

HAVE YOU SEEN THIS GIRL?

Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Stoltz celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Lenta Westcott, Monday. Included in the family dinner party were the two children, Mrs. Westcott and Walter Stoltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Stoltz were married in Dayton, Ohio, and have lived in Salem since 1873. More than 50 friends called during the evening to congratulate them on the occasion of the wedding anniversary.

A birthday cake was presented to Mr. Stoltz by the Daughters of Veterans and numerous other gifts marked the pleasant occasion.

The rooms of Mrs. Westcott's home were pretty with bright colored potted plants. Places for 14 were placed at the family dinner party.

TRADING IN PIGGLY WIGGLY COMMON IS HALTED ON MARKET

NEW YORK, March 20.—(By The Associated Press).—Trading in class "A" common stock of Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., was suspended by the board of governors of the New York Stock Exchange late today after one of the most violent price fluctuations in stock exchange history. The stock closed last night at 72, opened this morning at 75, dropped to 74 3/4 and then rose perpendicularly to 124, often jumping several points between sales. From the high point, it dropped also perpendicularly, to 82, where it closed at a net gain of 10 points on the day.

Jesse L. Livermore, famous stock market operator, who had been engaged last December by Clarence Saunders of Memphis, Tenn., president of the company, to maintain a market for the stock, issued a statement tonight saying that Mr. Saunders had abruptly terminated Mr. Livermore's authority to act for him at 11 o'clock this morning and that he (Livermore) had immediately cancelled all orders in the market and ceased operating in the stock.

Short Interests "Squeezed" While official comment was withheld during the day by Mr. Saunders it was reported that he had decided to "squeeze" the short interests by calling for the delivery of 42,000 shares of stock which had been sold "short" through the local and Chicago markets. Brokers reported that while the stock was climbing upward, it was virtually impossible for shorts to borrow the stock in order to make delivery of shares which they previously had sold on the assumption that the market price was too high and that they could "cover" their commitments by buying the stock back at lower prices later. This apparent absence of a "free corner" undoubtedly prompted the stock exchange authorities to take immediate action, although the notice of the counsel of the Piggly Wiggly company. Unofficially, it was learned that the governing board decided that there was not sufficient stock available to meet trading requirements.

CITY HONORS G. E. HALVORSEN

The following resolution was adopted by the city council Monday night on the death of George E. Halvorsen, former mayor:

"It was a great shock to me, as it was to every member of this body, when word came that George E. Halvorsen had passed to the Great Beyond. George, as we all knew him, served for four years as a member of this body, the last two of which he was our mayor, and it is fitting that we pay tribute to the memory of this great and good man, whom we all loved and respected.

"George E. Halvorsen was born in Sweden, September 5, 1884; died in Salem, Or., March 13, 1923. At the time of his birth Mr. Halvorsen's parents were engaged in missionary service in Sweden. When but a babe he came with his parents to America and spent his earlier life in the states of Texas, Iowa and Minnesota. Eight years ago, with his family, he came to Salem. Since then Mr. Halvorsen has been engaged in active public service for the betterment of his and our city. During the war, however, he was absent from Salem for one year in overseas work with the YMCA. For four years he faithfully and efficiently served the city of Salem, two years as alderman and the last two years as mayor. For three years he was an able and active member of the Salem school board. During the last year of his office he became chairman of that board. In many other ways, official and unofficial, ably and cheerfully he served his fellowmen. He leaves a wife, four children—Ruth, Robert, David and Andrew—and four sisters—Mrs. Cecil G. Robertson and Miss Christine Halvorsen of Salem, and Miss Esther and Miss Margaret Halvorsen of Eugene, Or.

"As a man George E. Halvorsen was modest and unassuming, with an integrity and strength of character that were the admiration of all who knew him. As a servant of the public he was ever faithful, possessing unflinching courage in standing for the principles of right. He gave the best that was in him to the public service, and was never known to shirk a duty nor to avoid responsibility.

