

ADMITS MANY REPORTS LIES

Ex-agent of Burns and Thiel Agencies Tells of Wall Street Explosion.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—(By The Associated Press).—Albert Berlin, alias Albert Balanow, confessed spy and agent provocateur, admitted today under cross examination by O. L. Smith, assistant attorney general of Michigan, that many of his reports, while an agent of the Burns and Thiel detective agencies, were lies.

Balanow, in a deposition being taken by Frank P. Walsh, attorney for 22 alleged communists being tried in Michigan, had pictured the communist and communist-labor parties and the I. W. W. organization as being virtually controlled by the two detective agencies and operated as sidelines for extracting money from banking and business agencies.

Reports Lies, Admits

He charged that he and other agents provocateur of the two detective agencies organized labor unions and radical organizations and directed their activity in order that the detectives might arrest deluded radicals who followed their lead.

His admission that many of his reports were lies came when Attorney Smith questioned him about a report he sent from Milwaukee detailing an alleged meeting with one "Lechovetsky," supposed to be a dangerous representative of the soviet government.

The examination disclosed he had furnished the report to John L. Garrity, then chief of police of Chicago and the Thiel agency and collected salary and expenses from both.

Wall Street Affair Told

The Milwaukee report, which the witness admitted was false, concerned the Wall Street bomb explosion. On direct examination he testified that Michael Flannigan, vice president of the Thiel agency, told him the day after the explosion on September 16, 1920, to go to the Stag hotel at Milwaukee and register under the name of "A. B. Rosenberg" and there write a report alleging he had met a radical named "Lechovetsky," a soviet representative in this country, and that Lechovetsky had told him that some 30 Russian leaders had recently held two meetings and planned various bomb explosions, assassinations and armed revolt.

Flannigan, he swore, told him to mail a copy of the report to Chief of Police Garrity.

Flannigan also gave him a list of alleged communist party members, he said, and told him to mail it to Garrity, who would have it photographed and then mail it on to Isaac E. Ferguson of the Workers' Defense committee, so that Ferguson's office could be raided and the list would be found there as evidence to be used in convicting.

Story Is Weird

Today's story by Balanow was as weird as that he told yesterday and Monday. He pictured Allan O. Meyers, of the Burns agency as proposing to send him to Russia to kill Lenin and Trotsky, by putting poison, to be obtained from the Burns agents in Poland, in their drinking water.

He swore Arthur Proctor, secretary here of the Communist party, was on the payroll of both the police department and the Thiel agency and kept his records as secretary in the police station vault. He declared Roscoe T. Simms, negro organizer of the American Federation of Labor; Leon Green, one of the organizers of the Seattle strike and other well known labor and radical leaders, were really detectives in disguise.

Assault Threatened

A diversion was created during the hearing when Leon Green appeared and had to be ordered out.

after he had threatened to assault Balanow on the witness stand.

Balanow swore that Roscoe T. Simms had been elected secretary of the "Workers' Defense League" to raise funds to defend radicals arrested in 1920 raids because he and Karl Brockmiller, another Thiel agent, nominated him for the post on orders from Cooney. He declared that Simms, as secretary, conducted campaigns to raise funds for the defense and spread propaganda attacking the prosecution under Cooney's orders, although the Thiel agency, which employed Cooney, had been retained by MacLay Hoyne, state's attorney, to make the raids and gather the evidence.

HOUSE PASSES INCOME TAX BILL

argued that such amendments should be made by friends, not enemies, of the principle of an income tax. The administration expenses of house bill 350, if passed would be about $40,000 to $50,000 per year, he said.

Small Business Hit

One of the principal arguments presented against the passage of the bill, and that argued most forcibly by Representative Kay, was that small business enterprises and the proprietors of such enterprises would be unfairly taxed under this bill, and capital would be discouraged from coming to the state to engage in business, if such a tax was imposed.

It is particularly unfortunate at this time, Kay said, for the state on the verge of a great industrial development, to place any barriers in the way of attracting capital to this state rather than to Washington, California or other western states.

Representative Carlin, who has been active in the preparation of income tax bills and who introduced the original bill upon which the measure passed yesterday, was framed, explained the provisions of the act and pointed to the fact that the bill, while not perfect possibly, was the result of extended efforts on the part of a number of members and Dr. James Gilbert of the University of Oregon, and would prove under trial to be workable, fair and easily administered.

Severance Tax Bill Is Indefinitely Postponed

The Watson-Blowers severance tax bill was indefinitely postponed yesterday in an unfavorable report from the committee on assessment and taxation.

The bill provided a tax of 3 per cent on the gross market value of oils and gases and two per cent on timber and other natural resources and natural deposits.

Among those who appeared before the committee to oppose the passage of the measure were Pat Gallagher of Harney county, C. C. Hindman of Portland, C. L. Starr of Portland and Senator Maslady.

The basis of opposition was that timber has always paid its full share of all state and district taxes, that a severance tax is unfair since it is an added tax at the time of severance after the owner has paid a property tax during a long period, and double taxation since the timber pays an ad valorem tax at present.

