BILLY SMITH DISQUALIFIED

Bayes Takes on Callahan When Portland Boxer is Found Overweight

Portland fared ill in the Company F smoker, last night, when three of the Portland boxers were testotally dead losses. One, two, three and out. Two of them weren't really out, but they might as well have been; they were about as near the money as a man is to a good dinner when he's hog-tied out in the street and the dining room door is locked.

Phil Bayes was to have met "Mysterious Billy" Smith Junior, for 10 rounds but the "Mysterious" big-town scrapper had made a mystery of his weight until the last minute, and then the boxing commission found him so much over weight that they wouldn't let him on. Another heavyweight was offered as a substitute, and the board wouldn't stand for that, either. Then they brought on Frankie Callahan, four to ten pounds above Bayes' weight; and in ten seconds he wished he had been barred, also; that's a lot easier, and safer, than to be attacked by a wildcat like Bayes.

Bayes Shows Class
Bayes has never appeared in a fraction of the class he showed last night. The imported boxer might as well have been tied, or one armed; he did not have a chance. Bayes almost knocked him out inside of three seconds; he didn't look like a real person, he was so far gone. That's practically the whole story; it wasn't a story at all, for Callahan never even got a start.

Bill Hunt ran into trouble against a heavyweight, Bob Getz, in Portland a few months ago, and lost before he realized that the fight was on. But last night, he handed it back to Young Peter Jackson, of Portland, in a workmanlike manner. The colored boy is a lithe, cat-footed boxer, with a mean long left; but he was foolish enough to clinch when Bill rushed him, and in the in-fighting Hunt beat him. In the fourth round Hunt was pretty oadly wounded, but in the fifth he came back strong and punted the black almost at will. Hunt earned the decision in the last two rounds.

Kream Bout Good
Knockout Casey of Klamath Falls was overweighed by Kid Moser of Portland, and he could not stand the pace. He lost just at the end of the third round. He was game enough, but he couldn't stand the too-low body punches handed out by Moser. The referee didn't seem to catch the first of these, but the crowd advised him, and then he looked for them; but Kayo was already out of the running.

Kid Kream of Salem and Galbraith of Portland, fought four of the most interesting rounds in the history of the Salem ring. Galbraith is much the more seasoned boxer, and as game as a bull terrier; but he was up against a slight handicap of weight, and a reach and skill better than his own. He lost by a wide margin but he managed to stand the earthquake and hurricane, and the crowd gave him a great cheer as he left the ring. Kream has all the marks of a champion; they certainly gave him the glad hand.

Penimore Baggott and Chet Lindley were to go for four rounds but Lindley was three rounds and one minute the best, and the referee called it off after Baggott had been on the floor three times in the first round.

It is generally conceded to be the best program offered in Salem for the past two years, and the crowd was large enough to show its appreciation. The company share of the receipts goes to pay for the Company F drill dinners, and other company expenses. Many of the boys come in to drill without being able to stop at home for their supper, so the company usually serves a lunch after the drill.

OREGON-AGGIE GAME TONIGHT

Two Games at Corvallis May Decide State Hoop Championship

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Feb. 1.—(Special)—The state basketball championship will be virtually settled this week end when the Aggies meet Oregon in two of a four-game series. Both teams have equal conference rating, so that the results should indicate the fight staged.

"Bob" Hager, the Aggie coach, will make no predictions on the outcome of the game, but says if fight wins the Aggies won't be in the back seat when the game ends. Hager's team are in the best of condition.

The showing made by OAC against Washington was a dope speller. The Huskies, rriers of the north, were a powerful, well-balanced team, but the Aggies out-fought them and won in the critical period.

A striking incident, which makes dopsters wonder, is the outcome of the game played this season by Oregon and OAC. Oregon lost to Washington but defeated Idaho. The Aggies lost to Idaho, but defeated Washington, so comparative scores have no direct bearing on dope. Some claim the Aggie defeat by Idaho was due to demoralization from the loss of "Pug" Ross, but the Corvallis warriors lost with no alibi.

