SALEM BEATS M'MINNVILLE

Two Year Jinx Beaten When Local Aggregation Wins Hard Game.

Salem high made up for two years of jinxes, last night, in beating the McMinnville basketball team, 33 to 23.

Both teams were 'way off in their shooting; an astonishing number of apparently easy shots were missed. McMinnville probably fared the worst in this misery; scores of times the visitors worried the ball through the Salem defense, to within a few feet of the goal, only to lose the chance by cross-eyed shooting. What Merchant did to the fouls, however, was almost like a machine making bricks—it simply couldn't miss.

Not Up to Average

The game was not nearly up to the average of Salem high speed that has been seen here this year; the close judgments of the referee, Ernie Arthur, made players too cautious for the good of the game. The crowd was not accustomed to see such meticulous calling of plays; though apparently the two teams fared alike in the penalties. Only four players out of the 14 for the two teams failed to draw at least one penalty for personal fouls, and Lillgren for Salem and Merchant for McMinnville went out on four called offenses. Only one of the seven visiting players got through with a clean score; three Salem boys were not penalized.

Reputation Upheld

The visitors lived up to their reputation of a fast, hard team to beat; Coach Jackson has built up a fighting aggregation, hard as nails and resourceful enough to make the Salem streaks extend themselves. But the final score more than evened the last three games, last year and this; Salem has lost the other three by a total of only 6 points, and tonight Salem got a 10-point majority.

The lineup follows:

Salem—Reinhart, (8), Brown (6), forwards; Okerberg (11), center; Patterson (2), Lillgren (2), guards. Substitutions: Fallon (4) for Reinhart, Adolph for Lillgren.
McMinnville—Foeley (6), Agee (3), forwards; Bryant, center; Merchant, (8), H. Agee (6), guards. Substitutions: Miller for Bryant, Kanzelman for Merchant.

U OF O TO TAKE NORTHERN TRIP

Basketball Squad Leaves Today—First Game to Be With Missionaries.

EUGENE, Or., Feb. 15.—The University of Oregon basketball squad will leave Eugene tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock on a northern trip that includes games with Whitman, Idaho, Washington State and the University of Washington. The Oregon team is in fine condition for the trip, according to coach Bohler.

The team will be accompanied by Trainer Bill Hayward, Oregon's veteran conditioner, who will be taken to keep the men in shape.

Eight men will start the trip, Zimherraan, Gowans, Altstock and Rockhey, forwards; Latham, center; and Chapman, Shafer and Burnett, guards. Ralph Couch, first string substitute guard, has blood poison in his foot but will likely join the squad at Spokane.

The schedule for the trip follows:
February 17, Whitman at Walla Walla; February 19, Idaho at Moscow; February 21, Washington State at Pullman; February 22, Spokane Athletic club at Spokane; and February 24, Washington at Seattle.

Chemawa-Mt. Angel Game Scheduled for Tonight

Tonight at 7 o'clock the Chemawa Indians will play the Mt. Angel Collegians at Chemawa. Earlier in the season the Indians dropped the first game to the Angels in a listless game but perfected teamwork and basket shot lag to a point where the game tonight will be by no means a one-sided affair.

The Indians have been considerably handicapped this season because of no one on the squad with varsity experience to lead the way and have held back when they should have rushed in but have gradually worked up to the point where they look like seasoned players.

DePoe, the lanky Indian center, and George, forward, are back on the squad after being out on account of slight injuries and are going at top speed. These two men along with Buchert, the speedy little running guard, has formed the Redskin scoring machine for the most part this season and have managed to notch their opponents by a few points in about two-thirds of the games played. Abraham, guard, and Phinney, forward, round out the team in their ability to play constant offensive and defensive ball.

Three more games remain on the Indians' schedule and they are getting ready to close the season and are set on doing it right. The Angels are the first of the three and though they have a big speedy aggregation, it means little to the determined redmen.

Local Officer Tracks Down Three Speeders

The night of February 14 was a great night for the Salem police department.

During the evening Officer Shelton tracked down and arrested three speed demons, all traveling in excess of the lawful pace. All three were let off on $10 bail and ordered to appear before Judge Mark Poulsen at a later date. Those arrested were S. V. Peters of 243 W. Park, Portland, speed 35 miles per hour; R. S. Haines of route 4, Salem, 30 miles per hour, and Otis Ackerman, speed 35 miles per hour.

Salem Police Commended for Humane Services

On Thursday, Mayor John Giesy received a letter from Mrs. F. W. Swanton of Portland, state executive officer for the Oregon Humane society commending the Salem police for efficient humane services. On Tuesday a boy came in from Silverton, leading two cows that had become so exhausted by the journey that when he left them for a few minutes to go in to a fire and warm his hands, they lay down, and were unable to get up again. Officer Victor found the case, hustled up a truck and soon had the animals delivered to their owners, safe and in good condition save for their exhaustion. Mrs. Swanton happened to be in Salem that day, made note of the incident, and wrote back to the mayor to thank the city for its humane police.

