

COMING TO HELP RUPTURED WOMEN

Mrs. F. E. Williams, representing William S. Rice, Adams, N. Y., inventor of the famous Rice (Non-Surgical) Method for Rupture will be at the Marion Hotel, Salem, Ore., Monday, Mar. 12th, and from 9 to 12 a. m., 1 to 4 p. m., Tuesday, March 13, to demonstrate a new special corset attachment that holds any rupture no matter how large. Even if the abdomen is very fleshy, it holds any rupture with ease, comfort and security.

Every woman who has ever been compelled to wear an ordinary brass or abdominal support knows the cutting and chafing caused by narrow bands. The weight of the abdomen or pressure necessary in holding the rupture must be carried by the band around the back, and the pressure is sometimes very great, causing untold suffering. The special broad supporting corset attachment distributes the pressure over the entire back in such a manner as to do away with all cutting and chafing.

There are thousands of women who are in perfect misery because they cannot find anything that will hold their rupture and the abdomen at the same time. The appliances usually worn for the purpose are hot, bulky, chafing and irritating. But this wonderful Combined Corset Back Support is light, flexible, durable and cool and fits the figure like a glove. It gives you a sense of absolute security and protection while at the same time greatly improving abdominal outlines.

Trusses in common use are not adapted to women and often do great harm. Women, therefore, suffer more and are in greater danger from rupture than men, and all women, who have ruptures of any kind from the small inguinal and femoral to the large navel and after operation ruptures or who find it necessary to wear an abdominal support of any kind should not fail to call and see this wonderful Combined Corset Back Support. No description or illustration can fully convey the remarkable utility of this splendid Support. It must be seen; it must be put on to convince any woman that it was designed for her. Mrs. Williams takes a large woman just as she is, all out of shape and unsightly and by this remarkable Corset Support gives her a natural, neat, trim figure.

Mrs. Williams will also give full instructions on how to handle and care for any rupture, large or small. She will show how to hold any kind and degree of rupture from the simple groin and femoral to the large and difficult Navel and after Operation Ruptures, without chafing, pinching or squeezing, also how to wear the corset correctly.

BURIAL PLACE OF KING KNOWN
Three Persons Said to Be Informed Where Kamehameha Lies in Peace.
HONOLULU, T. H., March 5.—The last resting place of Kamehameha I, Hawaii's first and greatest king, is known to three persons and the location was a secret that perished with the deaths of the attendants at the monarch's funeral rites, as popularly believed, Frederick W. Beckley, Hawaiian historian told the Hawaiian historical society at its last meeting here. Kamehameha, a warrior chief of the island of Hawaii, was the first to conquer all of the islands in the group. He united them into a kingdom with himself as monarch. According to the popular legend his body was secreted after death and the attendants were sworn never to reveal the location. Kamehameha died in 1819 at the age of 83 years.

"I myself have seen the place where Kamehameha's bones lie," Beckley told the society. "There are two other persons living today who know his last resting place. There are an old Hawaiian, in the federal service here, and an aged Hawaiian woman on the windward side of the island of Oahu. This information has been handed down through my family to the oldest son. It is a sacred trust of honor and is not to be revealed. The common supposition that Kamehameha's remains were moved by King Kalakaua is false. Those were the bones of a lesser chief." Beckley's statement, which aroused great interest, followed the reading of a paper on "The Passing of Kamehameha the Great," by Dr. W. D. Westervelt, authority on Hawaiian legends and history.

According to Westervelt, Kamehameha was the first Hawaiian chief who refused to permit the sacrifice of a human being in an attempt to save the chieftain's life. When relatives and retainers attempted to sacrifice a man to propitiate the gods to spare the king's life, Kamehameha forbade them saying: "The man belongs to the chief." Westervelt said that Kamehameha's last words were "E na i wale no oukou i kuu pono." (The right which I have done ye cannot undo).

Call any time from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., or 7 to 9 evenings of Mar. 12 and from 9 to 12 a. m., 1 to 4 p. m., March 13. Simply ask at the hotel desk for Mrs. Williams and she will do the rest. IF YOU CANNOT CALL WRITE FOR FREE TRIAL TO W. S. RICE, Dept. 3K, Adams, N. Y., tell where rupture is and a demonstrating treatment with full instructions for use will be mailed free. WILLIAM S. RICE, Inc. ADAMS, N. Y.

VALLEY MOTOR CO. WINS GOLD STAR

Coveted Honor Awarded Local Organization for Month's Record.

