

Concert Gives Salem Near National Fame

Salem is going to go some almost national notoriety through a concert that was put on here last night at the Salem Electric broadcasting station. So far as known, the Salem Elks' orchestra of 12 pieces is the only one of the kind in the United States. There are bands and vaudivilles and chancers and other music-makers, but apparently no other Elks' orchestra. They put on a fine program which was sent out all over the country. John Steelhammer, Jr., a boy of 13, gave some piano numbers that are said to have been a real sensation. They were reported in from some out-of-town stations as being about the classiest piano numbers they had ever heard. Tonight the Salem station is to put on another concert, the pro-

TONIGHT LAST NIGHT OF KNIGHTHOOD PHOTOPLAY

Probably no motion picture actress ever had a more elaborate wardrobe than that worn by Marion Davies in her Cosmopolitan picture, "When Knighthood Was in Flower," which closes at the Grand theater tonight. Miss Davies plays the part of Princess Mary Tudor.

For months before actual work was begun on the picture Miss Davies and a staff of designers were busy studying old prints in the public library and in the Metropolitan Museum of Art so that the costumes might be absolutely correct. Everything worn by the real Princess Mary Tudor from the flare of a head dress to the buckle of a shoe has been reproduced in exact detail for the picture.

Rich, heavy brocades, cloth of silver and gold, jewelry of special design to accompany each gown—all of these things formed a rich rainbow riot in the costume department of the International studio in New York, where much of the picture was made. The costumes worn by Miss Davies were designed by Mrs. Gretl Thurlow, one of New York's foremost designers and made by one of the most exclusive of Fifth Avenue houses. Perhaps the most elaborate of all is the wedding dress of silver, trimmed with ermine and pearls. With this Miss Davies wears a head dress of filigree and pearls. The long veil is embroidered in pearls.

The fencing costume is unique. It is of cream colored heavy silk embroidered in green and yellow and studded with blue and yellow stones. The high boots are of gray suede and the wide belt of the same material.

The Democratic filibuster against the Dyer antilynching bill recalls Congressman Theodore Burton of Ohio, who was formerly in the senate. He held the long-distance speaking record in the senate. He was opposed to the "pork-barrel" river and harbor bill and talked for days against it, his first effort lasting three days without a bite to eat. Mr. Burton's record has never been surpassed. La Follette has been able to hold the floor for three consecutive days, but Burton spoke for nearly a week on one occasion against a river and harbor bill.

VINEYARDS YIELD LUXURIOUS CROP

Carlot Shipments Mount to Immense Total During Recent Season

BUFFALO, Dec. 17.—Vineyards of the United States States produced a bumper crop of grapes in 1922. Total carlot shipments from all sections up to and including November 17 were 51,254 cars, an increase compared with 1921 of 14,053 cars, or about 36 1/2 per cent, according to a summary issued by the state department of farms and markets.

In the 51 thousand odd cars were a total of 1,025,080,000 pounds of grapes, which would be sufficient to supply approximately ten pounds of grapes to every individual in the United States. They were worth, at an average price of $70 a ton, $35,850,000.

Two causes contributed to make the season a profitable one for eastern grape-growers. A car shortage in the west cut California's normal shipments about 25 per cent, and there was an increased demand for private consumption and grape juice manufacturers in the east. It was a year of unprecedented yields in eastern vineyards.

New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan, the three principal grape states, made enormous gains in carlot shipments, and there also was a heavy movement by track because of the prevailing car shortage in the east as well as in the west. Michigan figures show a gain in shipments of 371 per cent; Pennsylvania, 288 per cent, and New York 201 per cent. The crop of these three states, which are not included in the department's figures, are estimated at 20,000 tons, worth another million and a half dollars.

Statistics on destinations of the Michigan-New York-Pennsylvania crop show that Pittsburgh took the largest number of cars for the season, with a total of 1,276. Philadelphia was second with 1,476 cars. Other large distributing points for the crop were: Chicago, 1,141 cars; Boston, 1,032 cars; Cleveland 888 cars; and New York City 582 cars. The city farthest from the productive centers to market grapes in volume was St. Louis, with 157 cars of Michigan fruit, five from Pennsylvania, and 26 cars from New York state. Milwaukee took 186 cars from Michigan, 12 from Pennsylvania and 21 from New York.

The price paid by grape juice factories this year averaged $65 a ton, compared with $130 in 1920 and $96 in 1919. No grapes were pressed in 1921 because of the high tax and the poor condition of the crop, due to early frosts. The lowest price on record at grape juice factories was in 1897, when $10 a ton was the average.

High Praise is Given Play Now Seen Here

"The sweetest love story ever told" is high praise, but when "Knighthood Was in Flower," as it is being presented at the Grand theater this week, could come near making good on this pretentious foreword. It is said to have cost near two million dollars to present. The costumes are on a gorgeous scale that is almost beyond conception, and the splendor of the kingly play makes it a really notable cinema play. Those who have read the book could follow it almost line for line as a libretto—the play follows the written lines that created a literary sensation with admirable fidelity. Any one who wonders "why they don't put something really worth while on the screen" ought to see this magnificent production and then tell the world how he feels toward it. It is one of the greatest scenic productions of the stage.

SUNNYSIDE WILL BE HOST TONIGHT

County Community Federation to Listen to Address By Mr. Dodson

Sunnyside community is to be host and hostess to the Marion County Community federation, tonight, the program beginning at 8 o'clock.

The Sunnysiders are the greatest feeders this side of the Atlantic ocean. Last winter, at one of the community meetings, the Statesman reporter counted 11 kinds of country pie—mince, pumpkin, berry, apple, lemon, every kind of pie that they ever wrote into the recipe books, and a few that were too good and too precious to put into type. The Sunnyside housekeepers have the art of "feeding the brute" down to a fine point, and it's good to be on hand when the Sunnyside pies are brought out after the speeches are over.

W. D. B. Dodson of Portland, general manager of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, is to be at Sunnyside to talk on "Co-operation." Mr. Dodson is one of the best informed men in the northwest, on the subject of co-operation between city and country, between community and district, between farmer and townsman. He is a former newspaperman, a graduate of the Second Oregon regiment in the Philippines, and a good fellow with a vision of a glorified, progressive Oregon that it's good for other people to see. A good attendance from Salem is especially urged, to hear the Dodson speech, to eat the Sunnyside pies or whatever, and to get acquainted with everybody.
