3 MORE GAMES IN CITY SERIES

Anderson-Browns, Better-Yets and Bankers Winners Last Night

Games last night: Anderson-Browns 10, Bonesteeles 5. Better-Yets 15, Bankers 7. Bankers 10, Pharmacists 6. The Anderson-Browns made a moderate clean-up on the Bonesteeles Motorists, last night in the Y. M. C. A. Commercial Basketball league, winning by a score of 10 to 5. They didn't do it by accurate foul shooting, however, for out of 12 chances they converted only two goals. They were able to keep Kenney, the usually top man of the Bonesteeles, from making more than one field goal. It was his night off.

Lieske, center for the A-B's, made two field goals and the two foul shots, and Cadwell, the manager of the team, who has not always played during the series, came through with a fine field goal that helped lengthen the score.

"Kid" Newton hung around the corners in the Hauser-Better-Yet Bread match, and scooped in two clover field goals for the Hausers. They needed them, and a little more, for they were short of players, and had to borrow to fill out their team. Warren Jones played a championship game for the sporting goods house, and everybody did his best, but the Bankers, while not going at the pace they usually exhibited, were able to pull ahead and win. The Bankers gathered in nine points in the first half, before the Hausers did a thing except watch them. Then the Hausers shot three field goals in rapid succession, and if ever there was a nervous bunch it was the Bankers. Their better team work soon told, however, and they gradually picked up a good lead, which they held. Harold Sociofsky was the second highest point man for the evening, with three field goals and one foul throw. He has led the scoring oftener than anyone else of the series, which shows an abiding brand of luck. Final score: Bankers 15, Hausers 7.

The United States National bank has been the dope-setter all through the series. They have been down close enough to the bottom most of the time, but they are the only ones to defeat the Better-Yet Breads, and last night they took the Central Pharmacists into camp, 10 to 6. The Pharmacists were short their star scoring machine, Tucker, who is out of the game for a few days or longer with a strained knee. They missed him dreadfully, for he gets the baskets when they need them. Lenon made one field goal and shot two fouls, and McCune popped in a field shot, but they couldn't keep Lucas from shooting four straight field goals for the Bankers, and making one foul shot that counted. The Bankers played a hard, nifty game, against a fast and usually successful team, and won. They fell 'way down in shooting fouls, getting only two out of 11 tries.

The prophets and rail-birds and dopsters are still wondering how to guess on the all-star team of the series. Practically every team would be represented on such a squad. It certainly would be, if as many as 10 men were selected. There is one more trio of games, on Thursday night, with the Hausers vs. Central Pharmacy, Better-Yet Breads vs. Anderson & Brown, and the United States Nationals vs. Bonesteele Motors.

WILLARD BOUT SAID FIZZLE

Crowd Gives Big Heavy-weight Ovation on Arrival But Leaves Early

PORTLAND, Dec. 19.—If Jess Willard had anything except a fine physique he did not show it at the Milwaukee arena tonight. Two boxers, Scotty Messer of Tillamook and Ben Branson of Portland flattened themselves out against him but Willard did not have to do any boxing.

Branson got mad and hit Willard repeatedly below the belt, but did no damage. This was the only thing that showed what Willard had.

The crowd gave him a great ovation when he first appeared, but the house was half empty before the show was over.

In preliminary bouts Billy Gardeau won the decision over Billy Marvin in eight rounds. Both men are from Portland, and are middleweights.

Bud Fisher, Portland middleweight, won a decision over Dale Fleck, Portland, in 10 rounds.

In a whirlwind finish of a 10-round go, Joe Eagen, Boston light heavyweight, captured the decision from Jimmy Darcy, Portland.

It is bad form to refer to it as an automobile accident. It is a habit.

International Yachting Promises Keen Season

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Forecast of a keen season of international yachting competition in 1923 was seen today in an announcement that the first event between American and British craft had been scheduled, a series of six races between six metre yachts, to be sailed in August in British waters for the historic Seawanhaka challenge cup.

This trophy was captured last year by Coila III, owned by J. G. Stephens of the Royal Northern Yacht club of Scotland.

The formal challenge for the 1923 contest was made by the Seawanhaka, Corinthian yacht club of Oyster Bay, and has just been accepted by the Royal Northern Yacht club.

The cup races will be sailed on the Clyde river in Scotland.

Seniors and Sophomores Play Tie in Football

There is nothing to it but the seniors in the Salem high school athletics this year. On Tuesday the seniors played the sophomores to a tie in football—a 0-to-0 score on Sweetland field. It wasn't a senior victory, but they didn't lose, and since they were the winners in the recent basketball tournament, they rank at the very top of the athletic ladder. The sophomores are next, with the juniors, the also-rans. The football game yesterday is described as a particularly interesting one, and so evenly matched that the ball seemed almost anchored to the center of the field.

BAYES TO BOX BRICK COYLE

Salem Featherweight to Appear in Semi-Windup Event at Dallas

Phil Bayes, Salem featherweight, is to go on for a six-round semi-windup event at Dallas, tonight with Brick Coyle of Vancouver as his opponent. Phil has been keeping himself in condition all the year, and while he has put on some surplus weight that wouldn't do him any good, he has taken some of it off and is fit for a hard match.

The Coyle engagement looks like a good stiff contract, for the carrot-tipped Washington scrapper has real class as a scrapper. Competent ring judges who have seen Bayes, pick him for a headliner if he should set out to win such honors.

The Dallas program is to bring out a number of Salem familiars. Eddie Richards of Portland, who beat Fred Hall of Salem last winter, was to meet Danny Needham of Spokane, who appeared here a month ago, but Needham broke his hand over at Walla Walla Monday night, and Eddie Marvin of New York is to take his place. Two featherweights, Bennie and Dotson of Portland, and Kewpie Riley, are to go on for four rounds. The winner may get on here in Salem in the near future.

Hugh McQuillan Injured When Auto Strikes Him

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Hugh McQuillan, twirler for the Giants in the last world series, sustained injuries in an automobile accident, October 26, which may permanently cripple his pitching arm. It became known today, when he sued Miss Mildred Taylor in Queens county supreme court for $250,000 damages.

The ball player alleges his wife is still suffering from injuries she sustained in the accident.

New World's Record in Bowling is Established

The previous record was 515, association members said. They had a total of 1268 for their three games.
