A Quarter Century of Service

"If a man write a better book or preach a better sermon or build a better mouse trap The world will beat a path to his door." —EMERSON

25 years ago a small druggist—in a small town—discovered a new way—an "external" way—to treat colds. So Vicks was born.

And for a quarter of a century, in ever increasing numbers, the world has beaten a path to its door.

Until today more than 17 million jars go our yearly to serve the people of this land.

Avoid Influenza—Grip—Pneumonia

How to Apply Vicks to Help Avoid These Infections

How to Use Vicks in Case You Are Attacked

DEEP, grippy cold—frequently leading into pneumonia—have been unusually prevalent this winter. Some authorities insist that they are a form of influenza, not so virulent as the influenza during the first epidemic, though they are worse than ordinary colds.

Vicks As A Preventive. Most medical authorities now agree that these troubles are germ diseases—commonly spread by breathing in the germs. If the system is in good shape—the membrane of the air passages in a healthy condition—these germs do not ordinarily breed.

Keep a little Vicks rubbed up the nostrils at all times, particularly when exposed to crowds. At night melt Vicks in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use Vicks in a teakettle as directed below. This treatment helps to keep the air passages in good condition.

skin quickly, but also opens the pores so that more Vicks can be absorbed. Some, however, prefer to use an ordinary mustard plaster, as the reddening effect lasts longer.

Get Skin Thoroughly Red. Whatever method is used, the application should be applied over the throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. In very deep colds, the sides and especially the back from the middle of the shoulder blades to a point just above the waist, should also be treated.

The patient should be given a good purgative and, if convenient, a hot mustard footbath for ten minutes—one tablespoon of mustard to a gallon of water.

Then Massage With Vicks. After the skin is thoroughly reddened, it should be dried lightly and immediately the patient should be given a brisk massage with Vicks all over the parts. Continue this for five minutes. This increases the counter-irritant effect. Then apply Vicks thickly over all the parts; that is, spread it on as you would a poultice—about one-sixteenth of an inch thick or more—and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

Vicks' Double Action. Thus applied Vicks has a double action. First, Vicks is so made that the body heat gradually releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. The more Vicks applied the stronger will be the vapors and the longer these vapors will last. The night clothing should always be loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel. These vapors being lighter than air, rise up from the chest and, if the bed clothing is properly arranged, pass by the nose and mouth and are thus inhaled with each breath, carrying the medication directly thru the air passages to the lungs.

BOND ISSUE TO BE DISCUSSED

Salem School Board Invites Public to Present Views on Matter.

The public generally is invited to attend the meeting of the Salem school board, Tuesday night at the school house at 8 o'clock. A general discussion of the pending school bond issue will be opened, and it is understood that patrons will be asked to present their views on what the city should do in the housing crisis that now faces the city.

This is the regular meeting of the school board, and routine matters will be attended to, as well as opening up the school housing program for public discussion.

A number of petitions have been circulated during the past week, asking for the approval of the building program proposed by the members of the school board. The aggregate of signatures already secured is very large. It is believed to be enough to insure the carrying of the bond issue, though it is hoped that there will be a very large majority for the measure. The fact that the city school system has been so well administered that Salem is able to show the lowest per capita bond issue and school budget of all the first-class school districts in the state is expected to make the school bonds bring a very substantial premium. An issue of $150,000 city bonds recently sold, brought a premium almost 7 per cent, and the school bonds might even exceed this price.
