PORTLAND CYCLIST BREAKS RECORD IN RUN TO NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—A new motorcycle record for a transcontinental run from Los Angeles to New York was established late today when Wells Bennett of Portland, Ore., holder of a number of speed marks, reached his destination in the actual running time of six days, 15 hours and 13 minutes. His time was seven hours and 39 minutes faster than the record established a month ago by Erwin G. (Cannon Ball) Baker of Los Angeles, who covered the distance of 3,296 miles in six days, 22 hours and 52 minutes.

This was Bennett's second attempt to lower the transcontinental record. Baker's feat was accomplished on his 60th cross-country dash.

Bennett, who also holds the world's 24-hour and 1,000 mile records, left Los Angeles last Tuesday at midnight and crossed the finish line at 6:14 p. m. today according to an official announcement by motorcycle officials.

CORVALLIS TEAM PLAYS FRIDAY

Two High School Rivals for State Championship Are Arousing Interest

Salem high school is to play the Corvallis high school football team Saturday afternoon on the home grounds. The Corvallis bunch is represented to be a collection of individual stars, heavy and fast and experienced, and playing together like a well-oiled machine. They look like the only really serious obstacle to the Salem boys' straight and uninterrupted march to the state championship.

It is not to say, however, that Salem concedes the fame. That couldn't be true, with such a team as the one that plays under the Salem colors this year. The Salem boys did not start the season with a perfect team play, but they have improved wonderfully, and the number of real stars in the team makes spectacular individual plays possible or even probable any minute. If the visitors, man for man, can even match the home players, let alone beat them, they have a mighty good team.

The Corvallis team has the redoubtable "Spec" Keene as mentor, after a spectacular career as player in O.A.C. and Salem has Hollis Huntington, equally famous on the Oregon state university team.

Automobile Thief Gets Jolt in Federal Prison

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 31.—Ed Kidney, recently found guilty of stealing an automobile in Spokane and who is now serving a sentence of from 5 to 20 years in the state penitentiary, today appeared before Judge Frank H. Rudkin in federal court to answer to a charge of transferring the stolen property from Spokane to Pendleton, a violation of the federal law.

Kidney was given three years at the state penitentiary for the offense, the sentence to run concurrently with the term he is now serving for burglary.

SCHOOL BILL AGAIN RAPPED

Editor of Liberty Magazine Presents Argument Against Measure

W. F. Marin, associate editor of Liberty Magazine spoke here Sunday night on the so-called compulsory education bill.

"The bill is deceptive from its title all through to the end," said the speaker. "Oregon already has a compulsory education bill. This measure if enacted into law is not so much calculated to tell parents that they shall send their children to school, as it is intended to dictate where they shall send them. It usurps the prerogatives of the parents and makes the child a ward of the state."

Right Held Sacred
"The bill purports automatically to close all private and church schools and makes no provision for operating church or parochial schools, whatsoever. More than this, its passage would prohibit a parent living in Oregon from sending his child to a private school outside the state. Many parents deem it a sacred right not only to practice their religion themselves, but as well to teach it to their children. It was this as much as any other one thing that brought the pilgrims to the new world. They left home, braved the icy seas and the frigid cold of the eastern coast that they might enjoy freedom of religion for themselves and posterity. The very philosophy of Americanism is that government should have nothing to do with the control of religious belief. Civil liberty needs the support of religious liberty and cannot endure without it."

Belief Individual Right
"Men may differ regarding religious belief but the one is entitled to his ideas the same as the other. A man's citizenship is not to be tested by his ideas of religion but rather by his relation to his fellow men. All private and church schools should be required to meet the educational standards of the state but to close these schools arbitrarily and say to the parents and guardians, you shall not send your children to the school of your choice, in the state or out, is rank tyranny and is to trample upon the most sacred rights of the conscience."

"In heathen Sparta, the child was considered a ward of the state. Sacred rights of parenthood were not regarded. That was the doctrine of a heathen nation. It is hard to conceive that Oregon will place itself in such a class."

Prussian History Cited
"Prior to the World war, Prussia had a law compelling all children to attend the state schools. Now, Prussia is a democracy, it welcomes private and church schools. This bill, if made into a law would Prussianize Oregon."

"But our government in the world today has such a measure among its laws. That government is bolshevistic Russia. Even Emma Goldman the high priestess of anarchy, doesn't want to live there. If Oregon enacts this 'compulsory education bill,' it will take its place alongside of

Postmaster at Wilhoit Is Accused of Maliciously Delaying Mails

S. W. McLaren, postmaster at Wilhoit, Marion county, was indicted by the federal grand jury last week on a charge of maliciously and deliberately delaying the mails. He was arrested by the federal authorities and taken to Portland following the return of the indictment.

Mr. McLaren and his brother own the springs under the name of the Wilhoit Water company. They leased the springs to the Wilhoit Mineral Springs company, incorporated. Trouble between the parties brought the matter finally into the courts where it still is unsettled.

Because of the personal trouble, S. W. McLaren, as postmaster, is alleged to have taken out his ill feeling on the Wilhoit Mineral Springs Company Inc. by refusing to send the company its mail, with the exception of bills, and to have returned postoffice orders to the senders with the notation that no such firm existed.

Dodge Engine Turned Over to Vocational Classes

The federal government, through the state board of vocational education, has turned over to the Salem School of Automotive Engineering, two Dodge en-

Russia and the two will stand together in an effort to crush out freedom from worship, trampling upon the rights of conscience and invading the sanctity of the home. In its workings, the proposed law would produce a union of church and state. That would destroy religious freedom.

Civil Freedom Would Go
"When religious freedom is taken away, civil freedom goes with it. One cannot exist without the other. Ancient Rome, a heathen government, dominated the religion of its subjects. As a result tens of thousands of its best citizens were martyred. If such a regime is featured in Oregon, many of the state's best citizens will leave its borders. We cannot think the voters of Oregon will on November 7, pull down the flag of freedom and down the flag of freedom and peace."

Good Wrestling Team Promised by Chemawa
Chemawa Indians are to go into the wrestling game in dead earnest this winter, expecting to make it hot for any school that wants the calm to fight for the championship.

Ellis White, for two years the champion heavyweight and wrestling coach for Chemawa, and the boys are to have regular work to get ready for the winter indoor season. Last winter, they held Oregon City to better than a draw and won a decided victory over Salem high. The Indians have not had much skilled coaching heretofore, but they have strength and courage that make them formidable.

Heavyweight from Frisco Knocks Out Joe Vidas
NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Floyd Johnson, San Francisco heavyweight, tonight knocked out Joe Vidas of Philadelphia in the second round of a 10-round match. Johnson outclassed his opponent from the start and landed the finishing blow after a minute and 30 seconds of the second round had elapsed.

Both men entered the ring weighing 195 pounds.