CHICAGO BOXING IS INVESTIGATED

Matches Flourish in Out-of-Way Locations—Police Hot on Trail.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Boxing, which for the last six months, has flourished in Chicago to such an extent that ordinary matches drew from $8,000 to $10,000 without newspaper publicity and only those on the inside knew where they were to be staged, was ordered stopped by Chief of Police Fitzmorris tonight.

The action is the result of a campaign waged by the Chicago Law and Order league which had its investigators play hide and seek with the boxing fans to obtain sufficient evidence to present to Mayor Thompson. The mayor directed Chief Fitzmorris to issue orders to all commanding police officers to prevent future matches.

The contests, prohibited in the state by law, have been staged in remote sections of the city almost every night with capacity crowds in attendance. The locations of the matches were not revealed in newspapers which merely referred to them as being staged before a "suburban club."

Joe Burman, contender for the light middleweight championship; Jack Malone, the St. Paul middleweight; Pal Moore, the Memphis bantamweight and others have engaged in recent matches here.

CAPTAIN ELECTED

PULLMAN, Wash., Feb. 15.—Stanley Bray of Bellingham was elected captain of the 1923 baseball team of Washington State college at a meeting of last season's lettermen here today.

Bray is a junior in the department of economics. The coming season will be his third year on the varsity team. He is a catcher.

Hope for Reduction of Auto License Fees Gone

Hopes that motorists may have had for a reduction in automobile license fees at the hands of this session of the legislature were dashed yesterday when the house killed a substitute bill introduced by the house committee on roads and highways, providing for a reduction on cars that have paid license fees for four years, to a flat rate of $15.

Washington Solons Go Into Night Sessions

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 14.—Four solid hours of debate on power bills today forced the house to go into night session for the first time since the legislature convened in January. A long wrangle resulted in House Bill 126, which would permit cities to sell electrical energy outside their limits, but would levy a five per cent gross earnings tax on municipal plants, being sent to final reading while two power measures introduced before it were indefinitely postponed.

Proponents of one of these two bills, of which Representative Homer T. Bone of Tacoma was author, to permit outside sales without any tax fought hard to save the measure, but it was killed by a vote of 57 to 39. Mr. Bone contended that private power companies are paying into the state treasury only 1.9 per cent of their earnings and a tax of five per cent would be unfair. The striving bill comes up on the calendar probably tomorrow for final passage and the large majorities today against any amendments to the bill indicates that it will pass.

FOURNIER TO RETIRE

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 15.—Jack Fournier, St. Louis Cardinal first baseman, who was traded to the Brooklyn club for "Hy" Myers, outfielder, tonight declared he would retire from baseball and enter business in St. Louis rather than report to the Brooklyn team. Fournier, who is an insurance salesman here during the winter, gave business reasons for not wanting to leave the city.

Deposed President to Give Self Up to Police

PITTSBURG, Kas., Feb. 14.—Alexander Howat, deposed president of the Kansas Miners' union, left Pittsburg tonight by motor car for Girard, where he will give himself up voluntarily to Sheriff John Turkington on a commitment issued last week by District Judge D. H. Wooley following receipt of a mandate from the Kansas supreme court affirming the decision of former District Judge A. J. Curran in fining Howat $2000 and requiring of him a $5000 bond to call no more strikes.

RULES SUSPENDED BY LEGISLATURE

OLYMPIA, Feb. 14.—Rules were suspended in the house tonight and a bill introduced providing for a survey of all undeveloped waterpower resources in the state by the commissioner of public lands and director of conservation and development to determine what potential power sites the state might acquire and develop. Report would be made to the legislature at the next session.

Bill Providing for Survey of Undeveloped Waterpower Introduced.

The director of conservation and development would have authority to acquire such power resources on state, privately owned and federal lands by gift or by option, but the legislature would make final decision. For the state to develop such resources, a constitutional amendment might be necessary, sponsors of the measure admitted. Those who signed the bill were Allen, Sims, Reed, Bone, Guie, Halsey, Murphine, Knapp and Baker.

The house voted tonight to return a power measure house bill 126, passed to third reading today to second reading on tomorrow's calendar for amendment.

Six senate bills were passed by the house, the most important being senate bill 80, permitting the state the same number of peremptory challenges in criminal cases as the defendant. Senate bill 54, relating to the statute of limitations was lost. Other bills carried were: Senate bill 99, eliminating recording fee for discharged certificates of Spanish American war veterans; senate bill 97, reducing uniform allowance of guard officers to $50; senate bill 45, transferring certain money in funds now abolished to general fund; senate bill 121, relating to labeling of milk cans and bottles; house bill 141 making appropriation for accident fund and house bill 142, an appropriation for medical aid fund.
