THE CHRISTMAS seals are being sold in eight booths in Salem this week with women from different organizations in charge. The first community to report the sale of its full quota in the county sales was in the Liberty district, according to Mrs. John Carson, president of the Marion County Health association, who is in charge.

Mrs. Fred J. Thompson, who is in charge of the seal sale for the Salem Woman's club announced last night that with incomplete returns from the booths in Salem nearly $200 worth had been sold. The mail list is in charge of Mrs. Grover C. Bellinger, who reports returns from her mailing list as more than $320.

Mrs. N. C. Kafoury has a committee assisting her in Kafoury Bros. store this week selling seals. They are Mrs. George Schueman, Mrs. Arthur Poorman, Mrs. George Alden, Mrs. Joseph Adolph, Mrs. W. A. Pettit, Mrs. John R. Sites, Mrs. Homer Smith, Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. Curtis Cross, Mrs. H. H. Olinger, and Mrs. Arthur Vassal.

The women in charge at the Peoples' Cash Store under the direction of Mrs. Karl Becke are Mrs. Alice Hopkins, Mrs. Walter Langis, Mrs. William Mott and Mrs. Darry Proctor.

The seal sale booth at Millers' store is in charge of Chapter G of P. E. O. Mrs. E. E. Fisher is in charge of the women who are there this week, who are Mrs. A. L. Godfrey, Mrs. F. W. Seelye, Mrs. William Hughes, Mrs. William McGilchrist, Sr., Mrs. B. J. Miles, Mrs. P. J. Kuntz, Mrs. D. X. Beecher, Mrs. J. B. Littler, Mrs. C. B. McCullough, Mrs. W. H. Byrd and Miss Florence Young.

The postoffice booth has been in general charge of Mrs. William Walton for the first three days this week. Assistants during Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were Mrs. Earl Dause, Mrs. Llan Smith, Mrs. Clare Craig, Miss Algo Gray, Miss Euanne Crab and Miss Vivian Hargrove. The booth will be in general charge of Mrs. Gertrude J. M. Page during the last of this week, while Mrs. W. E. Anderson will be in general charge next week.

In the Ladd & Bush bank, Mrs. Chester Cox is in charge of the booth and this week the following women are assisting her: Mrs. Clarence Thompson, Miss Elizabeth Lord, Mrs. Lynn Smith, Mrs. Frederick Brock, Jr., Mrs. W. Carleton Smith, Mrs. D'Orville Jennings, Mrs. Robert Duncan.

In the United States National Bank Mrs. F. L. Utter is taking charge of the booth with a number of assistants, Mrs. E. A. Colony, Mrs. Z. J. Riggs, Mrs. Ralph Cooley, Mrs. O. Price, Miss Nell Thielsen, Mrs. L. S. Geer, Mrs. Ralph Glover, Mrs. Frank Myers, Miss Alma Pohle, Mrs. Cecil Hawley, Mrs. V. E. Kuhn, Mrs. Arthur Rahn and Mrs. B. E. Sisson.

The annual New Year dance of the Illahee club will be given Wednesday evening December 27.

The Loyal Woman's class of the First Christian church will meet today with Mrs. M. J. Hunt on Marion street.

Women's Auxiliary Meet Deferred to Next Month
 Announcement is made that the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary that was planned for this afternoon at the "Y." is to be postponed until the early part of January. Mrs. C. P. Bishop, who was to have been the speaker today, to tell of the first auxiliary organized in Salem, in the early '90's, is to give the address at the postponed meeting.
 Printed invitations had been sent out to more than 100 of the women interested in the work, and the recalling of the announcement is late enough that those who receive the word of the change are urged to send word to their friends who might not have had notification of the postponement.

BETTER ROAD IS DEMANDED

Oregon Citizens Asked to Help Out Unfortunates in California

Officials and private citizens of Oregon are urged to use their influence to bring about the completion of the Pacific highway through Washington and California to connect up with the highway through Oregon, in a letter H. L. Walther, vice president of the Roadway Commission, received by Governor Eitzen from the Roadway Commission of California. Mr. Walther writes in behalf of C. G. Steele of Yreka, Cal., president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Siskiyou, Cal.

