dancing number which they call "The Dancing Demons." They are both good singers and can dance to beat the band. With these attributes, is it any wonder why the above prophecy should not be made? This act is snappy, up-to-the-minute and is done with perfect diction and is redolent with a vigor that is not only youthful but harmonious. Watch their feet at the Bligh theatre today and tomorrow.

Wife Wants Divorce from Hubby Who Won't Stay Put

In a divorce charge filed in the circuit court yesterday, Marie Cook, wife of Ira Cook, claims that her husband is much given to romping about the country without letting her know for days at a time where he is, that he keeps company with other women, conducts a copious correspondence with one of the gentler sex in Portland, and generally has treated her in a cruel and inhuman manner.

The Cooks were married January 20, 1915, and have one child, Mary Cook, who is 3 years old. The divorce plea asks for custody of the child and a reasonable amount for its support.

Successful Stock Sale Is Put on in Portland

E. A. Rhoten, field editor of The Pacific Homestead, who is in Portland this week looking after a big Jersey sale held during the Pacific International Livestock show, reports a remarkably successful sale Wednesday. A total of 35 animals were disposed of at an average price barely under $300 each. The top price was received for a 2-year-old cow, Ethel Bates's Sunshine, owned by C. E. Bates of Salem, first in her class in the Pacific International and second in the Oregon state fair, the price being $805. Another Bates heifer brought $510 and one telegraphic bid came from Wisconsin for a baby heifer calf for $500 cash. A number of the animals were purchased to be shipped to British Columbia, where the dairymen are going heavily into the blooded stock business and buying much of their foundation stock in Oregon.

Rapid Progress is Made on Bonesteel Building

The cement floor has been laid on the second-story of the new Bonesteel garage on South Commercial street, and will be dry ready for service within the next few days. The ramp or driveway running up to this floor from the street is laid and now ready for use. The cement for the main floor will be laid within a few days. The cement is set on top of the four-inch vertically laminated floor.

The building is to be completed ready to move into before the first of the year, possibly by the middle of December, about five weeks from now. The street floor will contain the parts room, the front display and sales room, the driveway and gas station with two pumps, one in under cover and the other out at the street line. The basement floor is for storage of cars, as is the repair and general work room. With concrete floors, concrete walls, and the most approved style of masonry factory construction for the framing throughout, the building will be a first class auto palace.

Not satisfied with her fluent Spanish, Bebe Daniels wants to brush up on her conversational French.

Fortunately, she was associated in Penrhyn Stanlaw's production of "Pink Gods" with Anna Q. Nilsson, who speaks French fluently. Bebe wrote the French phrases "the way they sounded to her" and practiced between lessons. When Anna was teaching her to say "Je t'adore, etc.," Bebe wrote down: "Shut a door." "Pink Gods," which comes to the Oregon theatre today, is a Paramount feature in which Miss Daniels and James Kirkwood are featured.

A tiny emotional actress, with big blue eyes, is enacting an important role in all-star production, "Heart's Haven," adapted from the Glara Louise Burnham novel at the Liberty theatre Sunday.

Mary Jane Irving is the little star's name, and she first saw the Klieg lights when she was eleven months old. Since then she has played important roles with every famous star of film-dom. Mary Jane is now six years old, credited with five years and one month's experience before the camera.

A band of real Indians appears in "Wagon Tracks," the William S. Hart Artcraft picture which is on view at the Bligh theatre today and tomorrow. They attack a wagon train in the most thrilling manner but are only restrained from butchering the emigrants as a result of the bravery of one man and the forced sacrifice of a coward. The picture is well worth seeing.

BENT SAFETY PIN IS INSIGNIA OF SOCIETY

Instructed to dust and polish up the trophies at this meeting. The membership list of the new society, the A. P. O. for the suppression of the pants made famous by a certain movie hero, is not available and it was said by many that owing to the fact that there was a disagreement among the members as to the particular bend of the safety pin, many were wearing the insignia who really are not entitled to do so.

