Nearly Lost Hand.
J. H. Milson came near losing a hand Thursday at the automobile school on South Liberty. He was working with the starter of a car, and one of the boys from the deaf school was assisting him by running the machine. Milson called for the lad to stop—but he, not hearing, kept going, and Milson has a couple of bad fingers to remember it by. He says that it was a narrow escape for the whole hand.

Boys His Specialty.
Some lions eat boys, but here's one that doesn't. He is Chester Lyons, of the "Boy Farm," near Lebanon. In the past five years he has had 5000 boys in his care, for longer or shorter periods of time, and he says that only 12 of them have gone wrong since. During the winters he lives in Portland, and makes of himself a general community servant, janitor, pack horse, everything that the community needs and doesn't always know what it is or how to lift stories in the history of the northwest. Mr. Lyons is the special speaker for the Lions club.

that meets at the Marion for noon luncheon today. Miss Pauline Findley of Salem is to give some select readings as another part of the program, and Lion Harry Scott has two other features to present if the sign comes right.

Boy Lost.
A boy giving his name as Hays was cared for by the police last night. He stated that his father was working here and had asked him to leave the Adventist school, which he was attending at Gaston and come to Salem, promising that he would be met at the stage terminal. No parent was there to meet him, however. The police are endeavoring to locate him.

Judge's Leg Healing.
Judge George Bingham's game leg is recovering with astonishing rapidity, under the genial stimulus of the recent election returns that he is the high man of all the county or district ticket, except County Commissioner Smith whose figures had not yet been tallied. Judge Bingham received the flattering endorsement of 11,966 votes, where for many of the non-contested positions the voters passed them by. People who wouldn't use even a free lead pencil to vote for legislators or congressmen or supreme justice, cast a satisfied glance down on the Bingham name, and while they said with their lips "He's all right," they were proving it with their cross marks opposite his name. It was a fine endorsement enough to make any man's lam leg get well just to psychological show 'em that he was a powerful and consistent runner.

Symphony Club Considered.
The organization of an association to back the Salem symphony orchestra was considered at a meeting of men and women last night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. It was decided to leave pledge cards in four prominent places in town so that those interested may sign up for associate membership, without which backing the symphony orchestra will break up and give no more concerts. A few interested persons have pledged themselves to get a certain number of associates, and pledge cards will be left at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, the state library, and both Will's and Moore's music stores.

It is surprising that so many people neglect the most important organ with which nature has endowed them, the eyes.
Statistics show that 75 percent of city population has defective sight. This is a shocking condition and one that is so easily remedied by proper attention.

P. A. Watson, representing the Sun Oil company, gave a lecture on "Lubrication" before the classes of the Salem Automotive Trade school Wednesday evening at the Marion hotel. About 30 of the students and a few others attended to hear what is said to have been a remarkably capable exposition of the lubrication problem for autos. This is only one of a number of expert trades lectures that are to be given by factory representatives of the big car and accessories factories this winter.

MILLS CASE IS CAPITALIZED
Carpenter Erects Fence on Phillips Farm, Admission is Charged

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 16.—Morbid curiosity in the Hall-Mills murder case is being further capitalized.

Walter Masterson, a carpenter today began erecting a high fence around the Phillips farm, the scene of the murder, which in the last few weeks has proved a mecca for motorists from a score of states. He is having prepared a sign for the gate reading: "Admittance, 25 cents."

Masterson, it was learned, has leased the farm for $30 a month. It also became known today that a decrepit piano and a venerable horsehair settee which formed part of the Phillips home furnishings, had been sold to New York freak museum for $250.

Hucksters previously had taken bits of the crabapple tree under which the tragedy occurred, hawking the souvenirs in New York and Newark at 10 cents each.

NEW CORPORATIONS
Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by the Willamette Oaks of Portland, capitalized at $1000. The incorporators are Charles H. Sprenger, Fred W. Angell and N. W. Lawlor.

NOTED SOLDIER COMING SUNDAY

Commander of Famous Battalion of Death Fighting For Prohibition

Col. Dan Morgan Smith, major of the "Battalion of Death," first battalion, 358th Infantry, 90th division, A. E. F., will address a community meeting in the First Methodist church Sunday, November 19, at 3 p. m., on the experience of his men in taking Hill No. 350-4 Les Quatre Chemins, and Los Huit Chemins.