Sues for $50,000, Only Gets $40,000 Damages
 SALEM, Ala., Dec. 13.—A verdict of $40,000 against the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers was awarded J. W. Green in the circuit court today. The jury returned a verdict fixing the damage late this afternoon. Green, a former member of the brotherhood, entered suit for $50,000, the suit growing out of his expulsion from the order for alleged disloyal remarks.

Small Concession Made
 "We have followed this matter up diligently," writes Mr. Steele, "and have finally succeeded in getting them to advertise for paving from Yreka to Grenada, and the grading and widening of the road from Klamath river to the Oregon line. This latter unit however, should have been included for paving, but for some reason or other they have not seen fit to include the paving of this unit."
 "We are after them again and we are now going after them for additional money to not only complete these two units, but to pave the highway from the Oregon line to Redding, which will then connect Portland with San Francisco by a continuous pavement."

Big Stretch Remains
 "To accomplish this, and assuming that the road is paved from Yreka to Grenada, 109 miles will remain yet unpaved. Ten miles of this has not even been graded."
 "Through good authority, we know that the commission in a recent budget set aside $1,000,000 for a highway in the Feather River canyon. This is not as essential as the completing of the main trunk line from Oregon

HIGH SCHOOL TO STAGE MELODRAMA

"The Three Ghosts" Represents English Home Just After World War

"The Three Ghosts," an English play, is to be given Friday night at the high school auditorium for the benefit of the student body fund. Nightly practice is being held, under the direction of Miss Fay Bolin, professor of English in the high school.
 The play, a three-act melodrama, represents an English home just after the war. The three "ghosts" are one American and two British soldiers who had been reported dead, but who had actually been held as prisoners in the German prisons, and after the war they drifted home, much to the disarrangement of the plans of those who had held them as dead. The play is built around them and their life in the Gubbins home, Mrs. Gubbins being the mother of one of the warriors. The lady is not exactly one of the dreams of paradise. She drinks gin, and her Cockney accent was never acquired in Oxford or Harvard. But she is not a bad sort in the pinch of life—as the soldiers find under her hospitable if humble roof.

 The characters are:
 Mrs. Gubbins, Lucile Pettyjohn
 Peggy woofers, Frances Rhodes.
 Bolton, a detective, Clifford Goode.
 Jimmy Gubbins, Benton Randall.
 William Foster, alias Jones, Charlie Anderson.
 Spooey, one of the Ghosts, Louis West.
 Rose Gordon, American girl, Alice Roth.
 Briggs, from Scotland Yard, Harold Mero.
 Benson, Arlie Anderson.
 Lady Leicester, Helen Selig.
 Policemen, Charlie Coffey and Lynn Jones.
 The show will be open for the public and everybody is invited to buy a ticket and attend.

Hector Cloverio is employed at the Golden Glow dairy, which is owned by M. E. DeGuire.

RECRUITING FORCE COMES TO SALEM

United States Army Making Campaign for Enlistment of Youngsters

Sergeant W. L. Schuster, Corporal Harvey and Corporal Wilson from Portland are in Salem on an army recruiting mission. They are at the Bligh hotel, and are to remain here for five days.
 Almost all branches of the United States army are open for recruits, and there are enough branches to meet almost every ambition, professional, military or industrial, that any boy could imagine. There are 150 vacancies at Vancouver barracks, and 5000 vacancies in the Hawaiian islands.
 Sergeant Schuster had charge of the recruiting office in Salem in 1916. He expressed great surprise at the growth and progress of the city in the intervening six years. He says that he has many times wished he might see in a "city," while stationed here, but now Salem is enough of a city to meet his every demand, and one of the most beautiful places in the northwest.

America's Rival to Cheops
 The statement has been made that the Great Mound at Cahokia, Ill., exceeds in cubic contents any of the Egyptian pyramids. This is a mistake. The Pyramid of Cheops is about 450 feet high; its base measures thirteen acres. The Cahokia mound is 104 feet high, its base is sixteen acres. It is, therefore, evident that the pyramid has at least twice the cubic content of the Illinois mound. The stone in the Great Pyramid would suffice to build a wall around France five high and eighteen inches thick, following every indentation and irregularity of the coast and frontiers.
