Secretary Kells Returns from Convention in East

Secretary Claude A. Kells of the Salem Y. M. C. A. returned Wednesday from Atlantic City, N. J., where he attended the triennial international Y. M. C. A. convention. He has served with the Y in seven states and in three Canadian provinces, and he found literally hundreds of the big leaders whom he has met in past years at the big meeting. The convention brought together most of the international figures in Y. M. C. A. service.

Mr. Kells says that from scores of these leaders he received the kindest greetings for Salem. Many of them have at some time visited here. Without exception, they ask "Is Salem still cooped up in that dinky little Y building?" He had to tell them "Yes," though he was able to spring on them some boy work figures that made them look a bit thoughtful and wonder whether it was all so.

Mr. Kells was sent by the local association to gather up more good working material to make family party where places for