Oregon Expects Stiff Fight With OAC Aggies

EUGENE, Or., Feb. 1.—The University of Oregon will have two of its stiffest games of basketball of the season when it meets Oregon Agricultural college at Corvallis tomorrow and Saturday nights, said Coach Bohler today.

"The Aggies are rather an unknown quantity this year, as far as picking their stars goes, for the men on the team seem to take turns at gathering in the largest number of points," said the coach. "The Aggies have one big advantage on Oregon though, and that is in the matter of substitutes, for they have 12 or 12 men that are practically on the same basis, while Oregon has only one or two substitutes that can compare with the first string men."

Handball Tournament Series Close at 'Y'

D. W. Eyre and W. Shannahan are the handball champs of Salem, having won the title in the city tournament that closed last night. They defeated the runners-up, Roberts and Gingrich, in a hard fought match by winning the third series after each team had won one. The handball tournament has attracted more attention than any other sport staged at the Y this winter, the visitors fairly cluttered up the whole building and listened out on the streets to see and hear the reports for these games. Most of the players are hard working business men who take the late afternoon for a little recreation and health building. Some really expert playing is being done.

YANKS RELEASE TWO

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The New York Yankees today released two players to Southern association clubs.

Contracts were mailed by the Yankees to 23 players, including all of last year's regular except Babe Ruth and Carl Mays, both of whom have hold-over contracts for 1923.

It is a mistake to use washing powder instead of talcum. As a South Salem lady discovered.

SALEM-MEDFORD TANGLE TONIGHT

Exciting Game is Expected When Durno's Hoop-tossers Get Start

Salem people will have their first opportunity of the year to see the Salem high school team in action against a finished, high class opponent at the armory tonight.

Medford high school sends its crack team to fight it out with the Salem warriors. Salem beat them twice on the recent trip south, but in neither case was the score a run-away, and it is conceded by the locals that the visitors have a good fighting chance. They are fast, tireless, and they pass well, according to the local boys who played against them. They have been coached by Eddie Durno, star northwest forward from Oregon university, and they know the game from A to Izzard. The locals anticipate a red-hot contest.

The visiting team is made up of the same players who beat Ashland, the state champions two games out of a series of five last year; they themselves barely escaped being the state champs, they are that good.

The locals will start with Reinhart and Brown as forwards; Okerberg as center, and Lilligren and Patterson as guards; Post, Fallon and Adolph will be in reserve.

The visitors will start Fingler and Beeny as forwards; Baughman as center; and Allen and Williams as guards. Bateman and Watson are spares.

On the trip south last week Okerberg scored 18 points in one of the Medford games, and Reinhart scored 23 against Ashland. Some of this is the fortune of position, with the "fellers" in the back feeding the ball in to the dead shots, so that credit really belongs to the whole team and not alone to those who score.

The game opens at 8 o'clock, with Glenn Gregg of Salem as referee.

Semi-Finals in Tennis Invitation Get Upset

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The semi-finals in the invitation tennis doubles produced an upset today, when Miss Leslie Bancroft and Mrs. B. E. Cole of the Longwood Cricket club, Boston, were defeated by the Metropolitan winners, Miss Lillian Scharman and Miss Ceres Baker, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2. The volleying of Miss Baker and the fine overhanders of Miss Scharman accounted for the victory.

Miss Marie Wagner of New York and Mrs. Carl V. Hitchins, Mexican champion, won the other place in the final round, defeating Mrs. S. F. Weaver and Mrs. Deforest Candee of New York and Hempstead, 6-0, 6-0.

Miss Bancroft won easily in the first of the semi-final singles matches by defeating Miss Wagner 6-1, 6-1.

Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, national title holder will be opposed tomorrow by Miss Scharman in the second of the semi-final singles matches. The match was postponed from yesterday because Mrs. Mallory was suffering from a cold.

RICKARD OUT OF FIGHT BIDDING

Promoter Refuses to Consider Dempsey-Wills Match --Wilard Fades

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—A series of unexpected developments today brought the heavyweight boxing situation back into the limelight after a lapse of several days, but failed materially to increase prospects of a title bout for Champion Jack Dempsey.