Those in close touch with the situation said that the only trouble with these unqualified wearers of the crooked pin is that they had failed to pay the dues of the society. The dues are understood to be used for safety pins and other sundries. It was not announced whether any money would be expended by the officers to provide barrels for the victims of the society's wrath to go home in. J. C. Nelson, principal of Salem high school could not be located last night and so his opinion of the action of the students is not known.

Re-Check Makes Change
A net gain of 707 votes made by Poindexter on re-check of King county returns was due to failure of election boards in the city of Seattle to return straight tickets that had been voted on machines. The re-check showed that 1428 of these had been cast for Poindexter and 721 for Dill. Precincts outside the city were not checked, as machines were not used there, and no considerable errors were thought likely.

made at the time of Jenkins' arrest, were said to show the number of the gun—184546—as being the same as that on the weapon found in Mrs. Carleton's hand after the recent tragedy.
Shockey was said to have corroborated Sunday's statement, while Edward Thomas and F. Stacey, other reputed eye-witnesses of the pool room affray, told authorities the gun found in Mrs. Carleton's hand was "similar" to the one taken from Jenkins.

MARION COUNTY'S EXHIBITORS SCORE

Thirty-two Prizes Taken and Honors Won at Livestock Exposition

Marion County boys and girls distinguished themselves at the Pacific International Livestock exposition in Portland this week, both in the judging contests and stock displays, according to William Baillie, county school supervisor, who returned from Portland yesterday.

The pigs and calves exhibit netted the Marion county exhibitors eight first prizes, seven second prizes, six third prizes, six fourth prizes, three fifth, one sixth and one seventh while the judging team which was composed of Miss Beesie Bloom, Cleo Cross and Orval Lowe captured sixth place out of 23 teams from various points in the northwest.

Miss Bloom with a total of 701 points made an exceptionally high record. In the examination calling for the reasons for her decisions she scored 96 out of a possible 100. The highest score in this contest was made by a boy who scored a record of 98 points.

Those who exhibited stock at the exposition were:
Howard Lowe, Russell Lichty, Jordis Kloster, Viola Faw, Emilie Bloom Orval Lowe, Eldon Fox James Walsh and Arthur Brenden, of Silverton; Lester Barrows and Fred Barrows, of Shaw, and Homer Bray of Salem. County School Supervisor Baillie who accompanied the team to

Portland was well pleased with the showing made, as this is the first time that Marion county has actively participated in the Portland exposition. The Marion county exhibition was sponsored by the Coolidge & McClaine bank of Silverton.

Big Realtors Gathering At Marion Hotel Tonight

What looks like the biggest event in the history of the Marion County Realtors' association is to be staged at the Marion tonight when Portland realtors are to be entertained, also two or three guests from the Northwest Realtors' association and a number of friends from Marion and Polk counties. Talks will be heard on real estate, on farm and other property conditions, by visiting guests, and the realtors are opening the doors of their dinner to any interested Salemites who care to attend. A phone message to Mrs. Gertrude J. M. Page, the chairman of the social committee, during the day, will secure a plate at the banquet.

The realtors held no luncheon Thursday, their regular day, deferring the meeting until tonight, when it is to be held with a much larger attendance. At least 60 members and guests will be in attendance.

NOVEMBER 20 DATE OF SPECIAL SESSION

The merchant marine bill. The president agreed to postponement of action on this measure at the last session upon assurances of party leaders that it would be taken up without delay when reconvened.
Leaders hope to have four or five appropriation bills ready for the house by December 4 when the regular session will begin.
Other Measures Stated
The senate has several important measures left over from the last session, including the Dyer anti-lynching bill which has been passed by the house, and it is probable that President Harding will make some definite recommendation at the outset of the session as to changes in the transportation act.

The senate also will receive a number of nominations soon after it convenes, including the name of the successor to Associate Justice Day of the supreme court, appointments at the last session and many others.

A good literary program is to be offered also, though this is not yet ready for announcement. The fine reception given by the people of Salem Heights, when they entertained the federation some time ago, has stirred the people of Liberty to see if adding another mile to the length of the road from Salem doesn't give them an even better chance to make a record. A big crowd is expected from all over the county.

Princess Hermine is to be known as "Queen Wilhelmina of Prussia," having married the ex-kaiser. What the children who have opposed the wedding will call her is another thing.
