Damaged Auto Mourned—
Fred Drager and family celebrated one of the best Thanksgiving days of their lives Thursday, when they found themselves no worse damaged by the accident in which their car skidded and overturned on top of them on the road between Eugene and Cottage Grove. They mourn the damage to the beautiful Buick roadster that they drove, but they'd trade a dozen cars for the luck that saved them from serious or fatal injuries. Mr. Drager finds his left arm somewhat wrenched, and Mrs. Drager was bruised enough to remember it, but no bones were broken or cuts sustained, and they are all agreed that they got out of it mighty lucky. The car lost its top and windshield, but the main works will be little damaged.

Reunion Interesting—
A family reunion of some public interest was held in Portland Thanksgiving day, when Mrs. Ellen Ormsby, mother of Mrs. Ellen E. Aspinwall of Brooks, entertained the whole Aspinwall family to the number of 27. Mrs. Aspinwall had a family of 10 children, and most of them settled in and around Brooks. Because the great grandmother could not come down to see them due to her feeble condition—she is 87 years of age, and no longer the traveler that she was when she crossed the plains—they went up and celebrated at her home. Mrs. Forrest Ginn of Salem is one of the fourth generation that attended the reunion.

A marriage license was issued to James Henry Coon of Dallas and Edna Turpin of Turner, in the county clerk's office yesterday. A telegram later received from the sheriff at Roseburg stated that the couple had eloped. Miss Turpin was reported to be under age, although she had given her age as 18 at the courthouse.

Boys to Eugene—
About 70 boys have left Salem and other Marion county places for Eugene, where they will attend the annual Older Boys' conference. They will be entertained in the homes of Eugene.

Convention Sunday—
The Salem district Sunday school convention is to be Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 at the First Congregational church. A fine program has been arranged, including an address, "Bringing up Father," by Dr. George H. Young of Portland, that promises to be a sensation in its line. Reports are to be brought in from all the evangelist churches in Salem on membership, enrollment and other important statistics. Mrs. D. W. Riddle of Salem will sing. Rev. Walter L. Van Nuy of Portland, is to speak on "Working Together," and local ministers will assist in the services. Leon Jensen of Willamette is to have charge of the congregational singing. Everybody is invited to attend.

GRANDCHILD HAD CROUPY COUGH
"My grandchild could get no relief whatever from a very bad croupy cough," writes Peter Landis, Meyersdale, Pa. "until I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar. It is a great help for chest and throat trouble." Coughs, colds, croup, throat, chest and bronchial irritations quickly relieved with Foley's Honey and Tar. Contains no opiates—ingredients printed on the wrapper. Stood the test of time serving three generations. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

How is the cold turkey? And how are the giblets? The Americans who hoped Clemenceau would put his foot in his mouth are disappointed. He is using his feet to walk with, and keeping them on the earth. A Salem man from the old sod says the mistake of the Irish was in picking a fight with the Irish. A soft drink turneth away wrath, excepting among those with a pre-Volstead thirst. The walls of the addition to the Salem paper mill are poured, and the roof will soon be on and the machinery installed and running. These people are also putting in machinery, down on the river bank side of their great factory, for sawing logs—big ones, any kind. This is rapidly becoming one of the big mills of the world for the making of the finer grades of paper. And it will keep on expanding. In the south wall of the new extension the reinforcement has been extended, so that the building can keep on going south, which it will do, till it outgrows its real estate, which will make it one of the very largest paper mills on earth.

What the automobile writer, says a friend at the writer's elbow, is fewer miles per hour and more per gallon.

It is reported that the Fascist movement has spread into Mexico. The black shirts ought to make a hit down there—they defy the arts of the laundrymen. But the trouble is that the Mexican Fascist in their black shirts are likely to show the white feather. —Los Angeles Times.