Officials of the Valley Motor Co., local Ford distributors, are jubilant over the fact that they are rated as gold star dealers for the past month. For the benefit of those who do not know what a gold star dealer is it may be explained that the Ford Motor Co. has evolved a system whereby every Ford dealer is graded on such items as: organization, courtesy of employees, cleanliness of show room and shop, efficiency of repair department and the thousand and one small items which go to make up a really efficient organization. To be a gold star dealer, which is the highest of all the classifications, it is necessary to be almost perfect in all these points. Operating in the territory covered by the Portland distributors there are 97 sub dealers and of those 97 there were but nine gold star dealers. The fact that not a single one of the sub dealers in Portland were rated on the gold star list gives some idea of the difficulty involved in securing this much coveted rating.

PRODUCTION OF GOLD IS LARGE

Canada Mines More Than Million for First Time Since 1902.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 26.—Gold production in Canada in 1922 passed the million-ounce mark for the first time since 1902. The output of Canadian gold mines reached 1,200,000 ounces, an increase of 31 per cent over the 1921 production, according to figures issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics.

Increases in production were noted in practically all metals. The silver output amounted to 15,276,000 ounces, valued at $10,834,000. This was a gain of 2,000,000 ounces in production over 1921.

Lead production increased 50 per cent to a total of 98,738,000 pounds, with a value of $6,141,000. Copper rose about 3,500,000 pounds to a total production of 51,229,000 pounds valued at $6,833,000.

The output of coal from Canadian mines during 1922 was 14,210,000 tons, having an estimated value of $68,349,000. Asbestos reached a total of approximately 139,000 tons of all grades valued at $5,200,000. This was an increase of 47,000 tons. Expanded production was due almost entirely to activity of mines in the last few months. Clay products had an estimated value of $35,000,000.

The total value of Canada's mineral production for 1922 was placed at $180,622,000. Of this total $61,731,000 represented the value of metal production and $118,891,000 represented the non metals.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Anxiety over the condition of Samuel Gompers, veteran labor leader, who suffered an attack of influenza and bronchial pneumonia, was removed tonight by physicians at Lenox Hill hospital, who reported the elderly patient much improved and said he might be considered out of danger.

Earlier in the day Dr. G. G. Fisch, his personal physician, announced that Mr. Gompers continued to show improvement and if this improvement continued, he would soon be out of danger.

ERUPTION ALARMS ALASKAN PEOPLE

Conditions Similar to Those of 1906 Are Feared by Northern Folk.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, March 8.—Volcanic phenomena on the lower Aleutian peninsula where another great peak, Mount Pavlof, located opposite the Shumagin Islands and north of the Umiak pass, blew off on December 30, may bring about conditions similar to those of 1906, in the opinion of residents here, when the crews of the revenue cutters plying along the Aleutian waters witnessed the creation and disappearance of new islands.

Pavlof is located on a narrow neck of Aleutian peninsula and any protracted eruption may result in separating the active peak from the remainder of the peninsula. So frequent have become the earth tremors, due to volcanic activity, that residents of southwestern Alaska pay little heed to them unless something spectacular occurs. When Katmia blew up, carrying away its top measuring two miles in area Kodiak and surrounding islands were submerged ed beneath a blanket of volcanic ash, which later developed into fertile soil. The next outbreak occurred a year ago when Mount Redoubt burst into mild activity after years of quiescence.

One of the rare sights accompanying the eruption of Pavlof is the vivid reflection cast against northern mountain peaks as far north as McKinley, 20,000 feet elevation, and several hundred miles from the scene of action. During the most active period of Pavlof's explosion, the entire Aleutian range of towering peaks were radiant with a marvelous glow, changing into iridescent colors of awe-inspiring splendor.

SUPERFLUOUS

Walter Camp, the famous athlete and trainer, was talking about rough football.

"One of the roughest players Yale ever turned out," he said, "went west to work on a ranch. The cowboys, having heard of his fame, asked him to teach them football."

"So the Yale man made up two husky eleven's, explained the rules and wound up with: "Mind men, if you can't kick the ball kick an opponent. Now let's get busy. Where's the ball?" "Oh, drat the ball," said a cowboy; "let's get on with the game."

A Regular Fish Story
A fisherman fishing in the Yt-han river, in Scotland, claims that he hooked a trout and before he could haul it in a gull swooped down and tried to steal the fish. But the fish wriggled off the hook and the gull was caught on it. And then the fisherman threw his line in again and "he had the agreeable surprise of hooking the same trout, which did not escape a second time." We have no authority of the London Post for this nature story. We hate to doubt anything so circumstantial, but we would like to know whether the fisherman was a teetotaler. The Panther, 120-pound junior basketball team of Salem, met the Silverton high school freshmen enemy, at the local Y last night and lost by a score of 12 to 9. The locals played a good game, as did the visitors; but size and weight counted for enough to tip the score scale over to the visiting players. Harold Socolofsky refereed the game.
