HUSKIES TO FIGHT BEARS

Dope Indicates That California Will Win From Washington Eleven

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—A fighting compact pack of Washington huskies will leap at the throat of the California Bear in Seattle tomorrow in a football game which practically will decide the championship of the Pacific coast conference.

Bagshaw Not Hopeful

Not even rabid California fans predict the score will approach the 72-3 by which the Bears beat Washington last year, however, one reason being the fact that the Bears seldom run up big tallies when away from home. The northerners, improving with each game have won three conference games and on their home grounds, may give the invaders stiff opposition. Enoch Bagshaw, coach of the Huskies said that although his team may have to postpone until 1923 the victory it so wants to register over California, it will fight clear and hard.

Varnell Dampens Hopes

Washington derived no cheer from a statement made this week by George Varnell, Spokane sporting writer and football official that California's 1922 team is the best football eleven he has ever seen and is fully 20 per cent better than the famous Bear "wonder eleven" of 1920.

Another coast conference game tomorrow will be in Eugene between Oregon and Washington State. If the Oregonians win they will remain decidedly in the coast race, with two victories and no defeats on their record, and, it is believed, will be candidates for the honor of meeting Penn State at Pasadena. Comparative scores favor the visitors as they won 18 to 9 from Idaho, a team Oregon defeated 3 to 0.

U. S. C. Meets Stanford

University of Southern California team with its powerful backfield, is up from Los Angeles to smash the strong Stanford line and to keep clear its records of never having lost to the Cardinals since the Rugby days.

There will be a great array of former college football stars on the field when the Olympic club of San Francisco and the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club of Portland meet in the Pasadena bowl tomorrow. The Northerners are relying on Bill Steers, former Oregon star who has recovered somewhat from injuries to his foot received when he booted an 80-yard punt several weeks ago.

Outside the conference, Nevada plays Whitman at Reno, Idaho meets Utah at Boise and Santa Clara on Sunday plays the Marines.

Adjutant Loughridge To Assist At McMinnville

Dr. Albert Loughridge, adjutant of Sadwick post, G. A. R., will be missing from the local lineup of patriots today. A number of weeks ago he was asked to conduct the Grand Army portion of the Armistice day celebration at McMinnville, and he will be there for the day, instead of with his comrades in Salem. One of the fine things at McMinnville today is the dedication of the new community hall, where all the patriotic organizations will have a part, and also a permanent home.

OREGON AGOG OVER GAME

Two Big, Fast Football Teams Strain at Leash at Eugene Today

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 10.—Special to the Statesman)—Two squads of big, fast, well-trained football men are straining at the leash in Eugene today, ready and anxious to tear at each other on the gridiron tomorrow, when Oregon and Washington state clash in a contest which will be the chief feature of the annual homecoming festivities of the university.

The Oregon team, at top-notch strength, after a two weeks' siege of training uninterrupted by a game, and with a line and backfield bristling with lettermen, is going to be a hard aggregation to beat. On the other hand the Washington team is recognized as one of the strongest in the northwest and will lineup tomorrow prepared to stage a come-back after their drubbing at Berkeley last Saturday.

Come-back Possible

Those Washington men are the ones who can stage such a come-back, history shows, as evidenced by their 49 to 0 by the Bruins, they defeated O. A. C. and Nebraska by comfortable scores in successive games.

The Oregon men ceased training last night and were pronounced in final shape for the contest by Coach Huntington. All of the varsity squad are in trim for a battle royal except Ward Johnson, halfback, and Hunk Latham, fullback, who are suffering from strained legs. Latham will probably start the game but will not do the kicking, and Johnson will be on hand if needed.

Lineup is Strong

Oregon's probable lineup will be: Red Brown and Bill Spears, ends; "Cogs" Campbell and Carl Vonder Abe, tackles; Captain "Tiny" Shields and Floyd Shields, guards; "Prink" Callison, center; Backfield: George King and "Dutch" Gram, halfbacks; Hal Chapman, quarter and "Hunk" Latham, fullback. These men will form the strongest team Oregon has supported for several seasons.

The Washington State Squad Arrived in Eugene Friday

The players are in fine fettle and are a husky crew of athletes. The two teams will be evenly matched in weight with Washington State having the edge in the backfield. The invaders are expected to show superior punting, as both Captain Dunton and halfback Zaeplet have shown themselves to be two of the best kickers on the coast. Latham, Oregon's ace, will not be able to kick because of a stiff leg. Gram and Chapman will replace him in this department.

