The women of the W. R. C. will sponsor a silver tea this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Arthur T. King on Capitol street. Assistant hostesses will be Mrs. Dr. Everhardt, Mrs. Robert Henderson, Mrs. W. M. Short, Mrs. Nora Robertson, Mrs. Nora Royal, Mrs. W. J. Hagerdorn, Mrs. M. Lickel and Mrs. J. Crossan.

The women of the Hal Hibbard Auxiliary of the Spanish War Veterans will be at home at a tea this afternoon for the wives of Spanish War veterans. The affair will be held in the armory.

Mrs. W. C. Kantner is spending several days in Seattle as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas.

Mrs. John Carlson is going to Portland today and will return Friday.

The Salem men and women interested in the organization of a Salem Symphony Orchestra association will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms to consider organizing. All interested are invited to attend, according to the small committee sponsoring the meeting this evening.

The Salem Apollo club sang a delightfully entertaining program at the Salem Electric store last night which was broadcasted by the local station. This is the first time such a large group has sung for the radio near here. F. S. Barton sang for the radio audience earlier in the week.

The women of the Englewood district of the Jason Lee church met Tuesday with Mrs. John Barker, Jr., and organized the East Circle of the Jason Lee Aid society. The other group will be known now as the west circle.

A number of members of the vest circles were present for the organization meeting. Mrs. Albert Fuestman was chosen president, Mrs. J. Morgan, vice-president; Mrs. A. W. Rookstool, secretary, and Mrs. William Parbrick, treasurer. Mrs. Furbrick

SILVERTON, Ore., Nov. 14.—(Special to The Statesman)—The beautiful Hamre home on North Water street was the scene of a gay surprise party Monday evening when 76 friends met to extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Legard, who have just returned from their honeymoon. An amusing and pretty feature of the evening was the serenade which Trinity band gave the new-lyweds. Tom Corhouse also gave a few vocal solos. He was accompanied by Miss Esther Larson. Mr. and Mrs. Legard were the re-ipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Otto Legard, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Satern, Courtland Rue, Miss Clarice Steen, Tom Corhouse, Miss Marie Corhouse, Harold Larson, Alvin Madsen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Torvend, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Iverson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Larson, Miss Marie Tingstad, Mrs. J. Iverson, Mr. and Mrs. Jalmer Reiland, Mrs. A. O. Legard, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sather, Rev. and Mrs. George Henriksen, Mr. and Mrs. A. RUB RHEUMATISM PAIN FROM SORE, ACHING JOINTS

What is rheumatism? Pain only. St. Jacobs Oil will stop any pain, so quit drugging. Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil directly upon the tender spot and relief comes instantly. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless rheumatism and sciatica liniment, which never disappoints and can not burn the skin. Limber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle from your druggist, and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic and sciatic pain, soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer! Relief awaits you. Old, honest St. Jacobs Oil has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the past half century, and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings. —Adv.

CLUBS AND WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

The year book of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs for 1922-1923 is just off the press. The book contains 120 pages of reading matter and advertisements, including greetings from the president, Mrs. Ida B. Callahan, of Corvallis, also the message given by her at the annual convention at Tillamook. There is a directory of each of the six department and division chairmen and their sub-chairmen. One page is devoted to reminding the club women that the 1923 convention will be held in Medford, the remainder being: "When you mention Medford you think of pears, gateway to Crater Lake and the 1923 convention."

Several pages are devoted to the reports of the various officers and committees given at the Tillamook convention. The club roster at the end of the book shows there are 136 clubs in the federation.

ington Trueau will be given by Mrs. Viola Price Franklin. Mr. Trueau is known for his work for tuberculosis.

Miss Frances Richards, president of Salem branch of the American Association of University women recently received a letter from the committee on eligibility for local membership within the northwest district, saying that women who are graduates of Willamette, Oregon Agricultural College, Linfield and Pacific college are eligible to local membership. Former students of these colleges are eligible to associate membership if they have had two years of work there.

This falling admits to associate membership women who have attended any of these schools for at least two years, while before only graduates were admitted. The graduates of the Oregon Agricultural college were not admitted at all before because of the technical ruling of the national organization requiring a bachelor of arts degree, which is not conferred by O. A. C.

An invitation to all women eligible to membership to attend the Saturday meeting is being extended by the association.

Why I Use Advertising as My Buying Guide

In my capacity as housewife I am the general manager of a household. Upon me devolves the duty of making rather large purchases which leads into another duty—that of the economical expenditure of the household funds.

My husband reads very assiduously what he calls "trade papers." These papers pertain almost entirely to his business. He says he could not get along without them because they keep him posted on matters which come up in his business life every day.

In running my household I find that the newspapers and the magazines are my "trade papers." The advertisements tell me nearly everything I wish to know about the purchases I should make. Like my husband who spends hours upon hours engrossed in his trade magazines so that he may conduct his business more successfully, I study with care the advertisements in the newspapers and the magazines which I have found out enable me to conduct my business, which is my household, more economically and successfully.

In doing my neighborhood buying I think that I am able to choose the store that gives me the greatest value for my money... My choice is always the one where I am sure to get the advertised goods I ask for and where I am not told: "Here is something else just as good." I buy advertised goods because experience has taught me I save money thereby.

It has been my observation that the storekeeper who handles advertised articles sells more goods and it isn't hard for me to figure out that if the dealer wants to make only a fair profit he can sell me goods cheaper if he sells a great many goods than if he sells a smaller amount. Coincidentally, I have noticed that dealers who do handle articles which are advertised seem to grow and expand.

I have often wondered if it isn't because the goods which they see on their own shelves remind them constantly of the forward-looking work which is being done by the manufacturer of those goods, thus setting an example for greater industry.

I know that if I want to buy a barrel of flour or a very large sack of flour I can buy it cheaper than I can buy a ten or twenty-five pound sack. My storekeeper can do the same thing in buying his merchandise. I have heard my husband talk often enough on the question of small profits and rapid turnover to know that it isn't the dealer who makes the long profit that gets ahead but the one who makes the small profit and turns his capital over and over. But this is not the only benefit I get in buying from a storekeeper who sells his customers goods which are advertised. The goods I buy are fresher and newer and I feel that because many of them have been advertised for years they are more dependable.

For how could people continue to buy them if they were not? And how could the manufacturers continue to advertise them if they did not buy;