This is the battalion whose operations electrified America when cablegrams telling of its desperate fight with three German regiments were published by the leading papers of America.
Colonel Smith, who has been speaking to crowded houses all over the United States, was born in Virginia, reared in Florida, practiced law in Savannah, Ga., entered the Spanish American war, practiced law and served as assistant corporation counsel of the city of Chicago. When the World war enlisted money and men, he entered the A. E. F. as major, led his troops in the fiercest fighting, was wounded several times and was promoted to lieutenant of the field.

Requests have come for return rates from every state in which he has spoken. The press comment is unanimous in stating that Colonel Smith gives remarkably vivid pictures of life on the battle field and in the trenches. His tributes to the heroic work of his officers and men in battle are no less eloquent. Favorable comment has been made on his appeal for better Americanism, which is needed just at this time to arouse the people to the danger of lax law enforcement and social unrest.

Colonel Smith is touring the state under the auspices of the World's League Against Alcoholism. Admission will be free.

CORN SHOW PLAN WELL UNDER WAY

Premium List in Process of Compilation With Prize Announcements

Marion county is to have a corn show December 14 to 16 to be held in Salem and to be supported by the Salem Chamber of Commerce and the Marion County Federation of Community clubs.
Fairly definite arrangements have been made by the agricultural committee of the Salem organization. A premium list is now in process of compilation, that will be ready within a few days. The present plan is to hold the exhibit in the upstairs room on North Commercial street, now occupied by Ed. Chastain as a clothing store. He has secured a State street down-stairs location.

and is to move on Sunday, Dec. 10. If the room is not rented before the corn show is staged, this will be the corn show location.
It is hoped that William Taylor, for years the agriculturist and decorator in charge of the Marion county exhibit at the state fair, can be secured to take charge of the corn display.
It is suggested that anybody having fine fruits, vegetables or grains of any kind that can be kept until this corn show date, should keep the mand offer them to the committee for display. While the premium lists are not yet issued, to tell just what kinds of exhibits will be awarded money prizes, the general object of the show is to make as comprehensive and excellent a display as possible of all Marion county resources.

Bill Milligan Referee for Oregon-Aggie Game
SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 16.—William "Bill" Milligan, president of the athletic board of Gonzaga university, will referee the University of Oregon-Oregon Agricultural college football game at Corvallis Saturday. It was announced here today. Mr. Milligan will officiate at a high school game here Friday afternoon, leaving Friday night for the Aggie headquarters.

RED PEPPER HEAT ENDS RHEUMATISM

Red Pepper Rub takes the "ouch" from sore, stiff, aching joints. It cannot hurt you, and it certainly stops that old rheumatism torture at once.
When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.
Ask any good druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.—Adv.

NEW SOCIETY IS NOISELESS

High School Organization Has No Officers, Duas, Rules or Meetings

A new "society," of which everybody is a potential member, and everybody in turn is "IT," has been formed in the Salem high school.
It is The Shifters, with no especial reason for calling it that other than that it seems to be a pretty intangible name, and the society is certainly it. It has no dues, no meetings or meeting places, no officers, no constitution or rules—practically nothing but the name. Everybody can initiate everybody else, and demand a treat—anywhere from a nickel's worth for the low classmen in the school, up to two-bits' worth for the teachers. It promises to be the most joyous organization of the whole school history, and as an experiment in pure socialism, with nobody doing, nothin' for nobody and no officers and no obligations, it looks like the rubber-tired noiseless-skull.
Another organization of smaller membership and more conventional construction is the Girls' Athletic association, made up of all the girls in the gym classes. Miss Helen Dimmick is president; Ora Williams, vice president; Esther Lisle, secretary-treasurer; Bernice Johnson, yell leader; Maude Gynn, song leader; Emma Dell Schwabauer, reporter; Margaret Frohman, sergeant at arms; and two "pepper-shaker," or pep leaders, are yet to be named. They are looking for a lot of good times this winter.