The net results of these developments, which included withdrawal of Tex Rickard from the field of bidders for a championship contest and a new offer from Tom O'Rourke, Polo Grounds matchmaker for two fights this summer was to diminish chances of a return match for Jess Willard, former heavyweight king.

Rickard ascribed his refusal to bid to lack of support for any particular title match, but Willard announced he would soon undertake a country wide exhibition to demonstrate his fitness for another crack at the title.

Rickard, it was made known, has refused to consider staging a contest between Dempsey and Harry Wills, New Orleans negro, because of the possible adverse effects of a mixed battle.

MIKE YOKEL IS BEAT BY THYE

Claimant of Light Heavyweight Wrestling Title Retains Laurels

PORTLAND, Feb. 1.—Ted Thye of Portland, claimant of the light heavyweight wrestling title, beat Mike Yokel of Salt Lake and Wyoming, here tonight in a spectacular match. It went to three falls.

Thye won the first in 58 minutes, 12 seconds with a wrist-lock from standing position and a head scissors. The second fall went to Yokel in 38 minutes, 10 seconds after a series of punishing headlocks had made Thye cross. Thye took the third fall in spectacular fashion in 8 minutes, 3 seconds when he threw Yokel down, falling on top of him and pinned him to the mat.

Two Knockouts in One Round in Elk Feature

YAKIMA, Wash., Feb. 1.—Two knockouts in one fight—almost one round—was the feature of a smoker given here by the Elks' club tonight. Joe Martinson of Cle Elum knocked out Bill Lang of Spokane in the first minute of their fight and was declared the winner of the bout, only to be himself knocked out the next minute by Lang when he agreed to give Lang another chance after the latter had claimed a foul.

Jack Wiz, a Yawima heavyweight won by the knockout route over Red Stout, a white hope recently discovered here by Walter Coffey, former well known middleweight.

In a bantamweight match Larry Tremblay of Priest River, Idaho, was outpointed by Mickey Murphy, a local boy. Several other bouts on the program gave the fans a run for their money.

REFUSES TO GIVE UP ANY HOSTAGES

Dublin Republican Leader Defies Defense Minister in Proclamation

DUBLIN, Feb. 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—A proclamation issued today by Liam Lynch, republican chief of staff, refusing to surrender hostages under Minister of Defense Mulcahy's threat of punitive measures, throws some doubt upon the reported lease by the republicans of Senator John Bagwell, general manager of the GreatNorthern railway, who was kidnaped Tuesday night.

(A Dublin dispatch today said it was officially confirmed that Senator Bagwell had been freed.)

Mr. Lynch's proclamation, after pointing out that 53 officers and men of the republican forces already have been executed by the Free State, says the army is determined that it will no longer suffer its members thus to be dealt with and allow the international usages of war to be violated with impunity.

COMMITTEE GETS NAME IN PRIVATE

Man Taken from Bed by Mob and Publicly Whipped Reveals Names

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 1.—The Arkansas legislature committee investigating the situation along the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad, went into executive session tonight to hear a part of the testimony of George W. O'Neal, Harrison hotel man, who was taken from his bed by a mob and publicly whipped. O'Neal had reached a point in his testimony where he was about to name some of the men who "dragged him out of bed" when Senator J. R. Wilson stopped him, saying:

"These names are something the state of Arkansas has a right to know but nobody else has a right to know them."

The committee then went into executive session. The procedure in enforcing the organization of the Citizens' committee patrols

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Signs of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with flat headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about 1-1/2 ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then get fine.

The famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys; at least twice a year.—Adv.

and the subsequent action taken by the citizens of Heber Springs was outlined by Mortimer Fraunthal, former mayor of Heber Springs.

When questioned regarding any "inner" organization, Mr. Fraunthal said there had seemed to be another organization which "knew about what was going to happen; an organization which seemed to function but which nobody knew anything about." He said he heard two days in advance that men were coming to Heber Springs from Harrison, Pangburn and other points "up the line" and then he knew that they had arrived.

"Mr. Gompers decides for beer and light wine," so runs a headline. As a constitution amender Sam is some pumpkins, as the saying is.
