SALEM HIGH WINS FROM INDIAN FIVE

Basketball Score at Chemawa Close in Contest Staged Last Night

Salem high school won its first basketball victory for 1923 last night at the Salem Indian school 22 to 21 when the local quintet met the Chemawa braves for a finish battle. After seesawing back and forth it stood at a tie almost at the whistle time. Then Reinhart, who had played successfully early in the game and had been replaced for a time by Fallon, was put back in and he shot a foul that gave Salem the lead of just that one point.

It was a fast game from start to finish. Those who have seen the Salem team, know just how fast they are. At that, they were held to a practical tie by the Indian ball-tossers. Bucher and George, forwards for Chemawa, were the streaks for their team. Coach Roy Bohler of Willamette university refereed the game. Practically every student at Chemawa turned out.

The players and their scoring records follow:

Salem high—Reinhart 5, Brown 2, forwards; Okerberer 13, center; Patterson 2, Lillian 1, guards. Substitutes: Fallon for Reinhart, Reinhart for Fallon. Post for Patterson. Chemawa—Buchers 6, George 3, forwards; Depot 2, center; Abraham 2, Phinney 2, guards.

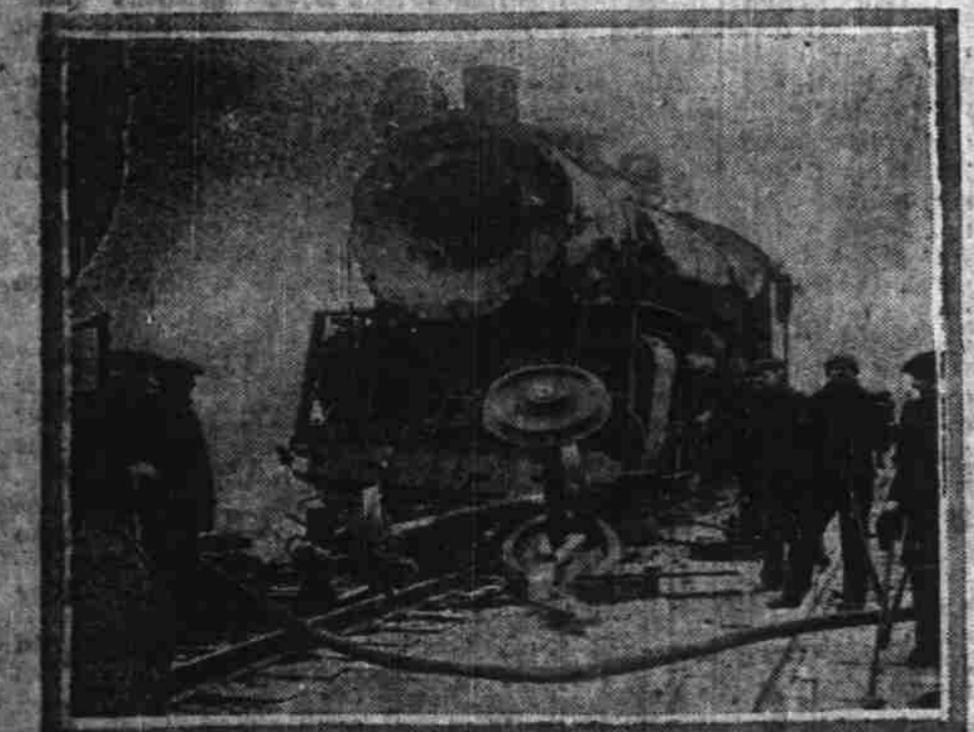

The teams play again Friday night at the high school gymnasium when an admission charge of 50 cents will be made.

VETERAN ENGINEER SAVES LIVES IN WRECK.

Archie Carothers, 70-year-old veteran engineer of the Santa Fe, felt it "in his bones" that all was not well as he pulled out of Chicago with the crack Navajo Limited, bound for California. He crept along at twenty miles an hour, when suddenly there appeared in front of him a freight train head on. He jammed on the brakes, the train came to a standstill, but not before a crash that crushed his leg and injured eleven passengers. It was regarded as miraculous that the collision was not more violent. Photo shows how the two locomotives met.

WHEELER BURIAL WILL BE TODAY

Baltimore Orioles of '90 to Pay Tribute to King of Baseball

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Members of the famous Baltimore Orioles of the '90's, men whose names have been carved indelibly in baseball's hall of fame, will pay final tribute tomorrow to one of the most illustrious of their comrades—William H. (Wee Willie) Keeler, who died Monday at the age of 50.