RED CROSS MAN RESIGNS OFFICE

Dr. A. Ross Hill Makes Report on Near East Then Tenders Resignation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Dr. A. Ross Hill, vice chairman of the American Red Cross, in charge of foreign operations, made his report to the Red Cross executive committee today after his return from Greece upon his work of organizing relief for refugees from Asia-Minor and then submitted his resignation, which was accepted in resolutions praising him for the work he had rendered. The resignation, it was explained had been contemplated for months and deferred only because of the Near East situation.

In his report, Dr. Hill stated that there are approximately 800,000 refugees in Greece, of whom more than 500,000 are dependent on charity at present.

All clothing and most of the food for refugees is furnished by the American Red Cross, and the needs of refugees have been pretty well met. However, with the approach of spring, which begins about March 1, lighter clothing is needed.

"The refugee problem in Greece," he continued, "is closely bound with the prospective peace settlement. The refugees from Asia-Minor are anxious to return and will return if the peace settlement makes that possible. Those from eastern Thrace are chiefly farmers and they will find room to settle in western Thrace and Macedonia but the Asia-Minor refugees are traders and want to live in cities and towns and it is more difficult to see how they can find permanent homes in Greece, in case the privilege of returning to Asia-Minor is denied them."

Many Shriners Plan to Visit Local Club Tonight

A number of Portland Shriners are to visit Salem tonight, to attend the meeting of the local Shrine club. The big thing on the program is the perfecting of arrangements for the great Shrine Ceremonial, to be held in Salem May 6. This is the general initiatory and social annual meeting of the Shriners for the whole year, and it will bring candidates for initiation, and old-timers for the fun there is in it, from all over the valley. Fully 500 Shriners are expected from Portland, with the famous Al Kader Patrol band.

Of the visitors tonight, Mayor George Baker of Portland will be one of the notables. Harold Hutchinson, illustrious potentate, the highest Shrine officer of Oregon, is another; and Harvey Wells, of the Al Kader Divan, is a third. The meeting for tonight, to arrange for the May ceremonies, is called by William Bell, president of the Salem Shrine club.

Salem now has, for the first time in the history of the city, two local resident members of the Al Kader divan: Rev. H. D. Chambers and Joe McAllister. The divan is the executive council of the order.

The Salem or Willamette Valley district has now 383 Shrine members, and a goodly proportion of these are expected in tonight.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY was the inspiration for a number of informal affairs. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Colony and Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton were hosts last night at a pretty Valentine dinner party at which covers for 19 were placed.

Valentine favors with quantities of red carnations were used on the pretty dinner table. Valentine stunts occupied the after dinner hours and later the guests played a game of hearts.

The guests invited were Dr. and Mrs. John Evans, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Geer, Dr. and Mrs. Dick Ross, Dr. and Mrs. Phil Newmeyer and Mrs. Beulah Mills.

One of the pretty Valentine parties was that sponsored by the Business and Professional Woman's club last night at the Elite hall. Progressive five-hundred was played during the evening and it was a most successful affair.

Mrs. Susan Varty was chairman of the committee on arrangements. The party was a benefit for the club which will be used toward defraying the local share of the expenses of the national convention which will be held in Portland in the summer.

Oregon will sometime erect a monument to Dr. Owens-Adair who is doing such valiant work for the future of the race within this state, according to Fred Lockley, who spoke Tuesday night before the Salem Arts league.

Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian, is one of the big figures in Salem and Oregon, he said, and the state library is the biggest work carried on here.

"Plots—what they are and how to get them" was the subject of Mr. Lockley's address to the league members. He suggested places where plots might be found and told of some of the odd places in which he had found material for stories. He advised telling the story and then stopping.

Mr. Lockley is a contributor to the Bookman, the American and McClures. He told many interesting stories of Jack London, who he knew intimately.

Mrs. Lockley was in Salem with Mr. Lockley and they were guests of the league for the evening.

Members of the Rappaharion club will meet this afternoon for the regular February meeting with Mrs. James Heltzel. The affair will be a special party for Valentine day.

Hal Hibbard auxiliary will sponsor a tea at the armory this afternoon.

The women's missionary societies of all of the churches of Salem will meet tomorrow for an all-day meeting at the First Christian church.

The Woman's union of the First Congregational church will meet today to finish uncompleted work but the regular Friday meeting has been postponed because of the union meeting at the First Christian church.

Mrs. H. C. Epley will be hostess for the PEO's of chapter G this afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. E. Price.

Miss Helene Swartz became the bride of Crull Orcutt of Ontario yesterday at the Lutheran church. Rev. George E. Kohler officiated at the marriage service, which was read at 3:30. Mr. and Mrs. William Young of Dallas were the attendants.

Nadine Orcutt was ring bearer and Mildred Allison carried flowers. Both were frocked in dainty white organdy. The bride wore blue canton crepe and carried a shower bouquet of white blossoms.

Miss Pansy Nieswander sang "At Dawning," and "O Promise Me." Miss T. Kohler played the wedding march. A reception for
