Speedways Signify Intentions to Have Races Under Association's Rules

That speedway racing during 1923 will continue under the control of the American Automobile Association Contest board is indicated by the fact that officials of practically every large speedway in the United States have signified their intentions of conducting their races under AAA sanction as usual. Officials of the Indianapolis Speedway have already had an official sanction assigned for the big race on May 30 and have issued their entry blanks bearing the AAA contest board's sanction number. Efforts to create the impresion that a new organization would take control of speedway racing in the United States have hastened the action of the officials of the various racing plants in assuring the AAA contest board of their desire to continue racing under the sanction of that body. Requests for sanction have been received even earlier this year than usual and in almost every instance assurance has been given that the speedway officials are highly satisfied with AAA supervision of William Schimpf, chairman of the contest board, is now en route to the Pacific coact and will consult with about 35 representatives of the contest board in varions states along the route. Mr. Schimpf will spend some time on the coast and will give personal attention to contest board matters in the west.
