David Wark Griffith's wonder picture, "Orphans of the Storm."

In talking over "The Right That Failed," now showing at the Liberty theater, Bert Lytell and Bayard Veillet were discussing the character of the hero, a prize fighter, who has the biceps of his brain well developed, but also capable of administering a wallop.

"You see," said Mr. Veillet, "the boy is bright—a fighter and all that; but a chap with brains—with something in his cerebellum."

Lytell interrupted with a nod. "I see—sort of cerebellous, you mean."

Another special screen production is announced for the Liberty theater Sunday when "Concetti" will begin an engagement. "Concetti" is heralded as another all-star production from the Selznick studios and if it measures up to the least bit favorably with its predecessor, "A Man's Home," local photoplay fans are assured another splendid evening's entertainment.

Jackie Coogan brought joy into the hearts of several dozen prisoners in a county jail during the production of his latest First National picture, "Trouble," now showing at the Oregon theater. One of the episodes of the picture called for the exterior of a jail.

While Jackie was enacting his scenes before the camera, the inmates of the jail pressed their heads close against the iron bars—all eager to catch a glimpse of the little chap. They all knew him and when he had finished, called out to him.

The best professional dancers in Los Angeles were engaged for the production of "The Eternal Flame," which goes to the screen at the Oregon theater this week as "The Eternal Flame."

The ballroom scenes in the Palace of Versailles called for a large number of dancers trained to the graceful measures of the French gavotte and old-fashioned waltz, and it was necessary that they be the best talent the city afforded.

Elwood Benton and Mae Clarke, known as the "Fashion Plate Pair," are a duo of former musical comedy artists who have succeeded beyond the least shadow of doubt in convincing patrons of vaudeville that they are entertainers of ability, class, and versatility. They are at the Bligh theater today and tomorrow.

Billy Eagle, a comely girl with a beaming smile, always on tap, to which can be added a most pleasing personality, offers a classy singing and dancing specialty, "The Girl With the Quick"

Feet." Her classical and eccentric dancing is clever, neat and attractive and full of life and youthful vigor and is presented in a most charmingly graceful manner at the Bligh today and tomorrow.

Ann Little, charming heroine of many Paramount films in support of Wallace Reid, is again his leading woman in "The Man From Funeral Range" his offering, which will be shown at the Bligh theater today and tomorrow. Besides Miss Little some particularly well known players appear in the cast, including Tully Marshall, Lottie Pickford and George McDaniel, Willis Marks, and Phil Ainsworth.

In no other serial production have the players been so constantly called upon to perform such hazardous and arduous feats as they are in the Universal scientific serial, "The Radio King," starring Roy Stewart, the fourth chapter of which is now showing at the Bligh theater. Sixteen year old Ernest Butterworth, Jr., who plays an important role, narrowly escaped death when he missed his footing on the lanyard of an old fishing sloop and plunged to the water many feet below.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast; continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

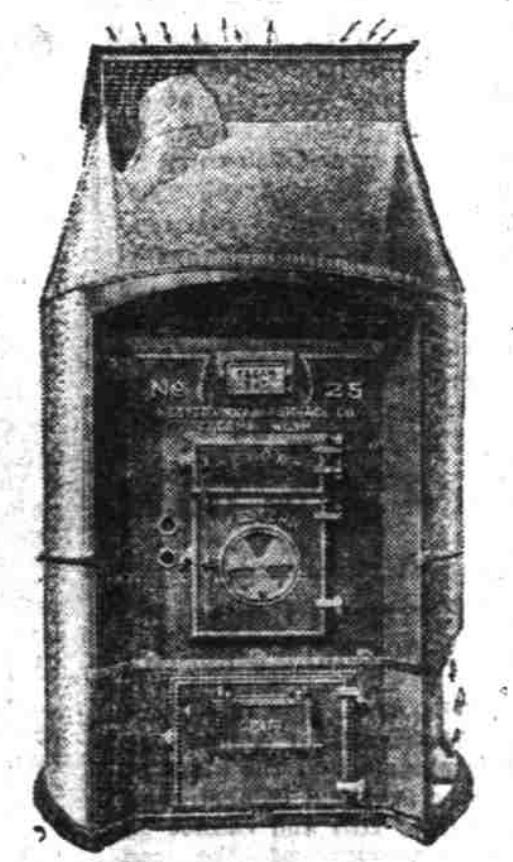

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia water drink, which often quickly relieves bladder irritation.—Adv.