Big Crowd Prospected

The roads and highways from all corners of the state will lead to Eugene this week-end, and the stands and bleachers of Hayward field will be packed with a host of enthusiastic supporters of the lemon-yellow.

The Stage is Set for the Annual Homecoming Events which Open Friday evening with a gigantic parade and bonfire rally. More than 1000 graduates and former students are expected to return for the occasion, together with hundreds of graduates of institutions of other states who will be guests of the university. If the weather is favorable a crowd of more than 12,000 is expected at the game Saturday afternoon.

UNBEATEN TEAMS PLAYING TODAY

Chicago, Wisconsin and Iowa Scheduled Today, While Michigan is Idle

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Three undefeated survivors of the western conference championship race—Chicago, Wisconsin and Iowa—will swing into action tomorrow in games that will result in further elimination in the scramble for the title.

Michigan, the fourth-undefeated contender, will be idle.

Chief interest will center in the hostilities at Columbus, where Chicago will mingle with the twice defeated Ohio State eleven and the Iowa-Minnesota clash at Iowa City. Wisconsin will meet Illinois, twice vanquished team at Madison. Northwestern and Purdue, each nursing two defeats, will collide at Evanston, while Indiana will venture from the "big ten" ranks for a home-coming game with West Virginia at Bloomington.

Judging from advance indications tonight, capacity crowds will witness the major games tomorrow and thousands will be turned away.

The Chicago-Ohio State game probably will attract 60,000 to the new Ohio stadium, while 20,000 will be squeezed into Randall field at Madison.

Work is Resumed on St. Paul Oil Prospect

Work has been resumed in drilling at the oil prospect well at St. Paul. The company, which does business under the name of the Willamette Valley Oil & Gas company, is starting in to make the final lap to where the geologists who have studied the Willamette valley strata, assure them they must strike the oil sands.

The company has been given state authority to sell stock to finance the drilling, and a campaign for such sales is now being carried on. The stock that was issued for the purchase of the drilling rig, the pipe, and all the other real and personal property of the company, is held in escrow so that it cannot be sold until oil is found in commercial quantities, so there is none, but the company treasury stock for sale. Under the regulations of the state all the stock sales have to turn at least 50 per cent of all receipts into the actual operation of the drill, having only a 20 per cent margin for all expenses of selling the stock and other overhead.

SHIFTS ARE MADE IN SALEM LINE-UP

Adolph and Lynn Jones Will Play End in Game With Hill Academy Today

A number of shifts have been made in the lineup of the Salem high school football team for the game today with Hill Military academy. Some of the heaviest, hardest hitters have been put out on the end of the line—Adolph and Lynn Jones, almost the heaviest men on the team. Ringle, efficient end, was laid up in the Corvallis game, and is still unable to play. He and Reinhart have been replaced by men with fully 20 pounds more in weight.

Reinhart will be held for substitution in the backfield where he has played all positions acceptably.

The lineup will be: Adolph, e. e.; Moorman, r. t.; Hamilton, e. g.; Harris, c.; Coffey, l. g.; Ausman, l. t.; Jones, l. e.; Brown, q.; Post, Lilligren, h; Patterson, l. b.

The game starts at 2:30.

Princeton and Harvard Likely to Play Close

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 10.—The football elevens of Princeton and Harvard, each undefeated in this year's play, will meet in the stadium tomorrow. The 52,000 spectators have in prospect a game likely to be close and to develop individual exploits for which the Crimson-Tiger rivalry is famous. The contest will be the first of the three that will count toward the championship of the "big three."

The teams finished their preparatory work today on the same field and found it firm despite recent rains.

Big Eastern Elevens Slated to Clash Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The first of the "big three" football classics—the Harvard-Princeton clash at Cambridge—overshadows all other games on eastern grids tomorrow. Both elevens appear to be evenly matched and the outcome probably will depend upon the breaks of the play and the individual efforts of one or more players.

Other important contests between apparently evenly matched elevens will be army and Notre Dame, Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania and Bucknell and Lehigh.

Contests in which this approximate equal strength does not appear to exist will include Cornell vs Dartmouth; Maryland vs Yale; McGill vs Syracuse; Navy vs St. Xavier and Lafayette vs Rutgers. On general form no upsets are anticipated.

VOLCANO ACTIVE IN HAWAII AGAIN

Lava Said to be Rising at Rate of Five Feet Each Day on Island

HILO, Island of Hawaii, T. H., Oct. 12.—The great volcano of Kilauea, on this island, which has been dormant temporarily following a sensational explosive eruption in March, 1921, has resumed activity, according to T. A. Jaggar, government volcanologist whose observatory is at the brink of the volcano's abyss.

