The Test of Time
In considering a school, one needs to know the length of time it has been established and how long it has been under its present management. Some schools change management every two or three years, usually because of inefficient methods and careless management. This school has been under the same management over 30 years. Hundreds of successful graduates point to the success of our methods. You may have the same training. Write or call.

SALEM ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE $5000

Total of $125,000 to Be Raised for WCTU Orphanage Near Corvallis

Salem is asked to contribute $5000 to the WCTU orphanage farm near Corvallis. The entire fund being raised is $125,000. A part of this money is already raised, and the association has the farm and has some money ready for its building fund and to help pay on the farm debt.

A local committee was named at the meeting Tuesday evening consisting of Mrs. Fannie Bishop, Rev. Ward Willis Long, Rev. J. J. Evans, Rev. W. T. Milliken, and Rev. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick. Mrs. Gertrude J. M. Page was selected as treasurer and J. B. Littler local manager.

The association will have office room with Judge John Scott, 228 Oregon building. Next week the time will be devoted to a general personal canvass of the city with the hope and belief that much of the required sum will be raised by this personal solicitation. On Sunday, February 4, there will be minute men to speak in all the Protestant churches of the city, and on Tuesday, February 6 there is to be a final whirlwind clean-up campaign to complete the work. Between now and Monday, January 29, the committee of 100 will be named and their work laid out so that they will be looking after the pledges that can be secured ahead of the final day's drive.

The general idea is to make the place a real "home," with as far as possible every institutional feature removed. It is expected that about 20 children will be assigned to each cottage home. This is only a good Mormon family unit, and Mrs. Susanna Wesley, mother of the two great founders of Methodism, had a family of that size of her very own.

The "mothers" of the families are to be real mothers, to whom the waifs are little darlings and immortal souls to be loved, and not little burdens and pests to be endured for pay. There is to be no school on the place; the children are to go to the American public schools as the foundation for sterling, democratic citizenship. The institution is non-sectarian.

It is estimated that there are now 2400 Oregon children needing just such a Protestant home of love. The general plan calls for 15 cottages, but only four are to be undertaken this year. The state has been paying $16 a month per capita, for 300 Protestant children in the various Catholic institutions. The WCTU home will ask for these children, and the state payment for their support on a non-sectarian basis, and this will bear the greater part of the maintenance cost once the plant is secured and paid for.

RADIO TALKS BY THE LAWMAKERS

Their First Chance to Tell Their Story to the Listening World

Some of the Salem radio fans were listening in Wednesday afternoon when the Oregon legislators were talking through the radio broadcasting station at the OAC junket. They were telling the world their very first radio-gram.

They heard Speaker Kubli say "I'm mighty well pleased with the work being done here, and you can count on me giving all the help that I can for the educational program. Then they heard the crowd give him the ha ha, as they did to every speaker, grave or gay. One legislator started to tell of the runis at Astoria, and he said that the tears of sorrow for the stricken city blinded his eyes—and the crowd gave him another razz. "Go to it, Bill," they said, "there's 5000 people a-listening to us today. Ha-ha-ha!"

The radiogram came in distinctly, and as cheerfully controversial as if the legislators were in their own homes laying down the law to the wimmen-folks and the helpless kids.

GYM PLANS MAY BE READY SOON

Willamette Hopes to Have Building Started Early in the Spring

Dr. Carl G. Dooley, president of Willamette university, is expected home Sunday after an absence of almost a month while he was visiting in the east.

Plans are being prepared for the new gymnasium for Willamette, and they are expected to be ready for inspection almost any day. Dr. Dooley has been visiting all the big gymnasiums wherever he has found it possible to do so, and he is expected to bring home a lot of valuable suggestions for consideration along with the general plans that have been tentatively accepted.

The hope is to have the work started early in the spring so that the building will be surely ready for use with the opening of the school next fall. A good showing may be made by commencement time, early in June. It will be almost necessary to have the work well along by that time if the building is to be ready by fall.

Rose Croix Club Holds Banquet Tuesday at Spa

A delightful, almost state-wide banquet of the Rose Croix club was held Tuesday evening at the Spa. The local club, which has its membership altogether in the Scottish Rite Masonic order, was host to Governor Pierce, to all the Scottish Rite Masons in the house and senate, and to a number of other outside guests.

Among these visitors who also spoke informally during the evening were Elbert Bede of Cottage Grove, reading clerk of the house; Dr. Butler of Independence, U. S. B. Butler, vice president of the Monmouth normal; Dr. Dunsmuir of Independence, and Col. W. H. Poorman of Woodburn. A number of visitors also attended from Dallas, Independence and Silverton. Dinner was served at 5:15 and

HEARING IS HELD OVER HOSPITALS

Discrimination Alleged by Those Who Would Tax Portland Institutions

Discrimination against certain physicians in the city of Portland was alleged at a spirited hearing before the senate committee on medicine, pharmacy and dentistry Tuesday relative to a bill by Senator Clark that would place these hospitals on the tax rolls, from which they are now exempt because they are considered charitable institutions.

Emanuel and St. Vincent's hospitals were those accused. It was declared that practice in these hospitals is confined to a small but well-organized group of physicians and that all others are barred. A. C. Shaw appeared on behalf of the complaining doctors. One woman was present who claimed she had arranged for an operation at Emanuel hospital, but that when the time came she was not allowed to have her operation there because she had employed a certain physician. She declared she was very ill at the time. Several physicians testified that they had been refused admittance to these hospitals because they were not members of the American College of Surgeons.

Most of the doctors said they had found Good Samaritan hospital open to all doctors. Bishop Walter T. Sumner of the Episcopal church appeared for Good Samaritan. He declared that while the hospital could afford to pay a tax to do so would make it necessary to cut down on much of the charitable work that is done by the institution.

Witnesses who appeared in behalf of Emanuel and St. Vincent hospitals declared the doctors excluded were accorded that treatment mainly on grounds of incompetency.