"George E. Halvorsen was a loyal friend. His happy personality, warm social impulses and unvarying courtesy endeared him to everyone who knew him. His kindly smile and cheerful, genial conversation cast a ray of sunlight over all who passed his way. As a citizen he was a zealous advocate of high ideals and his life was an inspiration for good citizenship. His unselfish generosity, true gentility and human interest made him beloved by all. We shall never know how many left his presence comforted and encouraged, resolved anew to continue the struggle under adverse conditions to final victory.

"His life is now a memory, but such a memory as will live and last throughout the years, for in the final estimate of a human life the important thing is not what one has gained, but what he has given; not the applause he has received but the generous service he has rendered and judged by these standards our friend George E. Halvorsen will live on in our hearts forever. Therefore, be it resolved by the common council of the city of Salem, Oregon:

"That in the death of George E. Halvorsen the city of Salem and the state of Oregon have lost a loyal and distinguished citizen of surpassing usefulness, whose example is an inspiration to all.

"Be it further resolved, That this resolution be spread upon the records of the city of Salem and that a copy be sent to the bereaved family."

INDIAN WAR SAID TO BE IN PROGRESS

long whenever one of the Indians showed his head. United States Marshal Ray Ward is inclined to take a serious view of the situation and has arranged with Lamar Nelson, the governor's private secretary who saw service in France as an aviator to fly to the scene of the trouble tomorrow morning if a plane can be secured from the government.

MOAB, Utah, March 20.—A report received here late tonight to the effect that one Indian had been killed and two Indians wounded by the posse of white settlers who set out late yesterday from Blanding, San Juan county, in pursuit of a band of renegade Piutes who caused trouble in that town.

The dead Indian was said to be a young buck known as Joe Bishop's boy and one of the two youths who escaped from authorities at Blanding after their conviction yesterday on misdemeanor charges resulting from the robbery of a sheepherder's camp.

TAKE SALTS IF RHEUMATISM IS BOTHERING YOU

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts to Get Rid of Toxic Acid

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. It is not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat no sweets for awhile, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or body waste matter, and is often generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this toxic acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste and stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. —Adv.

ANTI-CIGARETTE POLICY ADOPTED

Lincoln and McKinley Association Acts Unanimously on Resolution.

A meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of Lincoln and McKinley schools was held last night at the McKinley building, with about 50 members present. Prof. J. T. Matthews of Willamette university gave an extremely interesting address on the value of a clean English education. Other interesting numbers were given to make it a good program.

The association adopted, without a dissenting vote, the anti-cigarette resolution presented by C. G. Bohrnstedt. The resolution follows:

"Whereas, it has come to our notice that there is cigarette smoking among the young men of our schools, and

"Whereas, cigarette smoking is sometimes indulged in and surrounding school grounds, and

"Whereas, the habit is one which undermines the health of the young people, and is against the laws of our city and state, therefore,

"Be it resolved, that we, the Lincoln-McKinley Parent-Teacher association express our disapproval of this practice;

"That we call upon our school officials and teachers to cooperate in stamping out this unlawful practice;

"That we request our school officials and teachers to at once make rules and regulations which will bar all cigarette smokers from participation in all athletic or other contests;

"That we ask the cooperation of the city officials in the enforcement of the laws of our city and state against this habit, and

"Be it resolved further that our secretary be instructed to send a copy of these resolutions to other Parent-Teacher associations in the city, asking for their cooperation, and that copies of these resolutions be also sent to our mayor, chief of police, city attorney, superintendent of schools, athletic coach and principals of our high and junior high schools."

Cheap, Spring Wood Is No More at Spaulding's

Some interesting information comes out of the Spaulding yards, relative to the wood situation. Some have been wondering when the mills would repeat their usual offer of cheap slab and cut-off wood for the slack spring season. There won't be any such thing this year. The Spaulding company, like most of the other modern mills, is turning all its real waste into "hog" fuel, which is the sawdust, the chips and slivers and all the ragged, barked stuff that has made mill-wood more or less of an abomination. All this waste stuff goes into the hog fuel service, and is burned down to the last grain of sawdust. It makes it not only possible, but desirable, to sort the slab wood that used to contain all the ragged, waste and sell for wood under the boilers that are used for the hog fuel. The quality of mill wood now going out has been raised very greatly in the larger mills, and there will be no more cheap, spring "hog" gains."
