational organization work since she is a past national president of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

The Eugene branch, in accordance with its custom, will invite all college women, not including those who are now students, to its first meeting this college year. This will be a luncheon to be given the first Saturday in November, it having been postponed from the fourth Saturday in October owing to the convening of the state Parent-Teacher association on that date.

It is tentatively planned to have each monthly meeting hereafter in the form of a luncheon with a brief, well-planned program so that a part of Saturday afternoon may be left free for other duties or engagements.

Those who have been placed in office for this year are: Miss Hair (University of Oregon), president; Mrs. Sarah Capps Tingle (Wellesley and University of Chicago), vice-president; Mrs. N. S. Macduff (Michigan), corresponding secretary; Mrs. George Bohler (Oberlin), recording secretary; Mrs. Ruth Johnson (Oregon), treasurer; Mrs. O. R. Gullion (Missouri), councillor. Mrs. Edwin L. Knapp (Washington State college) is chairman of the membership committee and Mrs. F. L. Chambers (Oregon) is chairman of the social committee.

The current club year is of especial interest to all women eligible for membership because of the fact that the national convention will be held in Portland next spring. This will bring many of the best known and able women of America to Oregon, since the association numbers among its members the heads of all the women's colleges, the deans of women's institutions, the wives of the cabinet members, many of the most distinguished women writers and scientists.

ites, have, of course well defined policies and, according to present indications, are resolutely opposed to any cooperation with Lloyd George, even should the former premier seek reconciliation with either of them.

Unionists Elect Bonar Law
The Unionists today elected Bonar Law leader of the party preliminary to his acceptance of the call of the king to the office of prime minister.

Representative members of the party from both the house of commons and the house of lords met this afternoon for that purpose. Sir George Younger, who had much to do with the overthrow of Lloyd George presided and recommended the selection of Mr. Bonar Law as the party's standard bearer.

Leader Unhired Lu
Mr. Bonar Law was not present at the opening of the proceedings and Lord Curzon suggested that as the object of the meeting was already assured it was absurd that he should not be present. He, therefore, proposed that even at the cost of some blushes to him, Mr. Bonar Law be invited to hear the whole proceedings. Mr. Bonar Law forthwith entered.

In proposing Mr. Bonar Law (or leadership) Lord Curzon, who was secretary for foreign affairs in the Lloyd George cabinet, said it was a great day on which the Unionist party, after having for seven years subordinated its interests and merged its identity in a national party and the national cause, resumed its freedom and proceeded to re-elect its old leader.

Self-Seeking Denied
He described Mr. Bonar Law as completely innocent of self-seeking and as possessing just those qualities the nation required in a trusted leader in the present crisis.

CLUB BOOSTED BY PRESIDENT PERRY (Continued from page 1.)

The Chamber should consider the problems of the merchants of the city. Every effort should be made to bring business to Salem and to develop favorable sentiment towards Salem in the trade territory that belongs to it. Trade extension work of a practical sort should be undertaken. Direct assistance should be given to the merchants in all of the special activities, such as Dollar Days, Style Shows, etc., they may plan to put over. "Better and bigger business for Salem" should be the slogan of the Chamber and the basis of its greatest activity as well.

"5. Publicity. Salem needs new literature to exploit her attractions for the tourist, her opportunities for the manufacturer, business man and homeseeker. A new booklet, modest in type but comprehensive in the story it tells should be issued this year and given as wide distribution as possible. The Committee appointed to arrange for scenic highway signs north and south of Salem on the Pacific Highway should be given financial support. Every effort should be made to let the world know what Salem is and what Salem has as a city of the highest type.

Good Works Boosted
"6. Civic Improvement. Salem, as the Capitol City of Oregon, should have the highest kind of civic development. The Chamber should be squarely behind every movement for civic betterment, standing for good schools, new Y. M. C. A. Playgrounds, new Hospital and all those things that tend to make the city a better place in which to live. Every effort should be made to stimulate a loyal civic spirit among the men and women of the community and to consolidate the interest of all citizens in their home town.

"7. Community Spirit. The Chamber should endeavor to create a closer bond of interest between the people of the city and the country. Support should be given to the Marion County Community Federation of Community clubs in its efforts to bring about the unity of thought and purpose among the people of the County. An earnest effort should be made to bring the merchants of the city into closer spirit of cooperation in their common problems. In order to bring about that team work that is so essential in community building. The Rotary club, the Kiwanis club, the Lions club, the Realty board and kindred organizations should be united, through the Chamber of Commerce, in matters of community service and civic progress. In short one of the aims of the Chamber of Commerce in the coming year should be to stand for and work for a UNITED SALEM and to tie together all elements in the community in the task of making Salem, in its commercial, industrial and civic development, a bigger and better town in every way.

Support should be given to the university in its efforts to increase its endowment. The university has a commercial value to the community because of the amount of money it distributes each year in the city. It has an advertising value, as well. It has a still greater value in its influence on the cultural life of the city, as a factor in the spiritual development of the community. It is worth much to Salem from these three points of view."