Pall bearers at the funeral tomorrow morning in Brooklyn were expected to include John McGraw, manager of the world's champion Giants; Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Nationals; Kid Gleason, manager of the Chicago White Sox; Hugh Jennings, former Detroit pilot and now assistant to McGraw and Joe Kelly, scout for the Yanks. All played with Keeler on the Oriole club which won the National league championship in 1894-95. Tonight ritual services were held by the Order of Elks of which Keeler was a member.

Victory Notes to be Redeemed Immediately

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Redemption of all outstanding victory notes in advance of their maturity date, May 20, was made possible tonight by the treasury which announced it would redeem the notes upon presentation, whether or not they had been called for redemption.

The treasury announcement will permit redemption of about $850,000,000 of notes which have not been called, it was said. In addition, the treasury is waiting to pay $225,000,000 to holders of notes which were called for retirement December 15 and have not been turned in.

The players and their scoring records follow:

Salem high—Reinhart 5, Brown 2, forwards; Okerberer 13, center; Patterson 2, Lillian 1, guards. Substitutes: Fallon for Reinhart, Reinhart for Fallon. Post for Patterson.

Chemawa—Buchers 6, George 3, forwards; Depot 2, center; Abraham 2, Phinney 2, guards.

The teams play again Friday night at the high school gymnasium when an admission charge of 50 cents will be made.

Prominent Clubwomen Miss President When Interview Not Obtained

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Members of the Molly Pitcher club, some of them prominent society men and club women, indulged in a period of hissing today when it was announced at a club luncheon that President Harding had declined to meet a delegation named to lay before him the club's arguments for repeal of the prohibition amendment.

The storm burst when Ransom H. Gillett, counsel for the New York division of the Association Opposed to the Prohibition Amendment, read excerpts from a letter giving as grounds for his refusal to meet the women his belief that "it is a futile thing to expect the repeal of the amendment" and such an interview could only "result in controversial publicity and create a suspicion that the federal government is not in good faith in endeavoring to enforce the prohibition laws."

The club made public a part of the president's letter and gave out a newly adopted resolution, arguing against the validity of his objections to the interview and renewing the request that the delegation be received. The resolution also reminded the president that he recently had received a church delegation "to discuss prohibition."

Mr. Gillett, speaking of the president's refusal to see the delegation declared that "when the chief executive of this republic cannot receive any delegation to discuss any topic as provided for under the constitution, then the republic is in danger."

IDAHO WINS FROM "Y"

WALLA WALLA, Jan. 3.—The University of Idaho basketball team won from the local Y. M. C. A. quintet here tonight piling up a score of 39 points against 25. Richard Fox was the outstanding star for the Vandals.

LENGLEN WINS VICTORY

NICE, France, Jan. 3.—Suzanne Lenglen won a brilliant victory upon her reappearance in the singles tennis today, when she defeated Miss Howett of England, 6-1, 6-0, in the first round of the Nice tournament.

The champion appeared in good condition, although somewhat heavier, her service seemed to be speedier.

DECREE IN GYPSUM INDUSTRIES MADE

Case of Government Against Association is Finally Settled

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Federal Judge Knox today signed a final decree in the government's case against the Gypsum Industries association, a setting forth of a code of principles by which trade association will be governed under the Sherman anti-trust law and stipulating what they are prohibited from doing.

Both the government and the its regular weekly or monthly meetings at which opportunities were afforded, as the government contended, for open or illicit price fixing by the group, for arrangements for the curtailment and limitation of production and for defining and devising the many other abuses that have resulted from such trade association meetings.

"While this decree represents only the views of the department of justice," Mr. Hayward said, "it may be well as a guide for the thousands of trade associations throughout the United States as to what the Sherman law clearly prohibits. In that way, there is no question but that either directly or indirectly the decree affects practically every substantial merchant and manufacturer throughout the country."

Your Seven League Boots

The wearer of the "seven league boots" could cover miles at a step. But he didn't have a thing on you.

A glance through your paper and you jump from New York to San Francisco, Philadelphia to London, or from Montreal to Timbuktu. You know what is going on the world over almost as soon as the events occur.

Turn to the advertising columns and you are transported to the grocers, the clothiers, the music store; you visit the factory of a manufacturer, or talk with the maker of a new household appliance.

Right in your own arm-chair, un hurried, unworried and without effort, you can make your choice of good merchandise.

Merchants and manufacturers who put advertisements in this paper are progressive. They must give good value. They know that advertising, by increasing the number of sales, will lower prices and give you more for your money.

The advertisements are miles ahead of "seven league boots." Read them.
