

MANY SALEM PEOPLE MUST HAVE HELP DURING WINTER

With the cessation of most fruit labor, both in the orchards and in the canneries, there is a tremendous falling off in the Salem pay roll.

The fruit industry employed close to 2,000 people in the factories alone, during the height of the season. There is work for only a small portion of these workers now, and a little later there will be work for none at all.

The Associated Charities has prepared a budget that it is believed will fairly well carry them through the season for at least the most urgent needs. It is necessary to have $3000 for the work. The city has given the use of a room at the city hall for storage and dispensary for goods and help. This makes the work easier, but it does not provide for the supplies that out-of-luck people must have.

It has been a good year, for most people in Salem. There were 1200 names on the federal income tax roll, for those with net incomes of more than $2000, with exemptions. That's a lot of money. There are many others who still have enough to keep their less fortunate neighbors from hunger and cold.

The Associated Charities asks that every good fellow open up his heart and help. Money is needed, now, for there is actual suffering already, that cannot help itself. Fill out this coupon and send it in:

To the Associated Charities, Salem. I will pay to The Associated Charities, for the winter season of 1922-23, the sum of $..... payable as follows: Cash on demand $..... Per month $..... Signed..... Date..... Address.....

school needs and bring in a definite plan for action at the next meeting.

A nominating committee to care for the coming club election was named, consisting of H. V. Compton, chairman, and W. I. Staley and W. B. Minear.

Only Brief Shut-down Planned This Winter

SILVERTON, Ore., Nov. 10.—(Special to The Statesman)—Camp 7 of the Silver Falls Timber company shut down Tuesday of this week. Camp 6 will operate until snow drives the loggers out. At the present time about 60 logs a day are brought in.

The Silver Falls Timber company mill is not planning on a lengthy shut-down this winter. The usual holiday shut-down will occur around the latter part of December and it is expected the mill will again open both shifts about January 15. During this period the necessary repairs will be made throughout the mill.

During the summer and the autumn the company has built a branchline into the timber below the snow line which the manager says it is expected that the company will begin logging on about January 1. This with the amount of logs on hand will care for the winter run.

OBITUARY

Mila W. Trueblood, daughter of Isaac N. and Lucy A. Woodard was born at Coloma, Parke County, Indiana, July 26, 1870, and died at Lindsay, California, November 3, 1922, reaching the age of 52 years, 3 months, 8 days. She had a birthright membership in the Friends church and the advantages in her childhood of a Christian home and the atmosphere of a community characterized by the serenity and peaceful spirit of the Friends. Under such environment she became a Christian in early life and remained with unshaken faith until her death. Her education was what the country schools gave a half a century ago.

In 1896 she came to California and on September 14, was united in marriage to Edward E. Trueblood in Sacramento. They lived eight years at Elk Grove. There being no Friends church at that place they transferred their membership to the Methodist Episcopal church where their membership still remains. They spent several years in Salem, Ore., and two years ago they came to Lindsay.

Her neighbors will testify to her kindness, generosity and Christian spirit in her every day life. She gave herself to her family with untiring devotion. For some time she had the care of her invalid mother added to her household duties and her health became shattered by the double service. For over two years she has tried bravely to bear her duties under broken health until death released her from bodily ills.

She leaves a husband and three sons: James W. Adolphus L. and Vernon L., all of whom are present. Also two brothers, George Woodard of Long Beach, Calif., and H. D. Woodard of Salem.

Ambassador Harvey has created a panic among the women by his recent address in London in which he said that women had no souls. The sex should not take Col Harvey seriously—nobody else does. They even laughed at his knickerbockers worn at the wedding of Princess Mary.

DEFICIENCIES ARE MET AT MEETING

Oregon Emergency Board Provides $20,724 In Additional Funds

The state emergency board at a session yesterday approved a total of $20,724.16 in deficiency allowances. They were:

For support of homeless, neglected and abused children, foundlings and indigent orphans, $14,874.16.

Additional allowance for construction of a new dormitory at the industrial school for girls to replace building destroyed by fire several weeks ago, $5,000.

For bailiff and stenographic hire in the supreme court, $850.

The legislative appropriation for needy children in the state-aided charitable institutions is based on a legal provision of so much per capita, and the appropriation of $150,000 allowed by the legislature of 1921 has been exhausted.

For construction of the building at the girls' school the emergency board already had allowed at a previous meeting $32000 but because of the rising cost of materials this was not enough, necessitating the additional $5,000 today.

In the supreme court it was found that there would not be enough of the legislative appropriation to pay the salaries of stenographers and bailiffs in December for the reason that one stenographer was added about a year ago.

Whenever the government changes the designs of postage stamps, it cleans up a big profit from the stamp collectors. Recently these collectors purchased 12,587 of the new motorcycle stamps in one week. This was a clear profit of $1258.10 to the government outside of the bare cost of paper and printing.
