Comes From Portland
H. August Henderup who is to conduct evangelistic services at the First Baptist church beginning Sunday, March 4, has just had a great series of meetings at the Azalea church of Portland in which 40 were added to the church. Mr. Henderup has a pleasing personality, leads his own singing, and is especially interested in the young people.

Hold School Day
Monday is school day at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon. Three well-informed school men are to explain the condition of the Salem schools and school houses, as the conditions may be affected by the pending issue of school bonds. A "different" dinner has been arranged, that the officers believe will score a distinct hit with the diners. The dinner starts promptly at 12:05.

Pretty Show Liked
The South Salem Entertainment club that recently put on "Mrs. Briggs' Poultry Yard" for the community club benefit, took the show over to Sannyside Friday night for a crowd that jammed the house and all the seats on the floor. They had a fine reception at home and over at Dallas where they went last week, but the organizers gave them the biggest time of their whole theatrical life. They have put on a remarkably good entertainment; fast and funny and capably presented, and they ought to please anywhere.

Anniversary
TUESDAY, MARCH 6th will mark the beginning of our second year in Salem. We have enjoyed a solid and steady growth in our business, until we have found it necessary to increase our floor space, so—
We will celebrate our first anniversary by commencing the building and remodeling of our store.
We had to do it; we no longer have room for the immense stock we are carrying, and for the new merchandise, constantly arriving. Our warehouse is piled high and our floors are chuck-a-block. We must have more room.
The corporation to which we belong is the biggest buyer of furniture on the coast. We buy in large quantities; we sell on easy credit; we charge no interest.
Occasionally we have used furniture, in nearly like condition, which we are willing to sacrifice for quick sale and to make room. You will always find the best buys in furniture at Giese's.
