

1923 IS YEAR OF WILD BOAR

All People Born in These 12 Months Sincere and Rash Say Japs

Tokio, Jan. 31.—In Japan, 1923 will be the year of the Wild Boar and those born the following 12 months will be characterized by sincerity and rashness, according to Japanese lore. They will be free from material cares and unnecessarily touchy. The government has suppressed the old calendar made up of twelve zodiacal animals, but the people of Japan still derive from it many superstitions and inspiration for their art. Post cards representing the 1922 board chasing the 1922 dog are on sale all over the city.

This old calendar is of Chinese origin and is common to the Tartars, Turks, Mongols and Tibetans, as well as to the Japanese. The twelve animals are the Rat, Ox, Tiger, Hare, Dragon, Serpent, Horse, Sheep, Monkey, Bird, Dog and Boar and their influence on human destinies is varied. Their power on the human body created a zodiacal anatomy and a special art of healing in the middle ages.

Rats Are Honest
Those under the influence of the Rat are honest, thrifty and a little tricky. They are quiet and should beware of the fair sex. The Ox year confers a strong physique, independence and stubbornness; that of the Tiger, unusually strong character; that of the Hare, charm and grace and a surrounding of good fortune which must be caught before one is 38. Sons of the Dragon have a fiery spirit and conceit and are happiest at 27, 28 and 45. Those of the Serpent are melancholy and jealous and destined to live but a short time with their family. Snake girls ought to marry either a merchant, doctor or government official.

People that are brave, kind, loyal and generous are under the sign of the Horse; those neat, orderly and hospitable as well as tender and religious under the Goat. Goat people make artists. Monkey born are cold and stern and succeed by associating with others. Bird born ought to be singers and those born under the Dog being honest and faithful should not humble themselves too much for the sake of their friends. They are happy when very young and again in old age.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores
Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application of two year hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.—Adv.

OREGON PIONEER VISITS IN SALEM

J. N. Smith of Yamhill Meets
With Tax Reduction Club
While in City

J. N. Smith of Yamhill is in Salem this week, looking on at the legislature, and meeting with the Tax Reduction club state committee. He is a farmer and stock breeder and an old-timer in Oregon.

Back in the early '90's Mr. Smith was captain of a company of national guardsmen in Portland, the "Six Footers," for every man was at least six feet tall; some were far more than that minimum. But he didn't get to go to the Spanish American war, which was the nearest struggle to his boyhood.

However, he did get himself into what Sherman said was next to war in misery. Over in Honolulu he was admiring the moon, one beautiful tropical night, when some of the girls attending the Hawaiian Teachers' association commanded him to come to their institute and give them a lecture on astronomy. He knew stars casually and sketchily, but he wasn't the real authority on celestial matters that the girls thought he was. To make his boast good, however, he agreed to "lecture," and then he almost wore out the city library seats sitting around "boning-up" on

Rehearsals Begun for Lions Club Minstrels

Rehearsals have begun at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium for the big Lions' club minstrel show that is to be staged about the second week in February.

The Lions have taken the Salem Boy Scouts under their wing, and are going to stage the big show for their financial benefit. About 25 singers, jugglers, actors, roasters, prize biters, long-tailed jungle kings with astronomy for the ordeal. He found a copy of Newcomb's "Sidelights on Astronomy," and finally got through with a reputation like a scientist.

claws three inches long, are hitting the high spots of minstrelsy at a furious pace. They have some clever talent, that should put on a high class show. They are borrowing some other talent and conscripting yet other events to round out the program.

The event promises to set a high mark for Salem minstrelsy. Rufe White is the lion-tamer in charge. They are to meet again on Friday night, for practice.
