

FRANK M. BROWN PASSES BEYOND

Citizen Closely Identified
With Building Industry
Answers Call.

Frank M. Brown, 52, one of the best known men in Salem, died at 5:50 o'clock yesterday morning after an illness of several weeks. The funeral will be held from the Webb undertaking parlors at 10:30 a. m. today, after which the body will be taken to Portland for cremation.

Mr. Brown was born in Cheyenne, Wyo., May 16, 1870, and came west when he was about 20 years old. For the last 20 years he has made his home in Salem. For many years he conducted a cash and door business here, and for the last seven years has been employed as manager of the cash and door department of the Charles K. Spaulding Logging company. Always he has been closely identified with the building industry in Salem.

Mr. Brown leaves a host of friends and it is said by those who knew him that he had no enemies.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma Murphy Brown, and by one son, Keith Brown.

Mr. Brown was a member of the Masonic lodge in Salem, of Salem lodge No. 336, B. P. O. Elks and of the Woodmen of the World.

Colds Are Contagious
Coughs and Colds are contagious and require prompt treatment as they spread or develop into flu and grippe. Take no chances when you can get Foley's Honey and Tar for a few cents and quickly check coughs and colds. The constantly increasing demand for Foley's Honey and Tar, for three generations, has made it the largest selling cough medicine in the world. Contains no opiates—ingredients are printed on the wrapper. Refuse substitutes. Insist upon Foley's. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

daughters, that they had immoral relations with the head of the fall.

Woman Breaks Down
In the midst of her recital, the woman, white-haired, nearing 70 years of age, broke down. A moment later, however, she continued her testimony.

So great was her faith in Purnell, she testified that she would not believe her daughter's story, and compelled them to bring a Bible and swear to her with a hand upon the book that they were telling the truth.

Mrs. Prichard, her daughters and their husbands left the colony seven days after she learned of the alleged immoral practices.

Mrs. Prichard brought into the colony the first evidence of pressure as to the votes of the colony, declaring that Purnell, in view of his public addresses to the members, "told them to vote as he dictated or pack their grips and get out."

Marriages Cost 50 Cents
Mrs. Prichard said the price paid for group marriages in the colony was 50 cents apiece.

At one time Purnell fled from Shiloh, his residence, attired in a brown dress and corsets of the witness, she declared. The reason for this disguise and flight was not made known.

The tunnel dug in the direction of Purnell ran 50 feet north and 100 feet east from Shiloh, Emil Rosetta testified. He said Purnell told him it was for flight. He also testified that a big car was at the disposal of Purnell and that the latter told him that "the son of man might have to make his escape," and that the car was "as infallible as a coach."

Mrs. Esther Felby of Benton Harbor, corroborated much of the testimony of the other young women already examined.

LIVESLEY NEWS

LIVESLEY, Or., March 21.—The members of the G. T. club were royally entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon given by Mrs. J. B. Parker of Salem last week. The following were present: Mrs. G. S. Higgins, Mrs. Julius Rielke, Mrs. B. D. Fidler, Mrs. J. R. Hresler, Mrs. S. A. Davenport, Mrs. C. D. Query, Mrs. W. V. Johnson, Mrs. F. J. Lainson, Mrs. Flora Holly, Mrs. C. Schwab, Mrs. Alice Corlidge and Mrs. H. B. Carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Cork were Salem visitors Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Alice Coolidge is having some remodeling done to her house. Albin Henningsen is installing a radio. Mrs. A. Brown has rented the farm of Mrs. Julius Ziehlke. Mrs. Lawrence Henningsen of Portland is home on a visit.

SEARCH FOR THREATENERS
CHICAGO, March 21.—Chief of Police Charles Fitzmorris admitted that the Chicago police have been searching for two days for the authors of threats against the life of Governor Len Small. "We expect to have important information very soon," Chief Fitzmorris said.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST
Highway paving goes on—

And it must keep on keeping on. There is no place to stop as long as there is federal or state money to match.

The Santiam country, clear to the top of the Cascades, is Salem's richest front door.

The vast water powers are to develop; and the immense timber resources; and the enormous wealth of the mines; and the big irrigation projects. The Santiam district is an empire in resources—capable of pouring millions annually into the lap of Salem.

Put all the water on the land that is capable of being put on for irrigation purposes, in the Santiam country, and throughout the Salem district, and Salem will need thirty or forty canals instead of seven or eight.

Develop a third of the water power running to waste in the Santiam and the Little North Fork and the South Santiam and Marion lake, and Salem will have three paper mills instead of one, and other manufacturing concerns that will use all the developed power.

"With business in all directions showing such expansion and the railroads of the country struggling to handle the immense traffic as a result thereof, owners of stocks feel that there is more to be gained in holding on than in selling at the present level," is a significant, outstanding sentence in the weekly financial letter of Henry Clews & Co., the Wall street authorities.

The Oregonian fears that, in attempting to build up industries at the penitentiary to make it self supporting, and in other state institutions to make them partially self supporting, the present administration may fail to employ the proper experts. The idea is to secure only experts in their different lines, everywhere.—Adv.

and there is not likely to be any swerving from this course for political or other reasons.

Cut This Out—It Is Worth Money
Cut out this slip, enclose with 5c and mail it to Foley & Co., 2835 Sheffield Ave., Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills for pains in sides and back; rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments; and Foley Cathartic Tablets, a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic for constipation, biliousness, headaches, and sluggish bowels. Bold parts in their different lines, everywhere.—Adv.