Starting with the formation of a glowing cone 600 feet down within the walls of the crater, a stream of molten lava has been pouring steadily into the depths below, while a more recent flow has occurred in the form of an uprush of gaseous lava, which violently agitated the lake formed by the upper cascade.

Within ten days the lava arose boxing.

FIVE VICTIMS OF POISONING

Woman Believed by Authorities to be Murderer of Husband-Relative

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—The bodies of two men and a woman believed by the authorities to have been the victims of poison, were exhumed for examination by the police and Coroner Peter Hoffman today on a criminal court order after chemists declared poison enough to kill several persons had been found in two other bodies already exhumed.

Woman Believed Friend

Three of the five bodies have been exhumed are those of former husbands of Mrs. Tillie Klimek, whose fourth husband, Joseph Klimek, is in a hospital recovering from poison which he says was administered by his wife. One body was that of a former husband of Mrs. Nellie Sturmer Kulik, said to be a neighbor and a relative of Mrs. Klimek, while the body of the woman is that of Mrs. Rose Chudzhinski, a cousin of Mrs. Klimek.

Charges of the murder were placed against Mrs. Klimek and Mrs. Kulik today by the police.

KUSER ADDRESSES MEMBERS OF CLUB

Chester Lyons of Bandon to be Next Speaker Before Organization

Chester Lyons of Bandon, manager of the famous "Boy Farm," is to be the guest and special speaker at the Lions' club luncheon next Friday. He follows Superintendent W. L. Kuser, of the boys' training school, who spoke yesterday.

Superintendent Kuser's talk Friday was mostly on the line of giving the boys better attention while they are still in the plastic age and amenable to better influences. He denies that this age is as "different" as some people try to believe. There has always been a boy problem, just as it is today.

"If we could actually grasp the boy problem as it is, and make it as effective for the boys as we can see it looking backward, we could advance the human race three generations within the span of one generation," was one of his thoughts. He urged that the idea of service should be taught, rather than that of merely making money. A recent round table talk of his own boys, brought out the thought that a man might earn $10,000, or even $100,000, but never $1,000,000; that while a few men like Roosevelt would come nearest earning a million, they hadn't the time to collect it, and those who would come the nearest to collecting it, didn't have the time or service ability to earn it.

Joseph Nee, Willamette university student, sang two Harry Lauder songs. They brought forth tremendous applause.

SIKI ENCOUNTERS MORE HARD LUCK

New York Commission Puts Ban On Bouts Until Cleared of Charges

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Battling Siki, under ban by the French boxing commission and excluded from the ring in mixed bouts in the United Kingdom, encountered another obstacle to his pugilistic aspirations tonight when William Muldoon, chairman of the New York State Athletic commission, announced that the Senegalese would not be permitted to engage in contests in this state until he had been cleared of charges brought against him by all organizations.

The French boxing federation, in addition to suspending the boxer for nine months took away his title of light heavyweight champion of France.

It is reported that the National Boxing association of America, which includes all the states in which boxing is permitted, with the exception of New York and Massachusetts, will be asked to uphold the ruling of the British government and the French federation.

Followers of boxing consider the sentence one of the most severe imposed in the history of

JAPAN TAKING NO CHANCES ON LOSING BEER AND WINE

TOKIO, Oct. 24.—To the casual observer there would not appear to be any chance of Japan following the United States and going "dry", but the distillers of sake and brewers of beer, the latter now almost as much a national drink as the former, are taking no chances. A nation-wide campaign has been inaugurated in which speakers from the colleges and universities dilute on the beneficial qualities of sake and beer. Dr. Suzuki, a well known chemist is delivering a series of lectures among the titles of which are: "Evils of Hypocritical Propaganda," "Sake after my Impressions of America" and "Prohibition and Japan."

ARMISTICE DAY

OPEN UNTIL 9 P. M.
In The Evening

Mickey Walker of Elizabeth, N. J., became the welterweight champion of the world at Madison Square Garden, New York city. Walker, the lad with the terror, face and retreating nose, battered Jack Britton, the hero of more than 500 fights, to a standstill for fifteen rounds. There was nothing shady in the passing of the veteran, Jack Britton, who took his punishment gallantly, wearing that bored and sad look he used to wear, winning or losing. It was evident from the first of the fight that Britton was not the Britton of a few years ago, and his age descended on him suddenly in the ring and he faced a dual tragedy, the loss of his title and realization that he was an old man. Photo shows Britton down in the twelfth round for the count of nine from a series of right and left hand blows to the body.
