SALEM BEATS MEDFORD HIGH

Final Score is 34 to 25 — Game is Warmest Seen in Armory for Years.

Salem High defeated Medford High by a score of 34 to 25 Friday night in one of the hottest basketball games seen here in years. The score does not indicate the quality of the game, for the score saw-sawed back and forth, being tied three times, and with Medford four points in the lead at one stage in the first half.

The locals looked for a hard game when the visitors were invited up to Salem. They have made a great record in their own district, and they have scored freely enough against the Salem wonders that they must be good. Salem beat them twice, in their trip down south last week, but never by runaway scores. It looked like a treat to the local basketball fans, to bring so strong a team here, and so the southerners came.

Visitors Clever Passers
They lived up to their reputation. They play a wonderfully effective guarding game that only the cleverest passing can get past. They blocked scores of plays that looked safe, and they pass and run the ball with skill. In charging for the ball, at the basket or in a general mix-up, they rather have it on the locals—except Patterson and Lilligren. The visitors have not quite the speed in getting down the floor in a broken field. They do not have quite the finish that the Salem team shows, and they do not shoot quite so well.

At that, Salem did not shoot with quite the usual rifle-like accuracy; a lot of them missed the basket. Close guarding on the part of Medford saved a real runaway score.

Reinhart High Pointer
Reinhart was the high point man of the game with 15. He went out for part of the last half, Fallon taking his place. Adolph substituted for Okerberg at center during the last few minutes, playing a good game and making one fine field goal. Brown made one field goal, and played a consistently safe, fast game. The work of the two guards, Lilligren and Patterson, was beyond criticism. They ought to rank with the all-star team when it is chosen from the state tournament. Every Salem player, except Fallon, scored and he was in for only a little while.

Medford made the first goal and played throughout with dash and determination. Singlen made five field goals and Baughman, their star center, made four field goals and one foul basket. Beene, forward, scored four points and Chastain two.

Referee Glenn Gregg didn't call 'em too closely, and there were only a few penalties inflicted. Salem scored only two fouls, and Medford one.

The game was well attended, the biggest basketball crowd in Salem this year.

The players are:
Salem: Forwards, Reinhart, Brown; center, Okerberg; guards, Patterson, Lilligren. Substitutes: Adolph for Okerberg; Fallon for Reinhart; Reinhart for Fallon.

Medford: Forwards, Singlen, Beene; center, Gaughman; guards, Williams, Chastain. Substitutes: Watson for Beene.

Salem Plays Silverton At Mill Town Tonight

Salem High is to go to Silverton tonight to meet the mill-town high school basketball team. The Silverton boys are believed to be formidable, and they may upset the dope.

On Tuesday the Ashland team comes up to Salem for a return game after the beating Salem handed them at Ashland last week. It wasn't enough of a beating to insure that it can be repeated. The Ashlanders were state champions last year, and the Salem team got out ahead of them only a little ways in the clash last week. It ought to be a brilliant game. There should be nothing finer in the state tournament, where the two teams are likely to meet again, whoever wins this second encounter.

DEMPSEY'S CHANCE FOR FIGHT FADES

New York Athletic Head Opposed to Both Harry Wills and Willard

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Jack Dempsey's chances of defending his heavyweight title this year, at least in New York state were reduced to a minimum today as a result of the decision of William Muldoon, chairman of the state athletic commission, not to permit contests with the two men regarded as leading challengers, Harry Wills, New Orleans negro and Jess Willard, former champion.

Excessive financial demands by Dempsey's manager and alleged commercialistic methods employed by promoters seeking to stage one or both of the bouts, Mr. Muldoon declared, prompted his attitude. Staging of a Dempsey-Wills or Dempsey-Willard bout in New York state, he said, would be detrimental to the boxing game.

On the surface it appeared that Muldoon's edict would eliminate the only definite fight proposition now being considered by Dempsey—an offer by Tom O'Rourke, Polo Grounds matchmaker, for bouts this summer against Wills and Joe Beckett. O'Rourke and Kearns, however, denied the bid had been withdrawn.

Meanwhile, neither Jess Willard nor Kearns appeared discouraged by obstacles set in the path of heavyweight title matches this year.

Kearns reiterated his desire for bouts with both Wills and Willard and hinted that an effort might be made to stage one or both at Tijuana, just across the California border. If not successful in signing for a fight, he said, Dempsey might turn to motion pictures for occupation.

Rev. Alfred Bates, pastor of the Warrenton Methodist Episcopal church, writes to The Statesman that his friend, Rev. J. R. Jeffrey of Seaside is delighted with the fine new Ford sedan ## presented him by Willamette university and the citizens of Seaside.

Revs. Mr. Jeffrey, Alfred P. Bates and John Woodfin were canvassing for subscriptions for Willamette during the endowment campaign in December, and all three preachers were staying at the Weinhard hotel, Astoria, on the night of the fire. Rev. Jeffrey's auto was in the basement of a garage across the street from the Weinhard hotel, and when the fire started the electricity was cut off, and was impossible to get the car out. Willamette university gave the Seaside pastor a check for $200 toward a new car, and the citizens of Seaside raised the remaining $500, and now he has a fully equipped 1923 Ford sedan with all the trimmings.

During the rush hour on the car the other night we dropped a mouthful of chewing gum and the conductor immediately took on two more passengers. — Exchange.
