STANDARD OIL INVESTIGATED

Profits of Concern and Salaries of Officers Are Probed by Senators

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Profits averaging from 1 cent to 1 1/2 cents are realized by the Standard Oil company of New York upon each gallon of gasoline produced in its refineries, according to testimony submitted by the corporation today in the senate oil investigation.

Testimony was presented to the senate manufactures subcommittee conducting the inquiry by four officials of the Standard company of New York who, replying to questions put by the committee counsel, described in detail operations of the company in the field of foreign and domestic trade, transportation and finance. Incidentally the committee got its first direct information as to salaries paid high officials of oil companies.

Salaries Probed
The statement as to profits on gasoline was made by Howard A. Wilkinson, a director of the corporation in charge of domestic sales. He estimated the spread in gasoline between the refineries of the Standard of New York and the company's filling stations in the territory it covers—New York and New England states—at 7 cents a gallon. This spread, he said, was taken up by a little more than 1 1/2 cents a gallon for freight and a little more than 4 cents for marketing, with the balance representing profits to the company.

The information as to sales was brought out by Chairman LaFollette. Representatives of companies appearing previously before the committee were asked to submit a list of their higher officials and the salaries paid each. However, when Howard E. Cole, third vice president of the Standard of New York, took the stand today Mr. LaFollette asked him point blank what his salary was. Mr. Cole plainly was disconcerted by the question but finally replied in a low voice that his salary for 1922 was $47,500; for 1921, was $42,000, and for 1919, was $35,000.

Earnings Great
Mr. Wilkinson who followed Mr. Cole, also was subjected to inquiry as to his salary and likewise in a low voice said he was paid $32,000 last year, $27,500 the year previous, and $18,000 in 1920, when he was Boston manager for the Standard Oil company of New York.

While the manufactures committee was pursuing its inquiry, which is expected to be concluded the last of this month, steps were taken by the senate public lands committee to resume its inquiry into leases of naval oil reserves. Definite plans were left for formulation next week.

Financial operators of the Standard of New York were testified to before the manufactures committee by A. E. Hinch, comptroller of the corporation, who estimated net earnings of the company since the supreme court dissolution decree at $253,817,550. Reductions from 24 to 22 cents a gallon in the price of gasoline in New York city ordered recently by the Standard of New York, he said, were due to competition by the Gulf & Texas companies.

More to be Heard
Other representatives of the Standard of New York will be heard tomorrow by the committee and then the inquiry will be turned to the Magnolia Petroleum company, a subsidiary of Standard of New York.

HIS WILDCAT TAMED.

Billy Moore, 13-year-old Ogden, Utah, schoolboy, has trained a wildcat to follow him to school each day, much like Mary's lamb. However, school authorities are no so certain of the kittenish actions of the animal, and Billy has been forced to keep the pet at home, where it runs loose.

GOVERNOR REMOVES RIVER RISES TO 16.5 FOOT LEVEL

MANY EMPLOYEES
With One Stroke of Pen 220 Cut from State Bureau of Highways

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 3.—With one stroke of his pen today C. C. Moore, governor, stopped the activities of the state constabulary and department of immigration, labor and state statistics and removed from the state payroll the names of 220 employees of the state bureau of highways.

Resignations of all highway employees have been asked for on or before January 20 and they will be effective January 31. The bureau will be reorganized and reappointments made between January 20 and 31.

Activities of the state constabulary and the department of immigration, labor and statistics cease January 15. In a statement issued today Governor Moore said that he will ask for no appropriation to carry on these two offices for the coming two years.

Naturalization Subjects to Be Taught at Y.M.C.A.
The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors for the Y. M. C. A. is to be held today noon at the Y hall. Luncheon will be served as usual.

Tonight, the first meeting of the class in American citizenship is to be held at the Y. This is a free course in the problems of citizenship as they will be asked for in the next naturalization examinations in the district court. Secretary Kells, who has done this work for years, will be the instructor. The course covers the main points of American history, the political and civil and criminal law cases that a resident must know to be a good citizen, and in general it aims to fit a man not only for passing the examination but for living good Americanism after he does pass. All foreigners who have taken out their first naturalization papers and are coming up for final hearings, are invited to attend.

DROPPED BY PARAMOUNT.
Mary Miles Winter, who has been rising with the development of the motion picture industry from early days as a child star will be released by the Famous Players' organization. With her passing from the Paramount fold occurs the last echo so far as this organization is concerned, of the shooting of William Desmond Taylor, one of their directors.

scary boats for, anyhow. At Newberg, yesterday afternoon, the gauge showed 33.5 feet above low water stage. The valley is not nearly as wide there, and the barrier at Rock Island, a few miles farther down the river, makes a backwater that fills up rapidly. No immediate flood is expected, unless there should be far heavier rain than has yet come.

Some minor inconveniences, rather than real damages, are reported around Salem. The Spaulding steamer Grey Eagle, that had been hauled up on the bank for overhauling, was having its planking replaced, and it had only a skeleton of a hull with which to face the flood. The water flowed in all over the skeleton, and it's there waiting for the flood to go down. It means an annoyance, but little loss. The water is a little too high for the Spaulding company to use its log dump at Winona, and a trainload of logs is waiting there for the flood to go down to about 14 feet or lower, before it can be dumped.

The Spaulding company counts on the rise in the water to bring it several million feet of logs from the Big Luckiamute camp, logs that have been cut for running down the river on the river water. They have this camp to supply the local mill during January and February, when some of the other camps are likely to be snowbound.
